Form Q

For new courses: APPL 798, CRJU 798, IDIA 798, IDIA 898, PBDS 798, PUAD 898

Q-1

We propose a new course to accommodate students who have not completed a thesis or final project, but have completed all other course requirements for the degree.

Q-2

These students have not been able to be tracked in the past as we did not require them to be enrolled. This action will permit us to track these students. It will also ease the way for these students to receive services of offices on campus which require a semester active ID card.

Q-3

All units of the University which have reason to be involved in this proposal have been contacted. These include: International Student Services, Records, Financial Aid, Auxiliary Services, Langsdale Library, and OTS.

Q-4

The best way to ensure the quality is for all those who may service such students to follow the policy exactly and without exception.

Q-5

The financial impact on the institution should be positive because we have previously not charged students to continue using our facilities and services for free.
