ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

LEADERSHIP IN PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION
Founded in 1925 as a private, coeducational institution, the University of Baltimore affiliated with the University System of Maryland on UB’s 50th anniversary. UB has a clear mission: to provide outstanding educational programs for professionally oriented students. The University’s schools—the College of Public Affairs, the Merrick School of Business, the UB School of Law and the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences—attract students with strong career ambitions and provide them with the latest skills and techniques in their chosen fields. UB students graduate with a broad foundation of knowledge and are prepared to meet the rapidly changing conditions of today’s work environment.

Approximately 48,000 alumni serve as testimony to the University’s success in its educational endeavors. UB graduates are highly visible throughout the legal, industrial, corporate and civic communities, and their achievements have helped to build the University’s outstanding reputation among employers.

The University of Baltimore is a leader among Maryland’s many colleges and universities in the quality of its faculty and library resources. With a student-faculty ratio of 16:1 and a personalized system of student advising, UB programs emphasize one-on-one interaction and individual attention for both graduate and undergraduate students. Approximately 80 percent of the full-time faculty hold terminal degrees (Ph.D., J.D., LL.B., D.B.A., D.P.A. and Ed.D.), and most full-time and adjunct faculty members are actively engaged in research, civic and professional activities related to their fields. A number of faculty supplement their teaching with research, consulting and service activities in the public and private sectors, helping to further enhance the University’s reputation.

UB’s Langsdale Library—currently in the preliminary stages of a $23.4 million renovation—compares favorably with those of its peer institutions in Maryland in both the breadth and quantity of its holdings. The facility also offers several special collections and provides the convenience of off-campus access to electronic resources and interlibrary loan services with many other institutions.

A STRATEGIC LOCATION
The University is situated in Baltimore’s lively midtown neighborhood within the revitalized North Charles Street corridor. UB is surrounded by a variety of noteworthy neighbors, including the Maryland Institute College of Art, the Patricia and Arthur Modell Performing Arts Center at the Lyric and the Joseph Meyerhoff Symphony Hall. Together, these cultural and educational institutions attract thousands of people to the neighborhood every week for concerts, plays, films, exhibits, lectures, seminars, social events and civic and professional meetings.

Nearly all of midtown Baltimore, including parts of the University of Baltimore campus, serves as host for Artscape, the city’s annual summer festival of the visual and performing arts. The University’s Gordon Plaza, a park-like setting on the corner of Mount Royal and Maryland avenues, is the center for numerous University-sponsored outdoor events and activities. Also convenient to the University are The Walters Art Museum, the Baltimore Museum of Art and an array of other cultural and historical attractions.
The University’s urban location enhances cultural and educational opportunities and offers students an accessible learning and experiential laboratory. Through a long-established affiliation with Baltimore’s corporate, government and professional communities, UB brings the region into the classroom and into the leadership of the University. Leaders in both the public and private sectors serve on the advisory boards of the College of Public Affairs, the Merrick School of Business, the School of Law and the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, advising the faculty and administration on curricular and related matters. The involvement of these outstanding men and women, along with the University’s strong traditions and connections as a professionally oriented institution, offer UB students a wide array of opportunities to work and study within the context of local business, government and nonprofit agencies.

Academic Center, Room 112

Email: communitystandards@ubalt.edu
Web: www.ubalt.edu/deanofstudents

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that promotes integrity, health, safety and welfare of the University community. In support of this expectation, the university has established policies and procedures that apply to all undergraduate, graduate, professional and visiting students as well as all those individuals who are not officially enrolled for a particular term but who have been a student with the University. Students will be held accountable for their conduct at all times including for actions that may have occurred before/after classes began, between academic terms, during periods of suspension or dismissal, as well as for actions that occurred during their enrollment that are discovered after the student graduates. The University reserves the right to discipline students and/or student organizations for violations of policy regardless of where the misconduct occurs, whether on University premises or off University premises. Both academic and nonacademic violations of University regulations are referred to the Office of Community Life and the Dean of Students for adjudication using the procedures in the University’s Student Rights and Responsibilities Guide, which can be found at www.ubalt.edu/studenthandbook. The Office of Community Life and the Dean of Students is responsible for the oversight of the adjudication process.

Academic Integrity Policy
All members of the University community (students, faculty, administration and staff) must take academic honesty seriously by being well-informed, contributing to a climate in which honesty is valued and taking responsible action to discourage dishonesty in the work of others. No member will condone or tolerate cheating, plagiarism, falsification or other acts of academic dishonesty, as these activities negatively affect the community and all its members. For more specific information regarding the policy, see the University’s Student Rights and Responsibilities Guide at www.ubalt.edu/studenthandbook.

Code of Conduct

Students are expected to maintain a high standard of conduct. Since the University’s role is to provide the best possible atmosphere for learning, growth and development, individuals who violate its policies and expectations are subject to review and University sanctions. For more information, see the University’s Student Rights and Responsibilities Guide at www.ubalt.edu/studenthandbook.

Student Grievances

The University of Baltimore encourages students who feel they have been inappropriately treated to raise their concerns directly with the other person or people involved at the earliest possible time. Many problems can be understood and solved through direct discussion. Attempting to do so early increases the chance that any differences will be addressed in a healthy and constructive manner. When it is not possible to resolve matters between parties, students may use the University grievance procedures to seek review of complaints involving University faculty, administrators, staff or students and to obtain a fair and timely resolution. Students may file a grievance with regard to University policies, academic grades and decisions made by or practices of faculty, administrators or staff members that the student alleges to be unfair.

Specific procedures for each type of grievance are outlined in the University’s Student Handbook, found at www.ubalt.edu/studenthandbook.
