ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

LEADERSHIP IN PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION
Founded in 1925 as a private, coeducational institution, the University of Baltimore affiliated with the University System of Maryland on UB’s 50th anniversary. UB has a clear mission: to provide outstanding educational programs for professionally oriented students. The University’s schools—the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Public Affairs, the Merrick School of Business and the School of Law—attract students with strong career ambitions and provide them with the latest skills and techniques in their chosen fields. UB students graduate with a broad foundation of knowledge and are prepared to meet the rapidly changing conditions of today’s work environment.

More than 57,000 alumni serve as testimony to the University’s success in its educational endeavors. UB graduates are highly visible throughout the legal, industrial, corporate and civic communities, and their achievements have helped to build the University’s outstanding reputation among employers.

The University of Baltimore is a leader among Maryland’s many colleges and universities in the quality of its faculty and library resources. With a student-faculty ratio of 20:1 and a personalized system of student advising, UB programs emphasize one-on-one interaction and individual attention for both graduate and undergraduate students. Approximately 92 percent of the full-time faculty hold terminal degrees (Ph.D., J.D., LL.B., D.B.A., D.P.A. and Ed.D.), and most full-time and adjunct faculty members are actively engaged in research, civic and professional activities related to their fields. A number of faculty supplement their teaching with research, consulting and service activities in the public and private sectors, helping to further enhance the University’s reputation.

UB’s Langsdale Library compares favorably with those of its peer institutions in Maryland in both the breadth and quantity of its holdings. The facility also offers several special collections and provides the convenience of off-campus access to electronic resources and interlibrary loan services with many other institutions.

A STRATEGIC LOCATION
The University is situated in Baltimore’s lively midtown neighborhood within the revitalized North Charles Street corridor. UB is surrounded by a variety of noteworthy neighbors, including the Maryland Institute College of Art, the Patricia and Arthur Modell Performing Arts Center at the Lyric and the Joseph Meyerhoff Symphony Hall. Together, these cultural and educational institutions attract thousands of people to the neighborhood every week for concerts, plays, films, exhibits, lectures, seminars, social events and civic and professional meetings.

Nearly all of midtown Baltimore, including parts of the University of Baltimore campus, serves as host for Artscape, the city’s annual summer festival of the visual and performing arts. The University’s Gordon Plaza, a park-like setting on the corner of Mount Royal and Maryland avenues, is the center for numerous University-sponsored outdoor events and activities. Also convenient to the University are The Walters Art Museum, the Baltimore Museum of Art and an array of other cultural and historical attractions.

The University’s urban location enhances cultural and educational opportunities and offers students an accessible learning and experiential laboratory. Through a long-established affiliation with Baltimore’s corporate, government and professional communities, UB brings the region into the classroom and into the leadership of the University. Leaders in both the public and private sectors serve on the advisory boards of the College of Public Affairs, the Merrick School of Business, the School of Law and the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, advising the faculty and administration on curricular and related matters. The involvement of these outstanding men and women, along with the University’s strong traditions and connections as a professionally oriented institution, offer UB students a wide array of opportunities to work and study within the context of local business, government and nonprofit agencies.

ACCREDITATION
The University of Baltimore is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, 3624 Market St., Philadelphia, PA 19104-2680; tel.: 215.662.5606.

All undergraduate and graduate programs within the Merrick School of Business are accredited by AACSB International—The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.
The Master of Public Administration degree is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration. The University of Baltimore’s graduate and undergraduate programs in criminal justice are certified by the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences.

The School of Law is accredited by the American Bar Association and holds membership in the Association of American Law Schools.

The University is recognized by the Maryland Higher Education Commission; the Maryland State Board of Law Examiners; the Maryland State Board of Examiners of Public Accountants; many city, federal and state agencies for civil-service appointments; the Veterans Administration for veterans’ training; the Armed Forces for officer appointments; and the Office of the Attorney General of the United States of America for acceptance of international students.

BUILDINGS AND FACILITIES
The Academic Center, the Liberal Arts and Policy Building, the William H. Thumel Sr. Business Center and the John and Frances Angelos Law Center are the primary instructional buildings at the University of Baltimore and include classrooms, faculty and administrative offices, labs and other services. All buildings have wireless access and all classrooms have technology that supports faculty instruction.

Additional University buildings and facilities include:

21 W. Mt. Royal Ave.

The University of Baltimore Student Center serves as a central gathering place for students, faculty and staff. This unique, six-floor facility is designed to promote the out-of-classroom experience that is essential to comprehensive higher education.

Student activities such as club meetings, study groups and fundraisers take place within the center, as do special events such as lectures, concerts and theater productions. The facility houses several lounge areas—from a quiet lounge for studying to a TV lounge for relaxing—that serve as ideal, comfortable venues in which students can spend time before, after and in between classes. The UB Student Center also offers a coffee bar and the UB Market, a convenience store.

Barnes & Noble at the University of Baltimore
62 W. Oliver St.
Tel: 410.837.5604
Web: www.ubalt.edu/bookstore

The Barnes & Noble at the University of Baltimore, part of the Fitzgerald at UB Midtown residential/retail site, is located right around the corner from UB’s main academic buildings and carries a huge selection of popular titles as well as textbooks and UB merchandise. The store also offers free Wi-Fi and a cafe featuring Starbucks Coffee.

Langsdale Library
1420 Maryland Ave.
Tel: 410.837.4260
Web: http://langsdale.ubalt.edu

The Langsdale Library provides a full range of services, including reference, electronic and print reserves; library instruction; photocopying equipment; and group-study rooms. Its collection of more than 180,000 volumes consists of books, periodicals, government documents, audiovisual materials and manuscript and archival collections containing primary sources; the library also subscribes to more than 75 article indexes and thousands of electronic journals.

Langsdale Library’s cooperative services include reciprocal borrowing privileges with other Baltimore-area libraries and an interlibrary loan service.

Web: www.uobstudentinsurance.com

The University of Baltimore Student Health and Accident Insurance Plan is designed to help students meet medical costs in Baltimore or outside the area. All part- and full-time students are eligible to enroll. The individual premium covers only the student; however, eligible students may also enroll their dependents.

HELEN P. DENIT HONORS PROGRAM
Office of the Helen P. Denit Honors Program
Academic Center, Room 129
Tel: 410.837.6583
E-mail: honorsprogram@ubalt.edu
Web: www.ubalt.edu/honors

The Helen P. Denit Honors Program was established by a generous gift from the Helen P. Denit Charitable Trust in 1993.

The Helen P. Denit Honors Program is designed for students who have demonstrated an interest in and ability for engaging in exceptional learning opportunities. Our distinctive courses are small and focus on learning by discussing and doing. We encourage student development outside of the classroom by financially supporting students to, among other things, travel to conferences, study abroad and engage in unpaid internships.

The Helen P. Denit Business and Accounting Honors Programs, which are built on the larger University honors program, offer special opportunities for students seeking a career in business or accounting. For more information, including eligibility requirements, visit the program's Web pages.

UB HOUSING
Academic Center, Room 105
Tel: 410.837.5434
E-mail: housing@ubalt.edu
Web: www.ubalt.edu/housing

UB Housing works with students to find their ideal places to live based on their needs, Staff members assist students with finding apartments, arranging housing tours and navigating the leasing process, and students also have the option of finding a roommate through the roommate connector service.

UB has also made arrangements with several apartment complexes in UB Midtown—within a short walk of campus—to provide cost-effective, convenient living options. The newest building, the Varsity, is scheduled to open in fall 2012.

JUDICIAL ISSUES
Office of Community Life and the Dean of Students
Academic Center, Room 112
Tel: 410.837.4755
E-mail: studentaffairs@ubalt.edu

Student violations of University regulations—either academic or nonacademic—are referred to the dean of students, who coordinates the judicial hearing process.
Academic Integrity Policy
All members of the University community (students, faculty, administration and staff) must take academic honesty seriously by being well informed, contributing to a climate in which honesty is valued and taking responsible action to discourage dishonesty in the work of others. No member will condone or tolerate cheating, plagiarism, falsification or other acts of academic dishonesty, as these activities negatively affect the community and all its members. For more specific information regarding the policy, view the University’s Student Policy and Procedures Handbook at www.ubalt.edu/studenthandbook or contact the dean of students at 410.837.4755.

Code of Conduct
Students are expected to maintain a high standard of conduct. Since the University’s role is to provide the best possible atmosphere for learning, individuals who violate its rules or regulations are subject to discipline. To the extent described below, the president of the University delegates authority over student discipline to the provost and to the dean of students.

The code of conduct applies to all undergraduate, graduate and professional students of the University and to all people who are registered or enrolled in any credit or noncredit course or program offered by the University. No student may withdraw from a course while allegations of misconduct are being investigated and adjudicated.

The code of conduct applies to acts of misconduct by students engaged in University-organized activities, whether committed on or off campus. A University-organized activity is any activity conducted under the sponsorship or supervision of the University or of registered student groups.

For specific information regarding the code, view the University’s Student Policies and Procedures Handbook at www.ubalt.edu/studenthandbook.

Student Grievances
The University of Baltimore encourages students who feel they have been inappropriately treated to raise their concerns directly with the other person or people involved at the earliest possible time. Many problems can be understood and solved through direct discussion. Attempting to do so early increases the chance that any differences will be addressed in a healthy and constructive manner. When it is not possible to resolve matters between parties, students may use the University grievance procedures to seek review of complaints involving University faculty, administrators, staff or students, and to obtain a fair and timely resolution. Students may file a grievance with regard to University policies, academic grades, and decisions made by or practices of faculty administrators or staff members that the student alleges to be unfair.

Specific procedures for each type of grievance are outlined in the University’s Student Policies and Procedures Handbook, found at www.ubalt.edu/studenthandbook.

OFF-CAMPUS PROGRAMS AT THE UNIVERSITIES AT SHADY GROVE
Web: www.ubalt.edu/shadygrove

The University of Baltimore’s College of Public Affairs and Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences offer a selection of undergraduate, graduate and doctoral programs at the Universities at Shady Grove in Rockville, Md.

The University System of Maryland developed this collaborative effort among eight public, degree-granting institutions in the system to offer upper-level and graduate programs at a single facility in Montgomery County. Shady Grove provides all of the services and facilities necessary for a successful university career, including academic advising, career services, disability support services, library and media support facilities and tutoring.

Offered in convenient weekend and online formats, the courses in UB’s programs at Shady Grove are taught by the same recognized UB faculty who teach at the Baltimore campus, and students earn degrees granted by the University of Baltimore.

Students enrolled in UB programs at Shady Grove are charged the same tuition and have the same financial aid opportunities as do those attending the Baltimore campus but may have differing fees based on their home campus. A limited number of scholarships are available.
The University of Baltimore Police Department is a legislated police agency, and University police officers are vested with full police authority under Maryland law. Uniformed security officers regularly patrol University buildings and parking facilities.

The department endeavors to enhance the quality of campus life through the creation of a safe and secure environment. It has established a strong presence in the community and has built relationships with the Baltimore City Police Department and with other local law enforcement.

The department provides many services to the campus community, including: compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, safety awareness programs, a campus text-alert system, a bike registration program, a security escort program, 24/7 campus patrol and more. For a complete list of services and more information, visit the department's Web pages.

TUITION AND FEES
Office of the Bursar
Tel: 410.837.4848
E-mail: ubbursar@ubalt.edu
Web: www.ubalt.edu/bursar

Information concerning tuition and fees, payment policies, refund schedules, waivers, third-party billing and more is available on the office's Web pages.

Tuition and fees at the University of Baltimore are subject to change at any time when such changes are deemed necessary by the University System of Maryland Board of Regents.

ADMISSION

UNDERGRADUATE (FRESHMAN AND TRANSFER) ADMISSION
Office of Freshman Admission
Office of Transfer Admission and Community College Relations
Tel: 410.837.4777; 1.877.ApplyUB (toll-free)
Fax: 410.837.4793
E-mail: admissions@ubalt.edu
Web: www.ubalt.edu/admissions

As a member of the University System of Maryland, the University of Baltimore is committed to a mission of access and affordability and seeks to enroll students who can succeed academically in our undergraduate programs. Applications for admission for both freshman and transfer students are available by visiting www.ubalt.edu/apply or by contacting the Offices of Admission.

Application Fee: $30
Qualification for admission is determined without regard to race, color, religion, age, disability, sex, sexual orientation or national origin.

ADMISSION AS A FRESHMAN STUDENT
Selection for admission to the University of Baltimore for freshman students is based upon performance at the secondary level as evidenced by the coursework and grades on the high school transcript, scores on college admission tests, scores on advanced placement tests and high school completion test scores (i.e., GED or EDP) credentials. Applicants with 23 or fewer transferable college credits will be evaluated for admission based on freshman admission criteria. Admission officers review each applicant individually, evaluating the applicant’s academic record, strength of academic program, grades earned, standardized test scores, special talents and interests and an essay. Optional but not required for admission are letters of recommendation, a resume or SAT subject tests.

Applicants must earn a high school diploma from an accredited high school (or equivalent) and show evidence of completion of a minimum of 21 college preparatory credits for admission to UB. These credits include four (Carnegie) units of English, three units of mathematics (algebra I, algebra II and geometry), three units of science (two with labs), three units of social sciences and the remaining units in fine arts, foreign language, technology education or other academic electives. College preparatory courses are strongly recommended. UB does award credit for Advanced Placement (AP) exams and International Baccalaureate (IB) exams. More detailed information can be found under Transfer Credit Policies: Credit by Methods Other Than For-Credit College Instruction. Grades are evaluated in the context of the high school attended and the rigor of the program completed. An academic grade point average is calculated and considered when making an admission decision.

Freshman applicants must provide test scores from either the SAT or ACT; test scores should be submitted directly to UB from the American College Testing Program (ACT) or the Educational Testing Service (SAT). The admission evaluation uses the highest test scores received. The University of Baltimore’s College Board identification number is 5810; the ACT code is 1744. Applicants are encouraged to take these tests as early as possible. International students or those for whom English is not their first language may also be required to submit the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). See section on English-Language Proficiency Policy for more information.

Application Deadlines
The University of Baltimore evaluates applications for admission on a rolling admission cycle. Applicants for the freshman class are encouraged to apply for admission in the fall of their senior year (or the fall prior to the term in which they plan to enroll). Notification of admission is made within two weeks of review of the file. UB subscribes to the May 1 National Candidates’ Reply Date for students offered admission for the fall semester and Dec. 1 for the spring semester. UB accepts a limited number of freshman students for the spring semester. Contact the Office of Freshman Admission at 410.837.4777 or admissions@ubalt.edu for more information.

Applicants must:
• complete and submit the online application for admission
• make an online payment at the time application is submitted
• submit official transcripts from all secondary/high schools attended; mid-year senior grades may be requested; all enrolling students must submit a high school transcript with final grades and verification of graduation prior to the start of their first semester at the University
• submit either the SAT Reasoning Test or ACT
• submit an essay/personal statement.

Accepted students who wish to defer enrollment for a year must make this request in writing prior to the beginning of the semester to which they applied for admission, preferably by May 1. Requests should be sent to the director of freshman admission and will be reviewed on an individual basis.

Special Freshman Applicant Admission Policies
Students From Nonaccredited/Nonapproved High Schools
Freshman applicants for admission who are graduates of nonaccredited/nonapproved high schools will be reviewed individually, with consideration given to factors such as college admission test scores, high school course content, performance in high school academic courses, the performance of previous students with similar academic preparation and other appropriate criteria.

Students Who Have Been Out of School More Than Three Years
Students who have earned a high school diploma (or equivalent) with a minimum GPA equivalent to a C or better but who are more than three years beyond high school enrollment may be admitted without meeting the usual criteria for admission if the admission officer in the UB Office of Freshman Admission determines that the individuals applying have the potential for successful college work. This determination may be made by evaluation of successful work experiences, by essay, by portfolio assessment and/or by placement testing.

Students With Proficiency-Based Standards, Standardized Examinations or Equivalency Diplomas (GED)

Students who have graduated from regionally accredited secondary institutions with proficiency-based standards will be considered individually. Each secondary institution with proficiency-based standards will be asked to provide documentation about the student’s achievement in secondary school.

Admission may be granted to students who have been awarded a high school equivalency diploma by passing a standardized evaluation such as the General Educational Development (GED) test or the External Diploma Program (EDP).

UB admission officers will evaluate the breadth and depth of academic preparation through documentation provided by the student. In addition to the standardized SAT/ACT test scores and the essay/personal statement, optional materials (such as SAT subject tests, a resume, and a list of extracurricular activities or letters of recommendation) may be provided or requested. The same standards used in regular admission regarding breadth and depth in academic subjects, minimum standardized test scores and achievement in coursework apply to students admitted from this category.

Home-Schooled Students

All home-schooled students must demonstrate compliance with state and local education regulations. Demonstration of the competencies outlined in the UB Requirements for Admission may be combined with scores on a standardized college admission test examination such as the ACT or the SAT to satisfy the minimum qualifications for admission. For Maryland students, the home instruction program must comply with section 13A.10.01 of the General Regulations of the State Board of Education.

UB admission officers will evaluate the breadth and depth of academic preparation through documentation provided by the student. In addition to the standardized SAT/ACT tests and the essay/personal statement, optional materials (such as SAT subject tests, a resume and a list of extracurricular activities or letters of recommendation) may be provided or requested. The same standards used in regular admission regarding breadth and depth in academic subjects, minimum standardized test scores and achievement in coursework apply to students admitted from this category.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

The University of Baltimore welcomes applications from qualified international students. Students who submit transcripts from an institution outside of the United States should refer to the section on Foreign Transcripts. Students who are non-native speakers of English should refer to the section on English-Language Proficiency. English translations must accompany all documents issued in a language other than English.

Immigrant and nonimmigrant students residing in the United States must submit copies of their green card (permanent resident card) or visa documents with their application for admission. Such documentation is relevant to the determination of the applicant’s eligibility for Maryland residency for tuition purposes by the Offices of Admission and to the provision of immigration and visa services to applicants by the Office of Graduate and International Admission and Enrollment. Immigration status is not a factor in evaluating an applicant’s eligibility for admission. International applicants, particularly those submitting foreign academic credentials and those residing overseas, are advised to apply well in advance of the semester for which they are seeking admission. Some academic programs may have application deadlines.

International applicants should submit the documents below as part of the application for undergraduate admission to the Offices of Admission, 1420 N. Charles St., Baltimore, MD 21201-5779; tel: 410.837.4777 (or toll-free in the United States at 1.877.ApplyUB); fax: 410.837.4793; e-mail: admissions@ubalt.edu; Web: www.ubalt.edu/admissions:

- an undergraduate application form
- an application fee (nonrefundable)
- official transcripts sent directly by each secondary/high school (freshman applicants) and college or university (transfer applicants) previously attended
• an independent course-by-course evaluation report of foreign transcripts by a U.S. credential evaluation service, if applicable (see Foreign Transcripts section below); the transcript must be evaluated by a member of the National Association of Credential Evaluators
• evidence of English-language proficiency, if applicable (see English-Language Proficiency Policy section above)
• a completed I-20 Request Form, DS-2019 Request Form or Non-Immigrant Status Verification Form
• evidence of financial resources to cover tuition and living expenses in full for the duration of the applicant’s program of study (F-1 and J-1 visa students only).

The Office of Graduate and International Admission and Enrollment provides visa assistance to prospective, admitted and enrolled international students. The Form I-20 (Certificate of Eligibility for Non-Immigrant F-1 Student Visa Status) or Form DS-2019 (Certificate of Eligibility for Exchange Visitor J-1 Status) is issued to those applicants who meet all academic, financial support and English-language proficiency requirements for admission to a full-time degree program. Students holding F-1 and J-1 status must maintain a full course of study in a minimum of 12 credit hours each term during the fall and spring semesters.

For more information and to obtain appropriate forms, contact the Office of Graduate and International Admission and Enrollment at 410.837.4756 or intlservices@ubalt.edu.

FOREIGN TRANSCRIPTS
The University of Baltimore does not evaluate foreign transcripts. Applicants who attended a secondary/high school, college or university outside the United States must arrange at their own expense to have their academic records evaluated on a detailed course-by-course basis by a UB-approved U.S. credentials evaluation service. English translations must accompany transcripts issued in a language other than English.

More information and appropriate forms may be obtained from the Offices of Admission at 410.837.4777 (or toll-free in the United States at 1.877.ApplyUB), admissions@ubalt.edu or www.ubalt.edu/admissions. The University may also require some applicants to provide additional documentation such as syllabi and course descriptions.

ENGLISH-LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY POLICY
Applicants who are nonnative speakers of English, regardless of citizenship or visa status, must demonstrate a satisfactory level of English proficiency. A minimum score of 550 on the paper-based, 213 on the computer-based or 79 on the Internet-based version of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) is required of both degree and nondegree applicants.

Applicants to the freshman class who have completed three years of study at a U.S. high school and transfer applicants who have completed 56 or more transferable credits, including English Composition with a grade of C or higher, at an accredited college or university in the United States are exempt from the TOEFL requirement.

TOEFL information may be obtained from the Educational Testing Service, Box 6151, Princeton, NJ 08541-6151 or www.toefl.org. The University of Baltimore’s reporting code is 5810. The University reserves the right to require additional English-language instruction of any student.

ADMISSION AS A TRANSFER STUDENT
Admission as a transfer student is open to those who have completed a minimum of 24 transferable college credits. Students who transfer from a public institution in Maryland with at least 56 transferable credits or an associate degree and who have a minimum cumulative 2.0 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) will be offered admission to the University on a space-available basis. Students transferring from an out-of-state or private institution and students who have fewer than 56 credits will be evaluated based on the college credits completed and grades earned. These credits must be earned at institutions (junior/community colleges, four-year colleges or universities) accredited by a regional accrediting association. Specific programs may have more restrictive admission criteria. All cumulative GPA calculations are cross-institutional and include all previous coursework at all previous institutions.
Additional Admission Requirements

- B.A. in Jurisprudence: Admission requires a minimum 3.0 cumulative grade point average. The opportunity to apply for admission to the early-entry J.D. program at the University of Baltimore requires a minimum 3.5 cross-institutional cumulative grade point average.
- B.S. in Business Administration with a specialization in accounting: Admission requires a minimum 2.25 cross-institutional cumulative grade point average.
- B.S. in Forensic Studies: Admission requires a minimum 2.75 cross-institutional cumulative grade point average. An applicant eligible for admission to the B.S. in Forensic Studies program is not guaranteed an offer of admission to a specific specialization (e.g., forensic science or police science). Due to the limitations of facilities, staff and resources, the number of eligible applicants who can be adequately served is taken into consideration. As a result, offers of admission to specific specializations will be limited to the most qualified of eligible applicants.

For more information, refer to the individual degree programs in the College of Public Affairs, the Merrick School of Business and the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences sections of this catalog.

Application Deadlines

The University of Baltimore has a policy of rolling admission notification for transfer students and will accept applications on a space-available basis. Students are encouraged to apply for admission as early as possible to ensure a prompt admission decision, advising and registration prior to the beginning of the semester.

Applicants must:
- complete and submit the online application for admission
- make an online payment at the time application is submitted
- submit official transcripts from all colleges and universities previously attended if seeking admission as a degree-seeking student. An official copy of each transcript should be sent directly from the issuing institution to the Office of Transfer Admission and Community College Relations. This office cannot evaluate and award transfer credits until these transcripts are received. The office sends the applicant an evaluation of transfer credit upon receipt of the application, fee and official transcripts. Students can help speed up the admission and transfer credit evaluation processes by sending a current transcript from the transfer institution at the time of their application to UB as well as a final transcript once all course work has been completed. These transcripts are due within the first 30 days of the semester to which the student is admitted.

Forensic Studies Application Deadlines
- Fall Semester: June 1
- Spring Semester: Nov. 1
- Forensic Studies does not admit new students for the summer term.

ADMISSION AS A NONDEGREE STUDENT

Applicants who wish to enroll in courses for personal enrichment, professional development or as preparation for graduate study may be admitted to the University as nondegree students. Visiting students who wish to take courses that count toward a degree at another institution may also enroll as nondegree students (See section on Visiting Students below). The University has a rolling admission policy; however, students are encouraged to apply for admission as early as possible to ensure a prompt admission decision, advising and registration prior to the beginning of the semester.

Nondegree students may take a maximum of 9 credits per semester, not to exceed a total of 30 credits at the University of Baltimore. See Nondegree Status in the Academic Policies section of this catalog.

Applicants for nondegree status must:
- complete and submit the online application for admission, indicating nondegree status; also indicate your preference for arts and sciences, business or public policy courses
- make an online payment at the time the application is submitted.
Nondegree-seeking students attending the University of Baltimore may be considered for admission as degree-seeking students. All cross-institutional college credits transferable to a degree program must meet the minimum required cumulative GPA. Students must file an application for admission and all supporting documents to become degree-seeking students. See Degree Status in the Academic Policies section of this catalog.

INTER-INSTITUTIONAL STUDENTS
Undergraduates enrolled full time in a degree program at any of the University System of Maryland (USM) schools and who have attained at least sophomore status (30+ credits) are eligible to participate. Students may take courses at any institution in the USM as inter-institutional students by filling out an inter-institutional registration (IIR) form in their home school's records office. Their home school's adviser and the home school’s registrar must sign off before they can present the form to the University of Baltimore’s Office of Records and Registration. Students must be in good academic standing. IIR is available only for spring and fall semesters. No admission application is required; details on the inter-institutional registration process can be found in the Academic Policies section and can be obtained from the records office at the student's home school or from the University of Baltimore’s Office of Records and Registration.

VISITING STUDENTS
Students who wish to register for courses and to have final grades transferred to count toward a degree at their home institution may enroll as visiting students. A visiting student is one who is currently enrolled at another institution outside of the USM, a USM student who has not obtained sophomore status or a USM student who is part time. Full-time USM students with sophomore standing must follow the inter-institutional registration procedures outlined above.

Applicants for visiting student status must:
- submit an application for undergraduate admission indicating nondegree status as a visiting student and pay the appropriate application fee
- submit an authorization letter from the home institution that outlines the specific courses to be taken at the University of Baltimore and verifies good academic standing.

READMISSION
Students who do not enroll at the University for more than two consecutive semesters, excluding summer sessions, must file a new application for admission. These students are responsible for meeting the admission and degree requirements and for adhering to the policies and procedures contained in the undergraduate catalog in effect at the time of readmission, not those under which they originally enrolled. The exception is students who have been granted an official leave of absence in advance. For more information, see Continuous Enrollment/Leave of Absence in the Academic Policies section of this catalog.

In addition, applications for readmission from students on academic probation and/or suspension must be approved by the dean (or designee) of the college in which they were enrolled. See Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Progress in the Academic Policies section of this catalog.

International students who have not enrolled for one or more semesters, excluding summer sessions, must obtain clearance from the Office of Graduate and International Admission and Enrollment before re-enrolling.

Applicants for readmission should be aware of the following:
- Students who have been absent for more than two consecutive semesters, excluding summer sessions, must submit an application for admission and include a check or money order payable to the University of Baltimore for the appropriate application fee.
- Students who have attended another institution since their last period of enrollment at the University of Baltimore and who wish to transfer course credit should arrange to submit an official transcript to the Office of Transfer Admission and Community College Relations directly from the institution granting the course credit.
• Any previous balance due the University must be paid in full before an application for readmission will be considered.

SECOND BACHELOR’S DEGREE
Students who have previously earned a bachelor’s degree, at either the University of Baltimore or another accredited institution, may earn a second bachelor’s degree in a different degree program. Students must complete a minimum of 30 credits in residence at the University of Baltimore, applicable only to the second degree, and satisfy all of the departmental requirements for the degree, but they are not required to fulfill general-education or University-wide course requirements. No University of Baltimore courses taken to complete the first bachelor’s degree can be retaken to complete the second bachelor’s degree.

Credits used to satisfy a first degree at the University of Baltimore may not be applied toward the 30-credit residency requirement for the second degree. In some cases, this policy may require the substitution of courses in the major, other than those specified by the second-degree program. Students interested in pursuing a second bachelor’s degree should consult with the appropriate program director before making a formal application through the Office of Transfer Admission and Community College Relations.

A student with a bachelor’s degree in criminal justice cannot be admitted into the Forensic Studies program with a concentration in police science. A student who has earned a bachelor’s degree in business administration at UB or at any institution may not earn a second bachelor’s degree in business administration with a different specialization. However, students may pursue a second bachelor’s degree in real estate and economic development or in information systems and technology management in the Merrick School of Business.

Students applying for a second degree at UB must submit an application for undergraduate admission (indicating “readmission” if they previously earned a bachelor’s degree at UB) and pay the appropriate application fee. A maximum of 90 transferable credits may count toward the second degree.

Transfer Credit Policies
All degree or certificate program applicants who transfer to the University of Baltimore receive a formal evaluation of transfer credit from the Office of Transfer Admission and Community College Relations. Transfer credit can only be awarded from an official transcript sent to the University of Baltimore from the institution that originally granted the course credit. This evaluation will be incomplete if the student is still taking coursework elsewhere. A final evaluation is made upon receipt of official transcripts showing grades and credits from the most recent semester and, if appropriate, the posting of receipt of a degree on the final transcript. Since not all transfer credits may be applicable to the specific degree pursued by a student, students are advised to review courses required for their degree in advance of transfer.

The following general policies also apply:
• Credit earned and transferred from a two-year college is limited to 63 credits. Students transferring from a two-year college must complete a minimum of an additional 57 credits to be awarded a bachelor’s degree except in cases where credits transferred are covered by an active articulation agreement with the two-year college.
• Transfer students who have credits from a four-year college may transfer up to 90 credits but may not have more than 70 credits of 100- to 200-level (freshman-sophomore) coursework. To satisfy graduation requirements, students transferring from a four-year college must complete a minimum of 30 credits at the University of Baltimore.
• Transfer credit is granted if the student has earned the required minimum grade in courses. A grade of D is transferable only if the overall cumulative grade point average is 2.0 or better. Students who earn a D in general-education courses from Maryland public institutions will be able to transfer these credits to fulfill general-education requirements at the University of Baltimore if the sending institution accepts D grades to satisfy general-education requirements. Otherwise, a grade of C- is required for lower-division general-education requirements and a C is required for lower- and upper-division major requirements as well as for upper-division general-education requirements.
• Developmental/remedial or orientation course credit may be transferred to meet qualifications for admission, but such credit is excluded from fulfilling graduation requirements.
• A maximum of 12 semester credit hours in occupational/technical courses completed at a regionally accredited college may be transferred and applied toward degree requirements in the general elective category. (This policy does not apply to radiologic technician, nursing or other occupational/technical courses covered by other University policies and agreements.)
• Students who wish to appeal a decision regarding the transferability of a course should first contact the Office of Transfer Admission and Community College Relations at 410.837.4777 or admissions@ubalt.edu. If a satisfactory resolution cannot be reached, the student may then appeal to the appropriate academic dean or, in the case of a general-education course, the dean of the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. The third level of appeal is the provost. Appeals regarding transfer credit must be initiated by students within one year of their initial enrollment.
• The student transfer policies adopted by the Maryland Higher Education Commission, applicable to all Maryland public post-secondary educational institutions, are listed in the appendix to this catalog.

Please note:
• Not all transfer credits may be applicable to graduation requirements. All students are required to take the last 30 credits toward the bachelor's degree at the University of Baltimore.
• A maximum of 30 business credits can be used toward a UB arts and sciences or public affairs bachelor's degree.

Transfer Credit and General-Education Requirements
University of Baltimore lower-division general-education requirements may be satisfied by transfer courses or by courses taken at the University of Baltimore. Generally, evaluation of applicable transfer credit is done on a course-by-course basis. However, there is flexibility in meeting these requirements under the conditions of and in accordance with the Maryland Higher Education Commission General Education and Student Transfer Policies. (See the Policies section in the back of this catalog.) These conditions are as follows:
• Students who transfer from a Maryland public community college with an A.A. or A.S. degree will automatically fulfill lower-level general-education requirements at the University of Baltimore. They will be responsible for completing all upper-division general-education requirements in addition to any graduation requirements not already met.
• The general-education credits of students for whom the previous item does not apply will be evaluated on a course-by-course basis in accordance with MHEC student transfer policies.
• Transfer students who need to take placement tests to be eligible to enroll in required lower-level general-education courses must do so by their second registration. Transfer students will not be permitted to register a second time unless all required placement tests have been taken.
• Applicants who hold a Maryland registered nurse or radiologic technician license are eligible to have certain general-education requirements satisfied. These include writing, communication, social science and biological/physical sciences. Students must submit a copy of their license in addition to their official transcripts. In addition, a maximum of 63 credits will be awarded/satisfied for an RN or RT license in combination with community college credits.

ARTSYS and Articulation Agreements
Academic programs at Maryland’s community colleges are articulated through the ARTSYS program, available online at http://artweb.usmd.edu. ARTSYS is a statewide program that provides detailed course-to-course transfer information, recommended academic plans for transfer and an unofficial transcript audit. By using the system, a student can better plan for transfer to the University of Baltimore. In some cases, the University of Baltimore has entered into articulation agreements with individual community colleges. The agreements solidify a course of study and may award additional transfer credit. Copies of these agreements are available online or through a transfer counselor at the community college.
Credit by Methods Other Than For-Credit College Instruction (AP, CLEP, IB, DANTES, Military Credits, Prior Learning)

The University of Baltimore will accept a maximum of 30 total credits earned by any combination of credits from one or more of the following sources: acceptable College Level Examination Program (CLEP) scores, acceptable Advanced Placement (AP) examination scores, successful completion of International Baccalaureate (IB) examinations, Defense Activity for Nontraditional Education Support (DANTES) and/or transfer credit for occupational competency/life experience.

Students may have earned some credits by these methods that are not applicable to a degree at UB. Whether or not and in what manner these credits can be applied toward graduation requirements will be determined by the appropriate dean or program director.

For transfer students, the CLEP, AP, IB, DANTES or occupational competency/life experience credits previously applied by another institution may be counted as part of the credits required for admission. In addition, for transfer students, a waiver to the 30-credit limit may be granted by the appropriate dean or program director when these credits are included as part of an associate degree.

College Level Examination Program (CLEP) Examinations
Since CLEY tests are most often taken to fulfill lower-division requirements, CLEY scores are acceptable for credit before completion of 90 credit hours. Once the student has begun the last 30 credits of study, CLEY scores are no longer acceptable for credit.

Advanced Placement (AP) Examinations
The University of Baltimore will award credit for Advanced Placement scores of 3 or higher. For information regarding general-education equivalencies or lower-level elective equivalencies, visit www.ubalt.edu/admissions or contact the Office of Freshman Admission at 410.837.4777 or admissions@ubalt.edu. Enrolling students are required to submit official AP scores from the College Board prior to matriculation to receive credit.

International Baccalaureate (IB) Examinations
Students who have completed higher-level International Baccalaureate (IB) courses or the requirements for an IB diploma in high school and have successfully completed the corresponding IB examinations may be entitled to credit at the University of Baltimore. Contact the Office of Freshman Admission at 410.837.4777 or admissions@ubalt.edu for information. Enrolling students are required to submit official IB scores from the IBO prior to matriculation to receive credit.

Defense Activity for Nontraditional Education Support (DANTES)
UB awards credit based on scores on the DANTES Subject Standardized Tests (DSST) and follows the recommendations of the American Council on Education regarding the amount and type of credit awarded for minimum scores. Those who have training or learning experiences as military personnel and would like additional information should contact the Office of Transfer Admission and Community College Relations at 410.837.4777 or admissions@ubalt.edu.

Credit for Prior Learning
The University of Baltimore itself does not give academic credit for occupational competency/life experience. It will, however, accept up to 30 such credits, including institutional examination credits upon transfer, when they have been awarded by a regionally accredited academic institution and are documented on an official transcript.
ACADEMIC ADVISING, REGISTRATION AND ACADEMIC POLICIES

Academic Advising
College of Public Affairs: 410.837.5359
Merrick School of Business: 410.837.4944
Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences: 410.837.5351

The University is committed to academic excellence and student success; therefore, a professional staff of academic advisers is available during the freshman experience, in the College of Public Affairs, the Merrick School of Business and the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. Students should meet with an adviser before each registration period to ensure that they are making proper academic decisions and progressing toward their degree. For some students, an adviser’s signature is required for registration. It is important that students become familiar with their adviser and take advantage of these experts’ in-depth knowledge of the various academic programs and policies.

Students should make an appointment to see an adviser before withdrawing from the University, even if they expect the withdrawal to be temporary.

Incoming students should take any necessary writing or math placement examinations before registering for their first semester at the University. Students admitted under freshman standards must take placement tests prior to their first registration. Transfer students are required to take such placements tests prior to registration for their second semester at UB. Placement test scores help the adviser do a better job of planning a program of study with the student. Early testing also helps to ensure that all requirements are completed on schedule.

To ensure that students have the skills necessary for success, they must take a placement exam or meet appropriate prerequisites prior to registration for the following courses:

- College Algebra MATH 111
- Introductory Statistics MATH 115
- Introduction to Business Statistics OPRE 201
- College Composition WRIT 101
- Advanced Expository Writing WRIT 300.

The University offers developmental courses for students who lack skills required by these courses. A primary reason why students should take the placement exams early in their academic career is that a delay in taking the preparatory courses can also delay graduation.

See the Achievement and Learning Center Web pages at www.ubalt.edu/alc for information about placement testing. See the course descriptions in the catalog for information about preparatory courses (DVMA 93, DVMA 95, DVRW 90, DVRW 95 and WRIT 200).

ADVISING FOR STUDENTS ADMITTED UNDER FRESHMAN STANDARDS

Office of Freshman Advising
Tel: 410.837.4186

The Office of Freshman Advising provides highly individualized advisement for students from the point at which they accept UB’s offer of admission until they are accepted into the major of their choice.

Students meet with an adviser at least once a semester for program of study planning. Advisers also provide students with a resource to help them understand how the University works, how to solve problems, how to pursue a growing interest or inspiration and how to connect their academics to their lives. The purpose of this advising is to increase students’ persistence, success and retention and to help students to have confidence and clarity about their academic, career and life goals. In addition, advisers participate in the UB Early Alert program to follow up on students who might be at risk of disengaging from their academic work and to get those students back on track as quickly as possible. Students who are identified through the Early Alert program (by either lapses in attendance or poor midterm grades) will be contacted by an adviser. Students admitted under freshman standards cannot make schedule changes without approval of their adviser. They should make an appointment with an adviser prior to registering for classes, when contemplating withdrawing from a class or making any other kind of schedule change and when preparing to officially apply for a major field of study.

COLLEGE OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS ADVISING
College of Public Affairs
Tel: 410.837.5359

All new students in the College of Public Affairs must meet with the director or adviser of their major program prior to registration for their first semester. Program directors and advisers assist students in planning their academic careers and in selecting appropriate courses to satisfy degree requirements. Students new to a major are required to have an adviser's permission to register for any course and to make any changes to the previously approved registration by adding or dropping a course.

Other students are strongly encouraged to meet with a program adviser on a regular basis. Those continuing students who must obtain advisement and a departmental and/or dean's office signature before registering are:

- students new to UB
- students declaring a major
- students changing their major program
- probationary students
- reinstated or readmitted students
- nondegree students
- students registering for an independent study or internship
- students requesting to take more than 16 credits during a regular semester or 6 credits during a summer session
- students requesting to take a course at another college or university.

Students are responsible for reviewing carefully the requirements for their chosen major program and seeking clarification from a program director or adviser if necessary. Academic advisers are also available in the Office of the Dean, Liberal Arts and Policy Building, Room 107, to provide information and clarification about public affairs programs, policies and procedures.

MERRICK SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADVISING
Merrick School of Business
Tel: 410.837.4945

Academic advisement is available in the Merrick Advising Center, William H. Thumel Sr. Business Center, Room 142, with daytime and evening hours. Scheduled appointments are recommended (410.837.4944). Advisers provide information on School of Business programs, policies and procedures. All new candidates will receive a guide to graduation containing a program guide and must meet with an adviser prior to registering for their first semester. Students in the online programs and who do not have access to the campus will be advised electronically. Academic advisers assist students in selecting appropriate courses to satisfy degree requirements. Students are advised that any deviation from their program of study must be approved. Department chairs and Merrick School faculty are also available to assist students in planning their academic program and to discuss career goals.

Continuing students in good academic standing can register without an adviser's signature and are responsible for following their program guide. Continuing students who must obtain advisement are:

- students changing their program or specialization
- students on academic probation
- readmitted students
- nondegree students
• students registering for an internship, independent study or practicum course
• students requesting to take more than 16 credits during a regular semester or 6 credits during a summer session
• students requesting to take a course at another college or university.
• students reinstated from suspension.

Although the academic adviser will assist the student in planning a program, each student must assume responsibility for knowing curriculum requirements and seeing that these requirements are met.

YALE GORDON COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES ADVISING

All new students in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences must meet with the director or adviser of their major program prior to registration for their first semester. Program directors and advisers assist students in planning their academic careers and in selecting appropriate courses to satisfy degree requirements. Students new to a major are required to have an adviser’s permission to register for any course and to make any changes to the previously approved registration by adding or dropping a course.

Other students are strongly encouraged to meet with a program adviser on a regular basis. Those continuing students who must obtain advisement and a departmental and/or dean’s office signature before registering are:

• students new to UB
• students declaring a major
• students changing their major program
• probationary students
• reinstated or readmitted students
• nondegree students
• students registering for an independent study or internship
• students requesting to take more than 16 credits during a regular semester or 6 credits during a summer session
• students requesting to take a course at another college or university.

Students are responsible for reviewing carefully the requirements for their chosen major program and seeking clarification from a program director or adviser if necessary. Academic advisers are also available in the Office of Advising, Academic Center, Room 243, to provide information and clarification about the college’s programs, policies and procedures.

PLACEMENT TESTING AND DEVELOPMENTAL COURSES

Placement Testing for Lower-Level General-Education Courses

The University of Baltimore requires students to have their skills assessed in reading, writing and mathematics. All first-year undergraduate students are required to take placement tests prior to registration and will be notified of testing dates. Transfer students who have satisfied MHEC general-education requirements in composition and/or mathematics at another college or university are exempt from placement testing for lower-level general-education courses in the satisfied area(s). Transfer students who need to take placement tests to be eligible to enroll in required lower-level composition and/or mathematics courses must do so within their first semester. After their first semester they will not be permitted to register for any courses without permission until the required lower-level general-education courses have been successfully completed. Transfer students who need to take placement tests should contact the Achievement and Learning Center at 410.837.5383.

Students with current documentation of disabilities will be eligible for accommodations, when appropriate.

Placement Tests Taken at Another Institution
Students who have taken placement tests identical to the placement tests used at UB but at another institution within the last two years may request that those test results be used to place them in the appropriate UB courses. Students must provide documentation of any test results that are less than two years old to the Achievement and Learning Center, which will determine placement based on UB’s current required scores.

Retest Policy
After receiving the results of the placement tests, students may choose to retest one time but not sooner than 24 hours after the initial test and not later than one week after initial testing. The higher score will be used for placement.

Appeal Policy
Students who earn a score close to the minimum acceptable score are allowed to appeal the retest score one time. An appeal requires a consultation with the academic adviser and a written request using the Request for an Appeal Form, located in the Office of Freshman Advising. The deadline for submitting the appeal is no later than two weeks after the student's retest. If the appeal is granted for the writing test, the student will be asked to produce another timed writing sample that will be scored by the Achievement and Learning Center. If the appeal is granted for the reading test, the student must make an appointment with the center to take the Nelson-Denny Reading Test. If the appeal is granted for the mathematics test, the student is to contact the ALC for an appointment, which will consist of reviewing the student’s mathematical history and taking the math appeal exam. In all cases, the highest score (test, retest and appeal) will determine the appropriate placement.

Developmental Course Placement
Students will be advised to register for appropriate courses based on their placement scores. The writing and reading test determines initial enrollment in WRIT 101 (College Composition), DVRW 95 (College Reading and Writing II) or DVRW 90 (College Reading and Writing I). The mathematics placement test determines initial enrollment in MATH 115 (Introductory Statistics), MATH 111 (College Algebra), OPRE 201 (Introduction to Business Statistics), DVMA 95 (Intermediate Algebra) or DVMA 93 (Introductory Algebra).

Developmental Course Repeat Policy
Students are required to earn a PS (C- or better) in any developmental course to progress into the next course. Students who do not earn a PS grade are allowed to repeat the course two times. Since grades in developmental courses are not computed into the GPA, students who must repeat these courses should not file repeat/replace course forms.

If after three attempts the student still has not achieved a PS grade, the student will be barred from further enrollment at UB for no less than one full regular semester. A student wishing to continue at UB at a later date must work with an appropriate adviser to create a plan for addressing the relevant academic issues and that plan must be approved by the Office of Freshman Advising or the appropriate dean. Once the conditions of the plan are fulfilled, the student may submit a request for reinstatement to the director of the Office of Freshman Advising or the appropriate dean. If approved, the student may be granted permission to register for classes in the next academic semester.

Students should refer to the Continuous Enrollment/Leave of Absence section of this catalog regarding the amount of time that they may stop out for this purpose. Students who have been out for more than two consecutive semesters must also reapply for admission.
Registration

Fax: 410.837.4820
E-mail: records@ubalt.edu

SCHEDULE OF CLASSES
The schedule of classes, posted in MyUB and as a PDF online at www.ubalt.edu/records prior to registration each semester, is the official record of the class offerings for the semester. It reflects current academic information necessary for students, faculty and staff to plan for the semester. The schedule of classes, along with registration dates and the academic calendar, can be found on the University's website. Registration throughout the registration period can be accomplished using MyUB, the University's online information and registration system.

Students should be aware that the University does not cancel any student's registration for nonpayment. Students must withdraw from class(es), and failure to do so will create a financial obligation to the University even if the student does not attend class(es). Please review the appropriate policy in the Tuition and Fees section of this catalog or at www.ubalt.edu/bursar.

REGISTRATION
MyUB-only registration allows students the opportunity to register for the next semester when the largest array of course sections is open. This option will assure students the greatest flexibility in scheduling their classes. During MyUB-only registration, students are restricted to registering online using the MyUB portal. The MyUB-only registration period usually extends for one week. After that, students may register using the MyUB portal or in person.

Students are urged to register early for the following semester. New students who have been officially accepted by the University prior to the registration period may register after receiving the required advisement. Registration is continuous from the initial date announced in the academic calendar and registration schedule through the end of the late registration period. Schedule adjustments, such as add/drop, may also be done during this period according to the calendar established for each term.

During registration, students submit class schedules and have the course selection confirmed. The student will receive a class schedule and a statement of fees at the end of the registration period. The registration will be completed if payment is made in full, payment arrangements have been made, the student has enough financial aid to cover the full balance, the student has enough financial aid to cover half of the full balance and has on file in the Office of the Bursar a signed and approved deferred-payment form or the student has submitted an approved third-party contract by the specified payment deadline. Students who register and do not withdraw will be held responsible for tuition and fees even if they never attend class.

LATE REGISTRATION/ADD-DROP
Late registration and final schedule adjustments are allowed during the first week of the academic term. There are additional required fees. This option offers a final opportunity for students to attend during a specific term. It is important to be aware that classes are in progress and that some academic work may have been missed. The official dates of the late registration period are listed in the academic calendar for each semester.

REGISTRATION FOR AUDIT AND CHALLENGE
Students may register to audit certain courses, without credit, and for challenge examination, with credit, at the time of registration with the written permission of the appropriate dean. There is no reduction in tuition and fees for a registration on the basis of audit or challenge.

CANCELLATION OF REGISTRATION
The University reserves the right to cancel any registration for which the student in question has not complied with appropriate procedures, rules and regulations and the financial requirements of the University. Students should be aware that the University does not cancel any student’s registration for nonpayment. Students must withdraw from class(es), and failure to do so will create a financial obligation to the University even if the student does not attend class(es). Please review the appropriate policy in the Tuition and Fees section of this catalog or at www.ubalt.edu/bursar.

TRANSCRIPTS
The transcript is the official record of a student’s academic program and is released only upon written authorization of the student or by an authorized directive from the judicial system.

DEFINITIONS OF UNDERGRADUATE STUDENT STATUS

Class Standing
Students are classified at the start of a semester based on the number of credits they have earned at that time that are applicable to the degree. A first-year student has earned between 0 and 29 credits; a second-year student has earned between 30 and 59 credits; a junior has earned between 60 and 89 credits; and a senior has earned 90 or more credits.

Degree Status
To attain degree-seeking status at the University of Baltimore, a student must be admitted as a degree-seeking student.

Students Admitted Under Freshman Standards
All students who have 0-23 undergraduate credit hours of college-level courses will participate in the freshman experience.

Full-Time Status
A full-time student is a degree-seeking student who is carrying a minimum of 12 credit hours per semester, fall and spring.

Part-Time Status
A part-time student is a degree-seeking student who is carrying fewer than 12 credit hours per semester (fall and spring). In the standard eight-week summer session, the allowable credit load is 6 credits, and classification is part time.

Nondegree Status
Nondegree students may take a maximum of 9 credits per semester (maximum of 6 during the summer session), not to exceed a total of 30 credits at UB. Nondegree students must apply for admission if they want to change their status to degree-seeking.

UB Coursework as Part of an Associate Degree
Undergraduate nondegree students who take courses at the University of Baltimore and transfer these to a community/junior college to complete an associate degree must satisfy the following conditions for admission to degree status at the University of Baltimore:

- Degree-seeking students must transfer to the University of Baltimore having earned an A.A., A.S. or A.A.S. degree.
• Students must complete a minimum of 60 additional credit hours upon return to the University of Baltimore.

• Students must complete a minimum of 120 credit hours to be awarded a bachelor’s degree at the University of Baltimore.

SATISFACTORY AND UNSATISFACTORY PROGRESS

Please note: These policies are for determining satisfactory academic progress. Review the Financial Assistance section of this catalog to determine the standards for satisfactory progress for eligibility for receiving or continuing to receive financial assistance.

A student is making satisfactory progress toward completion of his/her program as long as a GPA of 2.0 or higher is maintained.

• A student who attempts 12 or more credits at the University of Baltimore and earns less than a 2.0 will be placed on academic probation. Notification of this action will be by the grade report. Probationary status is a warning that satisfactory progress is in jeopardy.

• A student who is placed on probation must obtain advisement from the appropriate academic adviser before attending classes the following semester or summer session, even if the student has already registered. Full-time students on probation must limit their regular semester load to no more than 12 credits; part-time students must limit their regular semester load to no more than 6 credits. Students on probation may not take more than 3 credits at any given time during the summer.

• A student who has been placed on academic probation because of a deficient grade point average will be allowed up to 12 semester hours to obtain a cumulative GPA of 2.0. If the student does not reach a GPA of 2.0 or higher by the time the 12 additional credit hours are accumulated, the student will be suspended.

• A suspended student may not register for classes at the University of Baltimore for at least one semester and may not attend summer sessions until reinstated by the Office of Freshman Advising or the appropriate academic dean (see next paragraph). In addition, for-credit courses taken elsewhere may not be applied to the academic program at UB.

• Reinstatement at the University of Baltimore is not automatic. The suspended student must request reinstatement in writing from the Office of Freshman Advising or the appropriate academic dean by Oct. 15 for the spring semester, by April 15 for the fall semester or by March 15 for the summer session. As a condition of reinstatement, a suspended student may be required to successfully complete certain remedial or prerequisite courses at the University of Baltimore or another institution of higher education.

• If the suspended student has been away from the University for longer than two regular semesters, he/she must also apply for readmission. Suspended students must meet the requirements of the catalog in effect upon return if they are readmitted.

• A student returning from suspension must receive advising and be cleared by the Office of Freshman Advising or the appropriate academic dean before registering. A reinstatement or readmission on probation approval must be signed by both the student and the adviser and filed in the student’s official record in the Office of Records and Registration.

• A student suspended for a deficient GPA, when reinstated and/or readmitted, must achieve an overall cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher within the first 12 hours attempted after reentry and/or must fulfill any requirements outlined in the reinstatement or readmission on probation approval. Failure to do so will result in immediate dismissal.

• Under certain extraordinary circumstances, a suspended student may petition for a waiver of suspension. The petition will be reviewed by the program director and the Office of Freshman Advising or the appropriate dean. If the petition is granted and the suspended student is not required to sit out a semester, a Waiver of Suspension form and accompanying course plan approved by the director of the Office of Freshman Advising or the appropriate academic dean must be filed in the student’s official record in the Office of Records and Registration.
GRADES
All students whose name appears on a grade roster, regardless of the length of their attendance in the class, will receive for each course attempted one of the grades listed below. If, however, the student withdraws officially from a course during the first week of classes, the student’s name will not appear on the grade roster, nor will the transcript show the course.

All grades are given solely on the basis of an instructor’s judgment of a student’s scholarly attainment. Only grades earned at UB or as part of an approved consortium program will be included as part of a student’s official GPA.

Midterm Grades
All courses taught as part of a learning community within the freshman experience, developmental courses and IDIS 101: First-Year Seminar: Applied Learning and Study Skills require midterm grades. Other courses may require midterm grades but only as determined by faculty in the appropriate academic units.

Midterm grades for designated courses must be posted by the end of the seventh week of a regular semester and the fourth week of a summer semester.

* F: failure—given when the student completes the course, including the examination, but fails to meet the requirements of the course; when the student does not complete the course requirements and fails to officially withdraw from the course by the date designated in the semester academic calendar; when the student fails a credit-by-examination challenge course; or when the student fails a course listed in the catalog as either satisfactory/unsatisfactory or pass/fail

 FA: failure due to absences—given if the instructor determines that the student did not attend, stops attending or has insufficient attendance to pass the course according to the standards established in the course syllabus

 XF: failure due to academic integrity violation—only posted upon request of the University judicial officer

TG: temporary grade—assigned pending resolution of an academic integrity issue; only posted upon request of the University judicial officer.

W: withdrawn—an administrative symbol (not a grade) that is not computed in a student’s grade point average. The W is placed on the student’s transcript if the student withdraws from a class or classes after the end of the late registration period and prior to midnight on the last date to withdraw with a W.

WA: withdrawn administratively—given when recommended by instructor and dean for exceptional circumstances and/or other academic violations (This grade is not initiated by the student.)

PS: pass—credit for successful completion of a credit by examination challenge course and/or courses listed in catalog as satisfactory/unsatisfactory or pass/fail. The PS is not computed in the student’s grade point average.

AU: audit—indicates registration only. Student auditors may not shift from audit status to grade status, or reverse, without the written permission of the appropriate dean, and in no case will a switch be made after the end of the regular registration period. There is no credit or grade awarded in this option.

CR/NC: credit/no credit—awarded under credit/noncredit grade option for skill-building courses elected at the time of registration. No credit or quality points are awarded.

CS: continuing studies—given when it is known at the outset of the course that requirements for its completion will necessarily extend beyond the end of the semester. This grade is assigned at the discretion of the instructor for specifically designated courses only.

I: incomplete—given when a student is temporarily prevented from completing required coursework by unanticipated extenuating circumstances, such as illness or major changes in the demands of a job. A petition, signed by the student, the instructor and the appropriate dean, must be filed with the instructor, who will then submit the petition to the registrar. The I grade will be changed to an F if a grade change form is not submitted by the instructor to the Office of Records and Registration according to the following schedule:

- If the grade I was earned in the fall semester, the grade change must be submitted by May 1.
- If the grade I was earned in the spring semester or summer session, the grade change must be submitted by Dec. 1.

A graduating student must remove an I grade within 60 calendar days after the last day of the student’s last semester; otherwise, the student’s graduation application will be withdrawn at that time and another application must be submitted for the following semester.

XC: excluded grade—grade assigned for previous academic work which does not apply to the specific program in which a student is enrolled.
Grade Changes
All undergraduate semester and summer grades become final 60 calendar days after the last day of that semester. Students should review the policy on incomplete grades under the preceding section on grades.

Dean's List
The Dean's List for undergraduate students enrolled for at least 12 credit hours is announced at the end of each semester and is divided into two sections:

- High Honor—those students having no grades lower than an A
- Honor—those students who, for the semester, achieve a 3.25 GPA or higher in addition to having no grades lower than a B.

Students with repeat grades are not eligible for honors designation at the University of Baltimore.

Visiting Student Grades
The faculty and administration will make every effort to accommodate the timely reporting of final grades to a visiting student's home institution. Students should inform the University at the time of application when their grades should be forwarded to the home institution. If possible, this request will be honored.

SEMESTER LOAD
A student with full-time status may not register for more than 16 semester hours in the fall or spring semester, except with special permission from the dean or the Office of Freshman Advising. By definition, part-time students can take no more than 11 credit hours per semester. Courses with institutional credit (e.g., developmental courses) are included when determining full- and/or part-time status and for financial aid purposes.

Special nondegree students, regardless of when they take classes or what type of classes they take, are limited to a total semester load of 9 credit hours. Students on probation are regulated by the policy on satisfactory and unsatisfactory progress.

In the summer session, the course load cannot exceed 6 credit hours. Any exception to the designated course load must have the written approval of the dean.

ACCEPTANCE INTO A MAJOR
Students admitted under freshman standards are required to indicate an intended major when they apply for admission to the University. They are encouraged to formally declare a major after they have completed 24 credits, and they must do so once they have completed 45 credits. To declare a major, students must complete the necessary forms, available in the adviser’s office. These forms verify that the student has completed:

- all required developmental courses (DVxx) with a “PS” grade
- IDIS 101 with a C- or better
- between 24 and 45 credits with a minimum 2.0 GPA or the GPA required for the intended major.

Transfer students declare a major when admitted as degree-seeking students. Students must meet the entry requirements of the intended major at the time of declaration.

CHANGE OF ACADEMIC PROGRAM
If a student changes major, minor or specialization, the requirements are those specified in the catalog in effect at the time the student becomes a degree candidate in the new major, minor or specialization.

If the student has been continuously enrolled in the University, he/she will not be required to complete University-wide degree requirements introduced after the time of initial enrollment.

REPEAT COURSES
While a student may repeat any course in which he/she has received a grade below C, the number of courses for which a student may repeat the course and replace the grade is determined by the number of transfer credits at admission. Those admitted with fewer than 30 credits may replace four grades; those admitted with between 30 and 59 credits may replace three grades; those admitted with 60 or more credits may replace two grades. The repeated courses with replaced grades must each be a different course.

If a course is repeated to replace a grade, the replacement grade is calculated into the student’s grade point average, regardless of whether it is higher or lower than the original grade. The grade for the replacement attempt appears on the transcript within the semester in which the course is repeated.

Students repeating courses to replace grades do so at their own risk. For example, a student repeating a D-graded course who receives an F for the second attempt loses the points earned for the D, and the F is the grade that is computed into the GPA. If the student receives a W (withdrawn) for the second attempt, the W does not replace the original grade.

If a second attempt is intended to replace a grade, the student must file a repeat course form at the time he/she registers for the second attempt. Failure to file the form, which includes the approval of the dean or the Office of Freshman Advising, for each of the allowable replacements results in both the original and the repeated grades being computed into the GPA.

If a student repeats a course that is not for replacement of a grade, then a repeat course form should not be filed. In such cases, the grade achieved in the original course, as well as the grade(s) earned in the retaking of the course, are calculated in the student’s GPA. Students should be aware that earning C-, D+, D or F grades that are computed into the GPA may result in their being placed on probation, suspended or academically dismissed. (Students should refer to Satisfactory or Unsatisfactory Progress in this section of the catalog.)

Grades below C earned at the University of Baltimore must be repeated and replaced at the University of Baltimore. Grades cannot be changed on the basis of work taken elsewhere. The repeated course must be the original course; a substitute course is not acceptable for a grade change.

The credit value of any repeated course is counted one time only at the University of Baltimore to satisfy graduation requirements at the University of Baltimore.

Students with repeat grades are not eligible for honors designation at the University of Baltimore.

Merrick School of Business Repeat Course Policy
Students are limited to three attempts to successfully complete all lower- and upper-division business core courses and specialization courses required by the degree program. This applies to all undergraduate degree programs offered by the Merrick School of Business. Please refer to the University’s policy on repeating courses to replace grades stated above.

WITHDRAWAL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES
A student wishing to withdraw from a course must submit an official withdrawal request to the Office of Records and Registration. Students who withdraw online using the MyUB system should always confirm the completion of their withdrawal by reviewing their schedule after submitting the withdrawal or by contacting the Office of Records and Registration. No credit or tuition refund will be made unless such an official notice is submitted. The computation of any credit or refund is made from the date the formal notice of withdrawal is submitted to the Office of Records and Registration and not from the date the student stopped attending any class(es).

The responsibility for official withdrawal rests with the student. If a withdrawal is done prior to the end of the late registration and drop/add period, the course will not show on the student’s transcript. After that period, all withdrawals are indicated on the transcript by a W, and the student is considered to have been enrolled for that semester.

Any student may withdraw from a course through the end of the ninth week of the fall or spring semester, or through the fifth week of any summer session. After the deadline for withdrawal, a student who believes that unanticipated extenuating circumstances—such as health problems or a change of employment—make a withdrawal necessary should submit a written appeal with supporting documentation to the appropriate academic dean or the Office of Freshman Advising. Both the course instructor(s) and the appropriate dean or director must approve the request. Approval of such requests is not automatic, and some requests may not be granted. No student will be permitted to withdraw for any reason from a class during the last week of school prior to the beginning of the scheduled examination period.

Students receiving any form of financial aid, including veterans benefits, should check with the Office of Financial Aid prior to withdrawing from any class. Withdrawal may affect the level of aid or eligibility for aid in future semesters.

The University does not cancel your registration for nonpayment. If you decide not to attend, you must formally withdraw through the Office of Records and Registration or online using the MyUB portal. If you use the online MyUB portal, be sure to check your schedule after you withdraw to determine if the withdrawal was processed as you requested. If you do not make payment in full or make payment arrangements with the Office of the Bursar by the established payment due dates, your account will be charged a late payment fine.

CONTINUOUS ENROLLMENT/LEAVE OF ABSENCE

An undergraduate has seven years to complete the bachelor’s degree requirements at UB after enrolling as a degree student. Degree-seeking students are expected to register for courses each semester on a continuous basis (excluding summer) to maintain the degree requirements in effect at the time of their initial enrollment.

The University recognizes, however, that a student may encounter circumstances which require a temporary interruption of studies. Under such circumstances, the student may be absent for as long as two consecutive semesters (excluding summer) without jeopardizing continuous enrollment status.

If a student feels that it is necessary to be absent for more than two consecutive semesters (excluding summer), he/she must receive an approved leave of absence to maintain continuous enrollment and to be eligible for degree requirements in effect at the time of initial enrollment. To be considered for a leave of absence, a student must make a written request to the appropriate dean’s office in advance of the third semester’s absence. Upon reviewing the reasons for the request, the dean may grant an approved leave of absence. The cumulative time for leave of absence may not exceed 180 days. The written approval must be contained in the official student folder maintained in the Office of Records and Registration. Please note that the semesters in which a student fails to enroll are counted toward the seven-year limit for degree requirements.

If a student who is absent for more than two consecutive semesters has not obtained an approved leave of absence, he/she must apply for readmission and pay a reapplication fee before being permitted to re-enroll. A student who applies for readmission must fulfill the admission and degree requirements set forth in the catalog in effect at the time he/she returns to the University.

If a student is absent from the University and has not maintained continuous enrollment status, the seven-year time period for completion of new degree requirements begins when he/she is readmitted to the University. Credits more than seven years old are not usually applied toward graduation requirements. (Students should refer to Catalog Under Which Students Graduate in this section of the catalog for further information.)

COURSEWORK TAKEN ELSEWHERE AFTER ENROLLMENT

After a student has enrolled at the University of Baltimore, transfer credit for courses taken elsewhere will be granted only with the prior written approval of the appropriate dean or designee at the University of Baltimore. This written approval must be filed in the official student folder maintained in the Office of Records and Registration.

INTER-INSTITUTIONAL REGISTRATION

University System of Maryland

It is the policy of the University System of Maryland to allow full-time undergraduate students who are in good academic standing and of sophomore status (30+ credits) at the University of Baltimore to register for undergraduate courses at any other USM school. Likewise, students at other USM institutions may register for classes at the University of Baltimore. Prior approval by the student’s academic adviser and by the registrar at the student’s home and host institutions is required. Courses taken at another USM institution through this program are counted as part of the student’s regular program at the University of Baltimore, and the student pays University of Baltimore tuition. This program can be used by full-time students during the regular fall and spring semesters only.

For full details of this policy, contact UB’s Office of Records and Registration.

The Maryland Institute College of Art Program
The University of Baltimore participates in a student-exchange program with the Maryland Institute College of Art. This program allows full-time students at the University to enroll in courses at MICA. Prior approval by the student’s academic adviser and the registrar is necessary.

Courses taken through this program can be counted as part of the student’s regular program at the University, and the student pays University of Baltimore tuition. For further information, see your adviser or contact the Office of Records and Registration. This program is not available during summer sessions.

ACADEMIC CLEMENCY
Undergraduate students returning to the University of Baltimore after a minimum five-year separation and who, upon returning, make satisfactory progress for their first 9 credit hours may petition the appropriate academic dean to have a maximum of 15 credits of the previously earned grades and credits removed from the calculation of their cumulative grade point averages. Excluded grades and credits will be noted on academic transcripts with XC (excluded credits).

Students must file the petition for excluded credits with the appropriate dean prior to the completion of 12 credit hours after returning to the University. Excluded credit decisions are final and may not be changed. Approval of the petition is not automatic or guaranteed.

CATALOG UNDER WHICH STUDENTS GRADUATE
The requirements for graduation for an undergraduate student at the University of Baltimore are those listed in the catalog that is current at the time the student first becomes a candidate for an undergraduate degree at the University, with the following conditions:

- The student must be in continuous enrollment in the same major during the academic years (every fall and spring semester) from the time of first enrollment until graduation.
- The student must not take longer than seven calendar years to complete degree requirements after enrolling as a degree candidate. Credits that are older than seven years shall normally not be applied toward the graduation requirements, except upon approval of the major department chair and academic dean.
- If, for whatever reason, including academic suspension or other deficiencies, a student is not enrolled for two consecutive semesters or longer, the student must re-apply for admission and must meet the requirements of the catalog in effect upon returning and being admitted as a degree candidate.
- If the student changes from one program and/or major to another, the graduation requirements are those listed in the catalog that is current at the time the student becomes a degree candidate in the new program or major.
- If the student wishes to attend another institution or must drop out of the University temporarily because of family problems, sickness or other difficulties, he/she may request in writing a leave of absence and permission to re-enter under original catalog course requirements; however, the student will be governed, upon his/her return, according to the academic and administrative policies and procedures listed in the catalog in effect at the time of re-entry.
- If a leave of absence is granted, a letter of written permission signed by the dean must be placed in the student’s academic folder maintained in the Office of Records and Registration.

APPLYING FOR GRADUATION
The student is responsible for application for graduation and must file an application and pay the required fee at the beginning of the semester in which the student expects to complete degree requirements. Deadlines are established in the academic calendar and usually fall on the last date of late registration for a semester.
Students are advised to meet with their program director or adviser no later than the beginning of their last semester to make sure their course selections are correct. Each student should resolve any outstanding problems prior to midsemester, at which time copies of his/her records are submitted to the academic dean for clearance. It is the student’s responsibility to make sure that all transcripts are in and that any pending grade changes or incompletes are resolved and in the Office of Records and Registration prior to midsemester. Failure to do so could delay graduation for an additional semester.

Any student who does not complete degree requirements by the end of the semester for which graduation is anticipated, or is not approved, must file another graduation application and pay another fee in the future semester in which graduation will occur.

GRADUATION
Undergraduate students are awarded the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree when they have:
- fulfilled all entrance requirements
- satisfactorily completed a specific curriculum with a grade point average of 2.0
- acquired a minimum of 120 credit hours
- met any additional requirements of the program from which they expect to receive their degree.

All students must take the last 30 credits toward a bachelor’s degree at the University of Baltimore.

Once a student has been awarded a degree or certificate from the University of Baltimore, no grades or credits on the transcript can be changed and no courses can be added to the record for that degree.

GRADUATION WITH HONORS
To be eligible for graduation with honors from the University of Baltimore, a student must have earned a minimum of 48 first-attempt graded credit hours in scheduled classes at the University of Baltimore. All credits earned at the University will be used in the computation of the grade point average.

Upon graduation with a cumulative grade point average of 3.9, the student is awarded the bachelor’s degree summa cum laude; with a cumulative average of 3.75, magna cum laude; with a cumulative average of 3.5, cum laude. Numerous special academic awards are sponsored by the College of Public Affairs, the Merrick School of Business and the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. Information about these may be obtained from the deans.

Students with repeat grades are not eligible for honors designation at the University of Baltimore.

GRADUATION FROM THE HELEN P. DENIT HONORS PROGRAM
For information on graduation requirements for the Helen P. Denit Honors Program, visit www.ubalt.edu/honors.

HOLIDAY CLASSES
Graduate and undergraduate classes generally meet on federal and state holidays with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year’s Day, Martin Luther King Jr. Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day. Students should consult the academic calendar for an exact holiday schedule.

MAKE-UP POLICY FOR FINAL EXAMS
Make-up examinations for missed final examinations are, in general, left to the discretion of the individual faculty member.

However, University policy dictates that make-up examinations will be given for instances of final examinations missed because of documented illness or documented conflict with religious observance, and in instances of examinations missed because of University-sanctioned trips.

If a student misses a final examination for any reason not covered by the above, the question of whether or not a make-up examination is given is up to the discretion of the individual faculty member.
ATTENDANCE
Students are expected to attend classes regularly. When, in the instructor’s judgment, a student has been absent or late so often that the student has lost a significant part of the instruction that will prevent the issuance of a valid grade, the instructor may submit a grade of F (failure) or FA (failure due to absences).

Instructors set their own class attendance policies and will communicate these in the course syllabus at the beginning of the term. The above policy does not remove the responsibility from the student to withdraw officially from any class that he/she ceases to attend. Failure to do so will subject the student’s records to a grade of F or FA.

ACADEMIC AND ADMINISTRATIVE APPEALS
Students desiring to appeal an academic or administrative decision should consult the UB Student Policies and Procedures Handbook, found at www.ubalt.edu/studenthandbook.

THE UNIVERSITY OF BALTIMORE UNDERGRADUATE LEARNING GOALS
Students at the University of Baltimore will:

- Apply strategies that enhance professional and personal competence.

  Outcomes: This set of skills is demonstrated by the ability to:
  - recognize the implications of their financial and economic decisions
  - work in teams while filling different roles
  - use digital technology to communicate and investigate
  - find and judge the credibility of different sources of information.

- Connect knowledge with choices and actions that engage others in diverse local and global communities.

  Outcomes: This set of skills is demonstrated by the ability to:
  - make informed choices regarding conflicting situations in their personal and public lives and to foresee the consequences of these choices
  - recognize the importance of civic engagement in their personal lives and society
  - reflect on how one’s own attitudes and beliefs are different from those of other cultures and communities
  - articulate the interconnectedness of global, regional, local and personal interests.

- Acquire knowledge about models of ethical behavior and understand its implications in the development of personal and professional relationships.

  Outcomes: This set of skills is demonstrated by the ability to:
  - make well-reasoned choices regarding conflicting situations in their personal and public lives and to foresee the consequences of these choices
  - give well-supported reasons for deciding on right moral conduct in an interdependent group
  - apply an ethical decision-making process to social, workplace and personal dilemmas.

- Communicate effectively in various media.

  Outcomes: This set of skills is demonstrated by the ability to:
  - express ideas and facts to others effectively in a variety of written, oral and visual formats
  - communicate in one-on-one and group settings
  - make efficient use of information resources and technology for personal and professional communication
  - comprehend, interpret and analyze texts.
• Think critically and creatively to solve problems and adapt to new environments.
  Outcomes: This skill is demonstrated by the ability to: o generate and explore new questions
  o analyze complex issues and make informed decisions o synthesize information to arrive at reasoned conclusions o evaluate the logic, validity and relevance of data.

• Gather and evaluate information using scientific, quantitative, humanistic and aesthetic methods.
  Outcomes: This set of skills is demonstrated by the ability to: o apply the scientific method to solve relevant problems o use mathematical concepts and techniques that can be applied to other disciplines o use knowledge of humanities in various personal and professional situations o engage with and appreciate aesthetic perspectives.

• Develop an integrated and specialized knowledge and skills base.
  Outcomes: This set of skills is demonstrated by the ability to: o acquire substantial knowledge and understanding of at least one field of study (intellectual depth)
  o compare and contrast approaches to knowledge in different disciplines (intellectual breadth) o modify one’s approach to an issue or problem based on the contexts and requirements of particular situations (adaptability).

SOSC  Social and Behavioral Sciences | 6
GSCI  Biological and Physical Sciences | 7

Interdisciplinary and Emerging Issues
COSC  Computer Literacy | 3

Qualifying general-education courses are also listed in the section below. In addition, other courses may have been designated as meeting general-education requirements since the printing of this catalog; please contact your academic adviser for more information.

General Education
The University of Baltimore is committed to the ideals of general education. Requirements for general education are prescribed by the Code of Maryland Regulations (COMAR). Students entering Maryland public institutions must complete no fewer than 40 and no more than 46 credits in general-education courses to earn a bachelor’s degree.

The University of Baltimore outlines 34 credits of lower-division general-education requirements that meet the Maryland General Education and Transfer Policies regulations. Those admitted to UB as freshmen will usually complete these credits within their first two years of study. Since associate degree programs at community colleges include many of these requirements and since most four-year colleges and universities require these courses at the lower level, students who transfer to the University of Baltimore usually have completed many of these general-education credits prior to enrollment. However, all of these requirements can be met through courses taken at the University of Baltimore.

Lower-Level General Education
The following lower-level general-education requirements apply to students admitted for the 1996 fall semester and thereafter.

Prospective transfer students should consult a transfer counselor and/or a counselor in the UB Offices of Admission for additional information. Any general-education course transferred into the University of Baltimore must have been completed with a grade of C- or better. However, if another Maryland public institution accepted a D/D+ as satisfactory for fulfillment of a general-education course, then UB will accept that requirement as fulfilled.

Lower-Level General-Education Requirements (34 credits)
General education supports the Undergraduate Learning Goals of the University of Baltimore. It encourages active learning, critical thinking and independent investigation and helps students assume responsibility for their own intellectual development. Lower-level general-education requirements are designed to provide a broad exposure to topics and disciplines that expand understanding of self. General education places this understanding in a context of history, culture and current thinking. It directs this understanding outward to engagement in the communities in which students live and work, from the local to the global.

General-education requirements are distributed in the categories that follow. Various UB courses that can be used to fulfill the requirements are indicated below; additional courses may be added over time. All lower-level general-education courses must be completed with a grade of C- or better.

English Composition Requirement (3 credits) WRIT
One course
prerequisite: adequate score on placement test or successful completion of designated developmental writing course
WRIT 101 College Composition (3)
WRIT 101 College Composition (3) with DVRW 95: College Reading and Writing II (2 institutional credits)

Mathematics Requirement (3 credits) MATH
One course
MATH 111 College Algebra (3) prerequisite: adequate score on placement test or successful completion of MATH 115 or OPRE 201 or their equivalent or successful completion of DVMA 95: Intermediate Algebra
MATH 115 Introductory Statistics (3) prerequisite: adequate score on placement test or successful completion of MATH 111 or its equivalent or successful completion of DVMA 95: Intermediate Algebra
OPRE 201 Introduction to Business Statistics (3) prerequisite: adequate score on placement test or successful completion of DVMA 95: Intermediate Algebra

Arts and Humanities Requirements (12 credits)
Students must complete one course in each area below.

GVPP 284  Politics in Comparative Perspective (3)
MGMT 101  Business in a Changing World (3)
PSYC 100  Introduction to Psychology (3)
SOCI 100  Introduction to Sociology (3)

Biological and Physical Sciences Requirements (7 credits) GSCI
Students must complete two courses; one of the two must be a laboratory course.

Non-laboratory courses
- BIOL 101  Humankind and the Biological World (3)
- CHEM 101  Chemistry and the Modern World (3)
- ENVA 201  Human Ecology (3)
- PHSC 101  Earth in Focus (3)

Laboratory courses
- BIOL 111  Human Biology (4)
- BIOL 121  Fundamentals of Biology (4)
- ENVS 221  Science of the Environment (4)

Interdisciplinary and Emerging Issues Requirement (3 credits)
Students must complete a course in computer literacy. COSC
- COSC 100  Introduction to Computer Technologies (3)
- INSS 100  Computer Information Systems (3)

This requirement may be met by a sufficient test score on the waiver exam (contact the Achievement and Learning Center at 410.837.5383), but students may be required to successfully complete an additional general-education course to meet state requirements.

Full-time students who for some reason cannot complete a general-education requirement at UB may take lower-level general-education course(s) through inter-institutional registration at another University System of Maryland college or university.

Graduation Requirement
In addition to the general-education requirements outlined in this section of the catalog, students are expected to develop information literacy throughout their four years of education. The ways in which this requirement may be met are specified by each academic program.

Undergraduate students always meet this requirement if they have successfully completed IDIS 110: Introduction to Information Literacy (3).

Students who have not successfully completed this course should discuss how to meet the requirement with their program director or adviser.

Upper-Level General Education
The upper-level core curriculum builds on lower-level general-education requirements and seeks to develop habits of and tastes for independent thinking. The general-education program, which cuts across disciplinary lines, asks students to confront both the complexity of knowing and the tentativeness of our knowledge. It also facilitates the ability of students to exercise control over their lives through thoughtful response to their political, cultural and natural environments.

Upper-Level General-Education Requirements (6 or 9 credits)
All undergraduates must complete 6 credits of required courses in the upper-division core with a grade of C (2.0) or better:
- WRIT 300  Advanced Expository Writing (3)
- IDIS 302  Ethical Issues in Business and Society (3)
In addition, students in programs within the College of Public Affairs or the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences must also complete one of the following with a grade of C (2.0) or better:

- IDIS 301 World Cultures (3)
- IDIS 304 Arts and Ideas (3)

(Students who have not fulfilled the lower-level general-education requirement in fine arts may meet both requirements by successfully completing IDIS 304: Arts and Ideas.)

It is only in extraordinary circumstances that another course may be substituted for one of the upper-level general-education requirements.

STUDENTS ADMITTED UNDER FRESHMAN STANDARDS:

THE FRESHMAN EXPERIENCE

Students admitted to UB under freshman standards must have earned fewer than 24 academic credits at another institution of higher education. These students participate in the freshman experience.

The work of the freshman experience takes place under a set of guiding principles:

- Provide small class experiences and common courses, linked to each other and to a relevant societal context.
- Develop students’ learning abilities in key areas (effective communication, information literacy, technological competence, developing a knowledge and skills base, personal management and ethical discernment).
- Guide students regarding academic requirements, the resources and opportunities of the University, their social and academic responsibilities and their future careers.
- Show respect for three dimensions of the student experience: students’ struggles to attend college, to participate actively in the classroom and to understand a new standard for learning that involves students’ ownership of their education.

In their early college curriculum, students take general-education courses in science, mathematics, composition, humanities, social sciences, information literacy, oral communication and IT fluency; a first-year seminar that provides a chance to practice academic success skills; 100- and 200-level courses in the majors or electives; and developmental courses in reading, writing and mathematics.

Students are encouraged to formally declare a major after they have completed 24 credits and must do so once they have completed 45 credits.

Components of the Freshman Experience

Learning Communities: Learning communities are the centerpiece of the freshman experience. All freshman students choose two learning communities, one each semester of the first year. The curricular coherence provided by thematically linked courses provides an excellent environment for student success. An important goal for learning communities is building social and intellectual connections from what students know when they come to UB, to what they learn in their first and second years, to what they learn in their major areas of study and eventually to how they act as responsible and educated professionals, citizens and family members.

Learning communities help students to participate more fully in their own learning, to interact more often and more deeply with faculty and staff and, most importantly, to develop academic maturity and self-confidence as they move toward their major fields of study. Critical thinking, reading and writing skills help students engage in Knowledge That Works.

In rare circumstances, students may withdraw from one or more learning community courses with the written approval of the Office of Freshman Advising and in consultation with the learning community faculty members. However, choosing to drop a course may require the student to take another learning community.
First-Year Seminar: The required IDIS 101: First-Year Seminar: Applied Learning and Study Skills is an innovative 2-credit course that combines classroom and online instruction with campus activities to give students practical, adaptable skills that help them to achieve their academic goals. In addition, it gives students opportunities to reflect and build on their understanding of themselves as students and their abilities to set and achieve personal, academic and professional learning goals. Finally, it serves as an extended orientation to facilitate their awareness of UB, its resources and its goals to support their learning experiences.

IDIS 102: Critical Thinking and Multicultural Awareness is a 1-credit elective course that students can take after successfully completing IDIS 101. In this course, students continue to build their skills in systematically and creatively analyzing and synthesizing information to solve problems. They focus this understanding on the knowledge, skills and personal attributes college graduates need to live and work in a diverse world.

The following principles apply to students in the freshman experience:
- All students admitted under freshman standards are required to successfully complete IDIS 101: First-Year Seminar: Applied Learning and Study Skills prior to declaring a major in the College of Public Affairs, the Merrick School of Business or the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences.
- Students who have completed a credit-bearing learning styles and study skills course at another institution of higher education with a grade of C or better may request a waiver from the IDIS 101 requirement by providing appropriate documentation (transcript and course description) to the Office of Freshman Advising.
- Students may elect to take IDIS 102: Critical Thinking and Multicultural Awareness, but IDIS 102 is not a substitute for IDIS 101.

Co-curricular learning: UB students’ undergraduate learning experiences are complemented by a calendar of out-of-classroom activities designed to help them to carry what they learn in the classroom into real-world environments. These activities include field trips, special speakers, leadership opportunities and service learning experiences. These co-curricular activities reinforce classroom learning; they help students to become more proficient thinkers, communicators, problem-solvers, creative learners and ethical decision-makers. An important goal of co-curricular activities is to increase students’ engagement: the more connected students feel to UB, the more likely they are to persist and succeed in their ambitions.
The College of Public Affairs awards bachelor’s, master’s and doctoral degrees that prepare students for successful professional careers in the complex and diverse workplace of today and tomorrow. We provide our graduates with the theoretical knowledge and substantive skills they need to succeed and thrive in the organizations in which they work and to apply those skills to the problems they encounter. They learn to analyze administrative decisions, organizational issues and societal problems from multiple perspectives and to clearly communicate their thoughts and rationale to colleagues, senior management and stakeholders in ways that promote successful resolutions to problems.

The College of Public Affairs’ faculty members improve their fields through the students they teach and the research they contribute to expanding the knowledge base. They apply their expertise to helping public, nonprofit, health-care and third-sector organizations and to addressing pressing policy issues. They bring what they learn in the field back to the University to inform and enhance their students’ classroom experiences.

The college was established in 2010—incorporating existing, longstanding degree programs—as part of the University’s initiative to enhance UB’s distinction in the fields of public administration, criminal justice, and health and human services; to build upon institutional strengths in public service, applied research and interdisciplinary collaboration; and to continue the development of distinctive, robust and contemporary degree programs.

The college is home to the Schaefer Center for Public Policy, established in 1985, with a mission of bringing the University’s academic expertise to bear in solving problems faced by government and nonprofit organizations. The center has a reputation for excellence in management consulting, evaluative research, opinion research and professional development, and it meets a key component of the University’s mission by conducting applied research, particularly in areas relevant to faculty members’ fields of expertise, and by providing public service to the Baltimore metropolitan area and to the state of Maryland.

SCHOOLS WITHIN THE COLLEGE

The College of Public Affairs is multidisciplinary in nature and comprises three distinct academic units. Faculty and staff come from a variety of academic backgrounds, including criminal justice, health, public administration, public policy, human services administration, law, conflict management, political science and international affairs. Through its teaching, research and public service activities, the college educates tomorrow’s leaders, informs public policymakers and improves the management effectiveness and operational efficiency of both public and nonprofit organizations.

- School of Criminal Justice
  Debra Stanley, executive director

  Kathleen Block, program director, B.S. in Criminal Justice
  Vacant, program director, B.S. in Forensic Studies
  Heather Pfeifer, program director, M.S. in Criminal Justice

With its vibrant, urban location, the University of Baltimore is strategically positioned to take full advantage of its stimulating environment, promoting practical applications of its programs of study. The School of Criminal Justice orients its academic priorities toward integration with the real world, capitalizing on the very real city that acts as an extended classroom. With complementary emphases on applied research and policy and administration, the School of Criminal Justice offers undergraduate programs leading to degrees (both B.S.) in criminal justice and forensic studies and a graduate program leading to a degree in criminal justice (M.S.). In collaboration with the UB School of Law, the school also offers a joint J.D./M.S. in Criminal Justice program and a joint J.D./M.S. in Negotiations and Conflict Management. The University was the second institution in the nation to have both its graduate and undergraduate programs in criminal justice certified by the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences.

- School of Health and Human Services
  John Callahan, interim executive director

  John Callahan, program director, B.S. and M.S. in Health Systems Management
  Bridal Pearson, program director, B.A. and M.S. in Human Services Administration

  With our nation’s health-care system increasingly in the public eye and under scrutiny, management of our health and human services has never been so important. The School of Health and Human Services’ programs incorporate interdisciplinary, practical approaches—emphasizing in-service learning through internships and field experiences—to managing health care and human services in the public, private and nonprofit sectors. The school offers undergraduate programs in health systems management (B.S.) and human services administration (B.A.). An accelerated bachelor’s/master’s option is also offered in both fields. The school also offers graduate programs in health systems management and human services administration (both M.S.).

- School of Public and International Affairs
  Laura Wilson-Gentry, executive director

  John Willis, program director, B.A. in Government and Public Policy
  Don Haynes, program director, B.A. in International Studies
  Samuel Brown, program director, Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.) and Certificate in Strategic Management and Public Accountability Systems
  Ivan Sascha Sheehan, program director, M.S. in Negotiations and Conflict Management
  Patria Julnes, program director, Doctor of Public Administration (D.P.A.)

  With its abundance of government, public-sector and nonprofit organizations, the Baltimore-Washington metropolitan region is an ideal location to immerse oneself in public and international affairs. The School of Public and International Affairs offers undergraduate programs leading to degrees in government and public policy and in international studies (both B.A.). It also offers graduate programs leading to a master’s degree in public administration (M.P.A.) accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration; a doctoral degree in public administration (D.P.A.); an M.P.A./J.D., offered in collaboration with the UB School of Law; and a master’s degree in negotiations and conflict management (M.S.). It also offers a post-bachelor’s Certificate in Strategic Management and Public Accountability Systems.

SCHAEFER CENTER FOR PUBLIC POLICY
Ann Cotten, director
Mary Lovegrove, assistant director

As the pre-eminent public-policy research center in Maryland, the Schaefer Center for Public Policy’s principal services include strategic planning, facilitation, program evaluation, needs assessment, staffing analysis and workforce planning, survey research, focus-group moderation, conflict-management consulting and professional development. The center is committed to serving its constituency—the public sector in the Maryland region. Over the past 25 years, the center has received hundreds of grants and contracts from various local, state and federal agencies, as well as from nonprofit organizations.

The center’s staff has trained 4,600 public servants in the Maryland Managing for Results program and thousands of election judges in Baltimore city and county, and it has provided leadership development training for nonprofit executive directors. The center is committed to enhancing the University’s academic environment by encouraging faculty and student applied research, fostering interdisciplinary research teams and supporting educational conferences. In addition, the center offers fellowships each year that provide graduate students with a unique opportunity to work closely with faculty members while gaining real-world experience through participation in center projects.

For more information, visit http://scpp.ubalt.edu.

STUDENTS
The approximately 1,400 men and women enrolled in the College of Public Affairs—slightly more than half of them in undergraduate programs—represent about 19 percent of the total University of Baltimore student population.

About 52 percent of the college's undergraduate students are enrolled full time. Many of the remainder are already working in a wide variety of careers, and most of the college’s students—whether undergraduate or graduate, full or part time—balance job, family and school responsibilities. Some students are seeking to advance their current careers while others are preparing to change careers. This diversity of age and experience is an important and invigorating part of classroom and campus life.

FACULTY
College of Public Affairs faculty members are leaders in teaching, research, scholarship and service to the community. Full-time faculty members teach both graduate and undergraduate courses; conduct sponsored research; publish papers and articles; and engage in public service as consultants, board members and volunteers. The college’s teaching faculty also includes a cadre of adjunct professors who are leading professionals in dozens of professions in government, nonprofit organizations and businesses. These adjunct faculty members help to ensure that our students are well prepared to meet the challenges of today’s professional workplace.

FACILITIES
Classrooms, laboratories and faculty offices for the College of Public Affairs are located in the Liberal Arts and Policy Building and in the Academic Center. The college shares the University of Baltimore’s Langsdale Library, Office of Technology Services and Achievement and Learning Center with other components of the University.

The fourth floor of the Academic Center houses state-of-the-art forensics instrumentation and microscope laboratories with classroom space; the labs were developed in conjunction with the Baltimore Police Department and also serve as a reserve crime lab for the city.

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS
All programs are open to transfer students.

- Criminal Justice (B.S.)
- Forensic Studies (B.S. with concentrations in forensic science and police science)—available to students once they have completed a minimum of 56 credits; may require that additional criteria be met, and courses to fulfill this major may not be available during the day
- Government and Public Policy (B.A.)
- Health Systems Management (B.S.)—available to students once they have completed a minimum of 56 credits; may require that additional criteria be met, and courses to fulfill this major may not be available during the day
- Human Services Administration (B.A.)—available to students once they have completed a minimum of 56 credits; may require that additional criteria be met, and courses to fulfill this major may not be available during the day
- International Studies (B.A.)

Note: Descriptions of these programs follow Academic Policies and Information in the above-listed alphabetical order.

HELEN P. DENIT HONORS PROGRAM
Both faculty and students in the College of Public Affairs participate actively in the Helen P. Denit Honors Program. See page 9 for a description of the honors program or visit www.ubalt.edu/honors.
ACADEMIC POLICIES AND INFORMATION

University-Wide Degree Requirements
See the University-Wide Degree Requirements section of this catalog.

Collegewide Degree Requirements
All College of Public Affairs bachelor’s degree candidates are required to:
- complete a minimum of 120 credits, including the specific requirements of their major, with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0
- apply no more than 63 credit hours of community college coursework toward graduation
- earn a minimum grade of C (2.0) in all courses required for the major, including courses that are regarded as electives in the major. Some programs may have additional requirements or standards, which are specified in the program requirements in this catalog.
- apply no more than 30 credits in business courses toward requirements for the bachelor’s degree
- complete the last 30 credit hours required for the degree at the University of Baltimore.

ACADEMIC MINORS
Students who have completed 24 credit hours with a 2.0 cumulative GPA may declare a minor, which is a cohesive set of courses designed by faculty to provide students with an opportunity to cultivate skills and knowledge through concentrated study in an area that is not the major. Minors may focus on one discipline or may be interdisciplinary; they require 15-21 credits. Completing a minor is optional, and students should seek the guidance of an academic adviser when selecting a minor to understand how the minor requirements may be completed in conjunction with their degree.

For more information about minors offered and further requirements, see page 134.

OPTIONS AND REQUIREMENTS FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS TAKING GRADUATE COURSES
Undergraduate students who have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.2 and who have completed at least 90 credits applicable to a degree (senior standing) may request enrollment in graduate courses as part of their undergraduate degree. Enrollment requires the approval of the directors of both the undergraduate and graduate programs in question. With this arrangement, undergraduate students are permitted to take a maximum of 6 credit hours at the graduate level, and these credits are applied strictly to the undergraduate degree.

Undergraduate students taking graduate courses being applied to an undergraduate degree pay usual undergraduate tuition. Consequently, all application and approval forms must be completed prior to registration.

ACCELERATED BACHELOR’S/MASTER’S OPTION
Undergraduate students of recognized academic ability and educational maturity may fulfill the combined requirements of the college’s bachelor’s and master’s degrees via a variety of accelerated bachelor’s/master’s options. This is different from applying to enroll in graduate courses as part of the undergraduate degree, as described above.

This accelerated option requires a minimum of 141 credits, depending on the requirements of individual programs. A maximum of 9 graduate credits, completed at the undergraduate level, may be applied simultaneously to the requirements for the bachelor’s and master’s degrees. In some cases, students may cross disciplines. Those interested should discuss their proposals with the appropriate program directors.

To be eligible for an accelerated bachelor’s/master’s option, students must have a cumulative 3.5 GPA; to remain in the program, students must maintain a 3.5 GPA in their undergraduate coursework and a 3.0 GPA in their graduate courses.

To take advantage of the option, students need the approval of the dean of the college and of the appropriate graduate and undergraduate program directors and must elect to take advantage of the option prior to beginning the last 30 credits of their undergraduate degree. Moreover, students must secure approval for participating in the option as special students in the appropriate graduate program and pay the applicable fees.

Students taking advantage of this accelerated option may register for up to 9 credits of graduate coursework during the last 30 hours of their undergraduate degree. The undergraduate and graduate program directors will select the appropriate graduate courses for each student upon election of the option. These courses may not include independent study or research, individual research, directed study, thesis, internship or practicum courses. Changes in the program of study require approval of both the undergraduate and graduate program directors.

Students must be in continuous enrollment at the University of Baltimore for this agreement to remain in effect. Those who fail to maintain the eligibility requirements will be dropped from the accelerated option. Applicability (if any) of graduate courses to the undergraduate degree will be determined on an individual basis. Students should be aware that graduate courses applied to both undergraduate and graduate degrees at the University may not transfer as graduate credits to another institution.

In addition to electing the accelerated bachelor's/master's option, a separate application for admission to the graduate program (including payment of applicable fees) must be completed during the final semester of the bachelor's program. Admission to the graduate program must be effective the first regular semester after completing the credits required for the bachelor's degree so that there is no break in studies.

GRADUATE PROGRAMS

Graduate Degree Programs
- Criminal Justice (M.S.)
- Health Systems Management (M.S.)
- Human Services Administration (M.S.)

LAW SCHOOL AUTOMATIC ADMIT OPTION

Students who graduate from a University of Baltimore undergraduate program with a cumulative cross-institutional grade point average of 3.35 or better as computed by the Credential Assembly Service and an LSAT score of 154 or better can be automatically admitted into the entering class of the UB School of Law following their graduation.

Admission is for the fall semester only (note that the law school cannot make an admission decision until students have completed 75 credits of undergraduate coursework), and a completed application must be submitted by April 1. Students should take the LSAT no later than February of the calendar year in which they would like to enter law school.

Note that if students answer yes to any section of Question 29 of the UB School of Law application, they are not eligible for automatic admission; instead, their application will be forwarded to the admissions committee for a complete review. Question 29 concerns information regarding academic and disciplinary probation, criminal offenses, civil suits and employment termination.
The UB School of Law does not ensure acceptance into the full-time day program; students may be admitted to the full-time day program, the part-time day program or the evening program. The law school reserves the right to increase the grade point average and the LSAT score required on an annual basis. For more information about this option, contact the Office of Law Admissions at 410.837.4459 or lwadmiss@ubalt.edu.

LAW SCHOOL EARLY ENTRY OPTION

Available to students enrolled in the B.A. in Government and Public Policy program, this option allows students’ first year of enrollment at the University of Baltimore School of Law to fulfill the requirements of their last year of undergraduate study. It requires a cumulative cross-institutional grade point average of 3.50 or better as computed by the Credential Assembly Service and an LSAT score of 155 or better. This option is available only if students are continuously enrolled at the University from their undergraduate major into their law school education.

To pursue the option, students must complete the 93 undergraduate credits required for their degree and complete a minimum of 33 credits at UB, excluding AP, IB, DANTES, CLEP or challenge examinations. Students must complete all lower- and upper-division general-education requirements and apply to the UB School of Law. Admission is for the fall semester only (note that the law school cannot make an admission decision until students have completed 75 credits of undergraduate coursework), and a completed application must be submitted by April 1. Students should take the LSAT no later than February of the calendar year in which they would like to enter law school.

Note that students must apply for graduation during the last semester of their first year of law school to receive their bachelor’s degree.

If students answer yes to any section of Question 29 of the UB School of Law application, they are not eligible for early entry; instead, their application will be forwarded to the admissions committee for a complete review. Question 29 concerns information regarding academic and disciplinary probation, criminal offenses, civil suits and employment termination.

Law school admission may be into the full-time day program or the part-time day program, as determined by the School of Law.

The law school reserves the right to increase the grade point average and the LSAT score required on an annual basis. For more information about this option, contact the Office of Law Admissions at 410.837.4459 or lwadmiss@ubalt.edu.

For more detailed information about B.A. in Government and Public Policy requirements, see page 55.

SECOND BACHELOR’S DEGREES

Students who have previously earned a bachelor’s degree, at either the University of Baltimore or another accredited institution, may earn a second bachelor’s degree in a different degree program. Students must complete a minimum of 30 credits in residence at the University of Baltimore, applicable only to the second degree, and satisfy all of the departmental requirements for the degree, but they are not required to fulfill general-education or University-wide course requirements. No University of Baltimore courses taken to complete the first bachelor’s degree can be retaken to complete the second bachelor’s degree.

Credits used to satisfy a first degree at the University of Baltimore may not be applied toward the 30-credit residency requirement for the second degree. In some cases, this policy may require the substitution of courses in the major, other than those specified by the second-degree program. Students interested in pursuing a second bachelor’s degree should consult with the appropriate program director before making a formal application through the Office of Transfer Admission and Community College Relations. Information about applying for a second bachelor’s degree may be found in the Admission section of this catalog.
INDEPENDENT STUDY
To meet student interests and need, programs within the College of Public Affairs offer independent study courses.

Students must obtain the permission of their program director before registering for an independent study course; the instructor supervising the independent study should also have agreed to the student’s enrollment.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE, BACHELOR OF SCIENCE
www.ubalt.edu/criminology
Kathleen Block, program director

FACULTY: Block, Pfeifer, Ross, Seabrook, Stanley, Wright
ADJUNCT FACULTY: Johnson, Kinlock, Mabrey

The undergraduate B.S. degree in Criminal Justice is administered through the School of Criminal Justice; the University of Baltimore is only the second institution in the nation to have both its undergraduate and graduate criminal justice programs certified by the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences. The key objective of the criminal justice program is to meet the educational needs of individuals planning criminal justice careers and those of individuals already enjoying criminal justice careers. The program is designed to build on and complement prior academic work and professional experience. The program integrates theory and practice in the study of crime and criminal justice.

The program’s coursework is designed to ensure that all majors develop a basic grounding in the substance and methods of the field while being provided with sufficient flexibility to pursue individual interests.

The criminal justice core encompasses surveys of the criminal justice system, criminological theory, professional studies, research design and analysis, and a capstone course integrates the materials from the other core courses in a special project completed by each student.

Area courses ensure that a student’s upper-level work in criminal justice includes at least one course focusing on each of the major components of the criminal justice system (law enforcement, courts and law, and correction) while minimizing possible course duplication with lower-division courses taken elsewhere.

Elective courses, which may focus on such subjects as prevention and comparative criminal justice systems, broaden the study of criminal justice beyond discussion of U.S. criminal justice systems. Other electives, focusing on such subjects as white-collar crime and victimology, provide in-depth analysis of specific topics and issues. The internship, required of pre-service students with no prior criminal justice internship experience, is designed to ensure that students experience direct contact with criminal justice operations while having the opportunity to explore career interests.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
See the Admission section of this catalog.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the major, all bachelor’s degree candidates are required to fulfill the collegewide degree requirements outlined under College of Public Affairs, Academic Policies and Information.

Information Literacy
Students in the B.S. in Criminal Justice program will meet the University of Baltimore Information Literacy requirement by successful completion of one of the following:

- IDIS 110: Introduction to Information Literacy
- CRJU 304: Criminal Justice Professional Studies.
General-Education Requirements (43 credits)
The state of Maryland requires all undergraduate students to complete a group of general-education courses as defined by the institution; students complete many of these prior to transferring to the University of Baltimore. General-education coursework to be transferred from a Maryland public institution will be evaluated according to the definition and grading standards of the institution at which the coursework was completed. At UB, general-education courses must be completed with a grade of C- or better and include:

- English Composition (3)
- Mathematics (3)
- Oral Communication (3)
- Literature (3)
- History or Philosophy (3)
- Fine Arts (3)
- Computer Literacy (3)
- Social and Behavioral Science 1 (3) *CRJU 200: Criminal Justice
- Social and Behavioral Science 2 (3)
- Biological and Physical Science
  - Laboratory course (4)
  - Non-laboratory course (3)

*denotes preferred general-education course

Students must complete three courses with a grade of C or better:
- WRIT 300 Advanced Expository Writing (3)
  completing WRIT 101 and either passing the writing placement test or successfully completing WRIT 200 required
- IDIS 302 Ethical Issues in Business and Society (3)

and one of the following:
- IDIS 301 World Cultures (3)
- IDIS 304 Arts and Ideas (3)
  required if no lower-level general-education course in fine arts

Criminal Justice Program Requirements (42 credits)
MATH 115 Introductory Statistics (3)
CRJU 200 Criminal Justice (3)

Core Courses (15 credits)
- CRJU 301 The Contemporary Criminal Justice System (3)
- CRJU 302 Criminal Justice Research Methods (3)
- CRJU 304 Criminal Justice Professional Studies (3)
- CRJU 306 Criminological Perspectives (3)
- CRJU 485 Advanced Criminal Justice Studies (3)

Area Courses (9 credits)

Law Enforcement
One of the following:
- CRJU 320 Police Administration (3)
- CRJU 420 Special Problems in Policing (3)

Courts and Law
One of the following:
- CRJU 330 Criminal Law (3)
- CRJU 430 Juvenile Justice (3)
CRJU 432 Criminal Courts (3)

Corrections
One of the following:
CRJU 341 Correctional Perspectives (3)
CRJU 441 Special Problems in Corrections (3)
CRJU 442 Community Corrections (3)

Major Electives (12 credits)
Students complete four 300- or 400-level CRJU courses, and they may select from among the Area Courses they did not complete as requirements. Students who have not worked in the field and have not previously taken a criminal justice internship must complete CRJU 490: Criminal Justice Internship as a discipline elective.

General Electives (35-36 credits)
IDIS 101 First-Year Seminar: Applied Learning and Study Skills (2)
transfer students replace this with a different elective
Students may take 11 additional courses from any discipline.

Accelerated Bachelor's/Master's Option (See page 44.)
Students who qualify may apply to take up to 9 graduate credits that apply to both this undergraduate degree and the M.S. in Criminal Justice. Contact the program director for information.

Law School Automatic Admit Option (See page 45.)
Qualified graduates of all UB undergraduate programs can be automatically admitted to the UB School of Law following their graduation through the University's Automatic Admit Option.

FACULTY: Koch, Tumosa
ADJUNCT FACULTY: Bailey, Cassidy, Lilly, Mabrey, Moore, Shegogue, Southall, Tress

The Forensic Studies program, offered by the School of Criminal Justice, incorporates science, criminal investigation and the law to provide a comprehensive understanding of the evidentiary process. This academic approach familiarizes students with the major components of the criminal justice process, from the investigation and collection of crime-scene evidence to its scientific evaluation and subsequent presentation in court. The program offers broad preparation in substantive areas of the field with the opportunity for an in-depth exploration of forensic science or police science.

Developed in partnership with the Baltimore Police Department, the curriculum includes theoretical and applied coursework. This partnership provides experiential learning opportunities with law enforcement and scientific personnel to produce graduates with the skills and experience needed to assume positions as either forensic science specialists or criminal investigators.
Students enter the Forensic Studies program from diverse backgrounds, contributing an array of skills and knowledge that enlivens the learning process. Students in the police sciences concentration are seeking employment in law enforcement or are pursuing a bachelor’s degree to advance in their field. They enter the program with coursework in criminal justice, the social sciences or general studies. The forensic science concentration attracts students who are searching for a way to apply their interests and background in science to a compelling, practical career. These students may have an associate degree in a physical science or have completed lower-level coursework in chemistry, physics and biology.

FACILITIES
The fields of forensic and police science are becoming increasingly sophisticated, with rapidly changing technologies accelerating this trend.

Students in the Forensic Studies program complete laboratory coursework in the University’s forensic laboratory, which features state-of-the-art instrumentation and serves as a reserve crime lab for the Baltimore Police Department. In this laboratory, students learn the basics of evidence collection, processing and analytical techniques. In addition, students work with professionals from local and federal agencies to gain a practical understanding of current investigative procedures and techniques. University facilities include a full law library that gives students access to a wide range of legal resources.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
Forensic Studies is a selective major with limited enrollment based on the space available. Applicants must meet the University’s general admission requirements as well as the following program-specific requirements:

- a cross-institutional GPA of 2.75 or better
- completion of COSC 100: Introduction to Computer Technologies or an equivalent transferable course; this course also fulfills a general-education requirement
- completion of the admission application process by:
  - June 1 for the fall semester
  - Nov. 1 for the spring semester.

Special consideration may be given to other applicants whose GPA is at least 2.5 and who have at least five years’ relevant professional experience. In these cases, a resume is required, and an interview with the program director may be requested.

Applicants who do not meet these criteria for admission (but do meet requirements for undergraduate admission) may select the B.S. in Criminal Justice program. If these students earn a cross-institutional cumulative GPA of 2.75 within 24 credits of admission to UB, they may petition for a change of major to the Forensics Studies program. If they wish to enter the forensic science concentration, they must also have met the sciences requirements (see below) at that time.

See also the Admission section of this catalog and specific information for concentrations below.

PRE-REGISTRATION REQUIREMENT
For either concentration, a background check and urinalysis must be completed prior to initial registration. Information about this requirement is sent with the letter of admission.

Degree Requirements are listed separately for each concentration.

FORENSIC SCIENCE
This concentration prepares professionals to work in laboratory settings on the scientific analysis of evidence and thus requires a strong background in the physical sciences. It includes the following prerequisite lab courses:

- Biology I
- Chemistry I and II
- Organic Chemistry I and II
- Physics I and II.
Forensic science concentration applicants must have completed at least five of these science courses with a GPA of 2.5 and have no science grade lower than C (2.0). Preference is given to students who have completed all seven science courses with the specified standards.

When a student is admitted without having met all science prerequisites, the time required to complete the degree will be extended by at least one semester.

Special consideration may be given to other applicants whose overall GPA is at least 2.5 and who meet the science requirements outlined here and who have at least five years of relevant professional experience. In these cases, a resume is required, and an interview with the program director may be requested.

Spring admission may prolong the completion of the degree by at least one semester because of the course scheduling sequence.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the major, all bachelor’s degree candidates are required to fulfill the collegewide degree requirements outlined under College of Public Affairs, Academic Policies and Information.

Information Literacy
Students in the B.S. in Forensic Studies program will meet the University of Baltimore Information Literacy requirement by successful completion of:

- IDIS 304 Arts and Ideas (3)
  - required if no lower-level general-education course in fine arts
Forensic Science Concentration Requirements (43 credits)

Core Courses (15 credits)
Because the work of police and forensic specialists overlaps, it is important for each professional to understand the vocabulary and procedures of the other. This understanding facilitates communication and fosters cooperation in work settings. The required foundation courses, taken by all students, provide this background. Specifically, the classes help students develop a basic understanding of science, investigation and the law.

John T. Willis, program director

FACULTY: Callahan, Darling, Haynes, Henderson, Naylor, Swaim, Thomas, Willis, Wilson-Gentry, Wyatt-Nichol
ADJUNCT FACULTY: Crites, McGrath, Payne, Wells

The undergraduate B.A. degree in Government and Public Policy is administered through the School of Public and International Affairs. The program focuses on political institutions and processes, with particular applications to Maryland government and politics. Students gain a strong foundation in government and public policy and their role in society.

A major in government and public policy offers students a broad-based education, which equips them to adapt to a wide variety of careers. This is particularly true for students seeking careers in state and local government, corporate public affairs, the federal bureaucracy, the foreign service and campaign management as well as in organizations that monitor political processes or seek to influence the content of public policy.

Government and public policy is also a solid undergraduate major for students preparing for law school. Although no one discipline can best prepare students for the legal profession, specific courses in government and public policy illuminate the critical relationships between law and politics. The program regularly offers courses in American political institutions, constitutional law, administrative law, judicial processes, civil liberties, political theory, public administration and international relations. Combined with other offerings in government and public policy, philosophy, history, economics, business and English, such courses establish a curriculum that provides the broad-based knowledge needed by persons entering the legal profession.

The B.A. in Government and Public Policy program allows students flexibility to develop their individual interests at the same time it emphasizes basic theories and methodological techniques. The approach to the study of governmental processes and public administration is applied, research-oriented and practical. Students have an opportunity to gain experience working in government agencies, political campaigns, court systems, legislative bodies and other related organizations through internships that provide academic credit.

National honor societies Pi Sigma Alpha and Pi Alpha Alpha provide opportunities for networking and fellowship through discussion groups, speaker series and an annual awards ceremony.

HEALTH SYSTEMS MANAGEMENT, BACHELOR OF SCIENCE
(available to students once they have completed a minimum of 56 credits; may require that additional criteria be met, and courses to fulfill this major may not be available during the day) www.ubalt.edu/healthsystemsmanagement
This program is also offered weekends at the Universities at Shady Grove (USG).
John J. Callahan, director
FACULTY: Callahan, Gillingham, Lyles, Molinari, Naylor, Spencer
ADJUNCT FACULTY: DiFranco, Dougherty, Gillanders, Huddleston, Kaelin, Richardson, Schneider

The Health Systems Management program is housed in the School of Health and Human Services and is offered in a face-to-face format during weekends at both the University of Baltimore campus and at the Rockville, Md., campus of the Universities at Shady Grove. Courses are offered in the fall, spring and summer semesters and are offered online as well as in the classroom.

This program is designed to provide the initial undergraduate education for professional careers in health services management. Health care administration education requires a strong liberal arts foundation to prepare health service managers for leadership roles in a complex, diverse and multicultural society. The program combines a classic liberal education along with conceptual and technical competence in the health systems management field.

Providing students with sound conceptual and practical knowledge of management skills is a key focus of health systems management. A general awareness of the interplay of social, political, economic, technological, cultural and environmental factors of health services management and administration is pivotal for both current and future managers. The program develops managerial knowledge, analytical ability and communication skills and graduates students who are technically competent and well rounded. In addition to preparing students for managerial positions in health services administration, this degree also qualifies them for entry into graduate and professional schools.

In accordance with the recommendations of the Association of University Programs in Health Administration (AUPHA), the curriculum specifically provides:

- an understanding of the organization, financing and delivery of health services within a multidisciplinary context
- an understanding and assessment of the health status of populations including determinants of health and disease and factors influencing the use of health services
- an understanding of the values and ethical issues associated with the practice of health services administration that will foster the development of ethical analysis skills
- opportunities for development of leadership potential
- experience in economics, financial policy, quantitative analysis, organizational theory and practice, human and information resources, assessment of organizational performance and knowledge of methods to ensure continuous improvement in the quality of services provided.

The Health Systems Management program is offered on Saturdays, and courses may also be taken online and during the week at the Baltimore campus. The curriculum can be completed in two years by students entering with an associate degree (A.A./A.S.) or 56 transferable credits. Registered nurses (RNs) and radiologic technologists (RTs) who are licensed in Maryland are awarded 60 transfer credits.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Those students applying to the program at the Universities at Shady Grove must have a minimum of 60 transferable credits, as opposed to a minimum of 56 credits otherwise. For more information, see the Admission section of this catalog.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the major, all bachelor’s degree candidates are required to fulfill the collegewide degree requirements outlined under College of Public Affairs, Academic Policies and Information.

Undergraduate majors must complete a minimum of 33 credits in health systems management. Students may take up to 6 nonclassroom contact credits in either HSMG 470: Individual Research or HSMG 492: Internship, or 3 credits in Individual Research and 3 credits in Internship.

Health systems management has no lower-division prerequisites.

HUMAN SERVICES ADMINISTRATION, BACHELOR OF ARTS
(available to students once they have completed a minimum of 56 credits; may require that additional criteria be met, and courses to fulfill this major may not be available during the day)
www.ubalt.edu/humanservicesadministration

FACULTY: Molinari, Parkman, Pearson, Spencer

Offered through the School of Health and Human Services, this program is designed to provide students with specific knowledge and practical skills in human services, within the context of a broad interdisciplinary liberal arts education. Focusing on the disciplines of sociology, psychology, and government and public policy, the curriculum is designed to meet the needs of both in-service personnel and those who contemplate a career in human service delivery. It affords in-service personnel an opportunity for increased professionalism, career advancement and higher education. For others, it offers pre-professional career preparation.

Students with an associate degree in human services should find this program particularly appealing; however, such associate degree programs are not a requirement for admission to this bachelor's program. This program was originally developed in cooperation with the Maryland Department of Human Resources.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
See the Admission section of this catalog.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the major, all bachelor's degree candidates are required to fulfill the collegewide degree requirements outlined under College of Public Affairs, Academic Policies and Information.

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES, BACHELOR OF ARTS
www.ubalt.edu/internationalstudies
Donald Haynes, program director

FACULTY: Botes, Gillingham, Haynes, Henderson, Hudgins, Kassner, Ross, Sheehan, Spencer, Swaim, Windmueller, Yi
ADJUNCT FACULTY: Robertson

This program, offered through the School of Public and International Affairs, takes a critical look at evolving global systems and introduces students to the importance of thinking and operating on an international level. Global interdependencies—social, economic and political—have powerful implications for local, regional and national entities, and those implications cannot be ignored. In turn, America has powerful impacts on the political, economic and cultural life in other countries.

Through this integrated, interdisciplinary major, students gain a comprehensive understanding of world affairs. They explore theoretical approaches to international relations as well as global history, cross-national politics, international organizations and law and international ethics.

Combining courses from the social sciences, history, philosophy and business, the program is ideal for those who want to equip themselves to lead in the global community. With this degree, students are prepared to analyze global conditions and work creatively in such fields as international business; local, state and national government; nongovernmental organizations (NGOs); the foreign service; international companies; and international and comparative research organizations.

MISSION
The Merrick School of Business is an AACSB International-accredited school committed to delivering a premier business education to our diverse student body. We provide a rigorous learning environment with a student focus, a regional commitment and a global perspective. We achieve our mission by:

• delivering a relevant and innovative curriculum in partnership with the business community
• attracting and supporting recognized faculty who are committed to excellence in teaching and research
• encouraging students, faculty and staff to engage in value-added service activities with business and the broader community for mutual benefit
• being a preferred source of graduates for business and managerial talent
• adhering to our core values of:
  o teaching excellence
  o quality scholarship
  o community engagement
  o appreciation for diversity o ethical conduct
  o collegiality.

ACCREDITATION
The Merrick School of Business is accredited by AACSB International—The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business, the accrediting body for schools of business (www.aacsb.edu). AACSB International accreditation is the mark of excellence in educational programs in business, awarded only when rigorous standards for courses, curricula, faculty and resources have been met. The University of Baltimore is also accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and recognized by the Maryland Higher Education Commission.

STUDENTS
Approximately 2,000 students are enrolled in programs in the Merrick School of Business. The average age of undergraduate students is approximately 30 years. More than 80 percent of students work full or part time. Our students are active learners who strive to polish their thinking and communication skills and apply them in a variety of professional environments. The interchange of ideas in the classroom is lively and highly informative.

FACULTY
School of Business faculty bring to the classroom exceptional professional and academic credentials. Ninety-six percent of the faculty possess a doctorate in their fields. In addition, School of Business faculty have professional certifications and extensive professional work experience with business, government or nonprofit organizations. Professors combine a dedication to teaching with significant research, professional and community service activities.

Not only do our faculty members adhere to the high-quality standards of teaching mandated by AACSB International accreditation, but their teaching efforts consistently rate exceptionally high on internal measures of teaching excellence.

FACILITIES
The School of Business is located within the William H. Thumel Sr. Business Center at North Charles Street and Mount Royal Avenue on the University of Baltimore campus. This six-story building features wireless Internet access and contains 16 classrooms, all of which are “smart rooms” featuring state-of-the-art display capabilities; five seminar rooms for small group discussion; a 200-seat auditorium with simultaneous translation capability; catering and meeting facilities; a student lounge; offices for the faculty and administration; and a computer lab for student use.

CENTERS AND INSTITUTES
The Merrick School of Business houses the following centers and institutes:
- the Entrepreneurial Opportunity Center
- the Information Systems Research Center
- the Jacob France Institute
- the Small Business Development Center.

GENERAL POLICIES AND INFORMATION
Admission and Transfer
Merrick School of Business students must meet all University admission requirements. A grade of D is transferable only if the school at which the course was taken accepts a D grade in fulfillment of general-education requirements. The student’s cumulative grade point average also must be 2.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale.

A maximum of 6 lower-level transfer credits may be applied to any specialization in the B.S. in Business Administration, the B.S. in Information Systems and Technology Management and the B.S. in Real Estate and Economic Development programs. Such courses can transfer only if the prerequisites, content and requirements are substantially the same as those of the courses required by the University of Baltimore.

Students seeking admission to the accounting specialization in the B.S. in Business Administration program must have a GPA of 2.25 or higher at the time of admission. Transfer credit is granted for courses equivalent to Principles of Accounting I and II when the student has grades of C (2.0 on a 4.0 point scale) or higher in those courses. A maximum of 6 lower-level transfer credits may be applied to the accounting specialization. A minimum grade of B- is required in ACCT 302: Intermediate Accounting II to be granted transfer credit.

Validation Requirement
Students are not required to repeat upper-division courses if the prerequisites, content and requirements are deemed by faculty to be substantially the same as those of similar courses taken at other institutions within the first 60 credits of their academic careers. At faculty discretion, students may be required to take advanced-level work in the discipline for which such courses serve as prerequisites.

Technology Proficiency Requirements
Students enrolling in undergraduate School of Business programs must have a working knowledge of Windows-based systems and basic functional competence with spreadsheets, word processing, e-mail and Web browsing. While in their program, students will attain levels of computer fluency that will permit them to make better use of information technology when doing research, processing information, communicating, solving problems and making decisions. These proficiencies are reinforced throughout the curriculum and provide a sound basis for lifelong learning and career enhancement.

Nondegree Student Status
For information about the admission of nondegree students, please see Nondegree Status in the Admission section of this catalog. Before admission, nondegree students registering for 300- or 400-level business courses must have written approval of the School of Business to register; contact the Merrick Advising Center for assistance.
Internships
Internships allow students to apply their education to real-world practice in their chosen field. Internships are typically part-time positions in which students work at least 120 hours over the course of a semester. Interns gain valuable experience, have the opportunity to obtain academic credit and may even get paid. The internship should be related to a student’s academic and career interests. Students may also earn academic credit for an internship experience. The School of Business offers an internship course in each discipline.

For more information, including a list of faculty internship advisers, forms required to receive academic credit and details on how to get started, please visit www.ubalt.edu/merrickinternships. Students should consult their guide to graduation and their academic advisor to determine how to integrate the internship course into their program of study.

Independent Study Policy
Independent study provides students with the opportunity to conduct individual work that is planned with a faculty member who helps set goals, develop a study plan and guide progress. Students are limited to a maximum of 6 independent study credits per degree program. To register for an independent study course, students must:

- consult with the Merrick Advising Center for degree applicability
- be within 30 hours of graduation
- have a minimum GPA of 3.0
- complete an Independent Study Form
- submit a two- to three-page proposal, approved by the faculty member responsible for the independent study and the appropriate department chair
- register for the appropriate independent study course.

Academic Advising
Academic advisement is available in the Merrick Advising Center, William H. Thumel Sr. Business Center, Room 142, with daytime and evening hours. Scheduled appointments are recommended (410.837.4944). Advisers provide information on School of Business programs, policies and procedures. Subsequent to admission, students are assigned an academic advisor for consultation throughout the program. All new students and students enrolling in business programs for the first time are required to meet with their academic adviser. They will receive a guide to graduation that includes a program checklist detailing all required courses. Students in the online program and who do not have access to the campus will be advised electronically.

Continuing students in good academic standing can register without an adviser’s signature and are responsible for meeting their own program requirements. Continuing students who must obtain advisement are:

- students changing their degree program or specialization
- students enrolling after an absence of more than two consecutive semesters
- nondegree-seeking students
- readmitted students
- students on academic probation
- students registering for an internship, independent study, or practicum course
- students requesting to take a course at another college or institution
- students reinstated after academic suspension.

Although an adviser can assist students in planning their academic program, the student is ultimately responsible for knowing and meeting curriculum requirements. Upon completion of 90 credits, students may contact the Merrick Advising Center to request a graduation evaluation.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Progress
A student who attempts 12 or more credits while enrolled in any Merrick School program and earns less than a GPA of 2.0 will be on academic probation. In this instance, the student must abide by University of Baltimore academic and financial aid policies on satisfactory and unsatisfactory progress. Please also see the Academic Policies section of this catalog.
Second Bachelor’s Degrees
Students who have previously earned a bachelor’s degree, at either the University of Baltimore or another accredited institution, may earn a second bachelor’s degree in a different degree program. Students must complete a minimum of 30 credits in residence at the University of Baltimore, applicable only to the second degree, and satisfy all of the departmental requirements for the degree, but they are not required to fulfill general-education or University-wide course requirements. No University of Baltimore courses taken to complete the first bachelor’s degree can be retaken to complete the second bachelor’s degree.

Credits used to satisfy a first degree at the University of Baltimore may not be applied toward the 30-credit residency requirement for the second degree. In some cases, this policy may require the substitution of courses in the major, other than those specified by the second degree program. Students interested in pursuing a second bachelor’s degree at the University of Baltimore should consult with the appropriate program adviser before making a formal application through the Office of Transfer Admission and Community College Relations.

Information about applying for a second bachelor’s degree may be found in the Admission section of this catalog.

ACADEMIC MINORS
Students who have completed 24 credit hours with a 2.0 cumulative GPA may declare a minor. A minor is a cohesive set of courses designed by faculty to provide students with an opportunity to cultivate skills and knowledge through concentrated study in an area that is not the major. Minors may focus on one discipline or may be interdisciplinary; they require 15-21 credits. Completing a minor is optional, and students should seek the guidance of an academic adviser when selecting a minor to understand how the minor requirements may be completed in conjunction with their degree.

For more information about minors offered and further requirements, see page 134. Please note that some minors may require a 2.5 cumulative GPA.

ACCELERATED B.S./M.B.A./M.S.
Undergraduate students of recognized academic ability and educational maturity may combine the requirements for an undergraduate business degree with those of a master’s degree in the School of Business. A maximum of 9 graduate credits, completed during the last 30 credits of undergraduate study, may be applied simultaneously to the requirements for both the bachelor’s and the master’s degree. Those interested should discuss their options with their academic adviser.

To be eligible for the Accelerated B.S./M.B.A./M.S., students must have a cumulative GPA of 3.5 in their undergraduate coursework completed at the University of Baltimore. To remain in the program, students must maintain a 3.5 GPA in their undergraduate course work and a 3.0 GPA in their graduate coursework.

Students must have the approval of the dean’s representative and must have an approved course plan prior to beginning the last 30 credits of their undergraduate degree.

Courses taken in the Accelerated B.S./M.B.A./M.S. will be determined by the School of Business and may not include independent study/research, directed study, thesis or internship courses. The undergraduate specialization in the B.S. program may be tailored to meet individual student needs. Changes in the program of study require the approval of the dean’s representative.

Students must be in continuous enrollment at the University of Baltimore for this agreement to remain in effect. Those who fail to maintain the eligibility requirements will be dropped from the accelerated option. Applicability (if any) of graduate courses to the undergraduate degree will be determined on an individual basis. Students should be aware that graduate courses applied to both undergraduate and graduate degrees at the University of Baltimore may not transfer as graduate credits to another institution.

Participation in the Accelerated B.S./M.B.A./M.S. does not guarantee admission to any University of Baltimore graduate program. Unconditional admission to the Merrick School of Business graduate programs requires an appropriate score on the Graduate Management Admission Test and a completed application. The completed 9 graduate credits may count toward any post-bachelor’s certificate or degree program if applicable. Applications for admission and payment of applicable fees to the graduate program must be made during the semester immediately prior to the completion of the credits required for the bachelor’s degree. Admission to the graduate program will be effective the semester after completing the credits for the bachelor’s degree.

LAW SCHOOL AUTOMATIC ADMIT OPTION

Students who graduate from a University of Baltimore undergraduate program with a cumulative cross-institutional grade point average of 3.35 or better as computed by the Credential Assembly Service and an LSAT score of 154 or better can be automatically admitted into the entering class of the UB School of Law following their graduation. Admission is for the fall semester only (note that the law school cannot make an admission decision until students have completed 75 credits of undergraduate coursework). Students should take the LSAT no later than February of the calendar year in which they would like to enter law school and submit their application for admission no later than April 1.

Note that if students answer yes to any section of Question 29 of the UB School of Law application, they are not eligible for automatic admission; instead, their application will be forwarded to the admissions committee for a complete review. Question 29 concerns information regarding academic and disciplinary probation, criminal offenses, civil suits and employment termination. The UB School of Law does not ensure acceptance into the full-time day program; students may be admitted to the full-time day program, the part-time day program or the evening program. The law school reserves the right to increase the grade point average and the LSAT score required on an annual basis.

LAW SCHOOL EARLY ENTRY OPTION

Available to students enrolled in the B.S. in Business Administration program, this option allows students’ first year of enrollment at the University of Baltimore School of Law to fulfill the requirements of their last year of undergraduate study. It requires a cumulative cross-institutional grade point average of 3.50 or better as computed by the Credential Assembly Service and an LSAT score of 155 or better. This option is available only if students are continuously enrolled at the University from their undergraduate major into their law school education.

To pursue this option, students must complete the 90 undergraduate credits required for their degree and complete a minimum of 36 credits at UB, excluding AP, IB, DANTES, CLEP or challenge examinations. The AACSB residency requirement states that students must complete 30 credits of upper-division core requirements at the Merrick School of Business. This includes all business core courses, with the exception of MGMT 475: Strategic Management. Students must complete all lower- and upper-division general-education requirements and apply to the UB School of Law. Admission is for the fall semester only (note that the law school cannot make an admission decision until students have completed 75 credits of undergraduate coursework). Students should take the LSAT no later than February of the calendar year in which they would like to enter law school and submit their application for admission no later than April 1. Note that students must apply for graduation during the last semester of their first year of law school to receive their bachelor’s degree.

If students answer yes to any section of Question 29 of the UB School of Law application, they are not eligible for automatic admission; instead, their application will be forwarded to the admissions committee for a complete review. Question 29 concerns information regarding academic and disciplinary probation, criminal offenses, civil suits and employment termination. Law school admission may be into the full-time day program or the part-time day program, as determined by the School of Law. The law school reserves the right to increase the grade point average and the LSAT score required on an annual basis. For more information about this option, contact the Office of Law Admissions at 410.837.4459 or lwadmiss@ubalt.edu.

For the complete list of requirements for the B.S. in Business Administration, see page 75. Students pursuing this option are required to complete all lower- and upper-division general-education and University requirements, business prerequisite courses and business core requirements, with the exception of MGMT 475: Strategic Management. Students should work closely with their academic adviser to ensure that all requirements are met.

HELEN P. DENIT HONORS PROGRAM

Visit www.ubalt.edu/honors for complete details on the honors program and its eligibility requirements.
The Merrick School of Business offers a Business Honors Program and an Accounting Honors Program. These programs are designed to produce leaders in business and accounting. They offer the opportunity for an enriched curriculum, small class sizes and exceptional internship opportunities. Students in these programs have the opportunity to interact closely with faculty and alumni in informal settings, visit employer sites on special Honors Program field trips and enjoy a streamlined application process for the graduate business programs in the Merrick School of Business. Honors students are also encouraged to participate in the accelerated B.S./master’s program.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS/HONOR SOCIETIES
The University of Baltimore maintains affiliations with many national honor societies, with membership usually based on superior academic achievement. In addition, the University also sponsors many clubs and supports affiliations with national organizations. Business students may find the following honor societies and clubs of special interest:
- Beta Alpha Psi (accounting, finance and information systems honor society)
- Beta Gamma Sigma (business administration honor society)
- Collegiate Entrepreneurs’ Club
- Human Resource Management Society
- Marketing Club
- Mu Kappa Tau (marketing honor society)

MSB REPEAT COURSE POLICY
Students are limited to three attempts to successfully complete all lower- and upper-division business core courses and specialization courses required by the degree program.

Graduation Requirements
Students must meet all University and Merrick School of Business graduation requirements and file for graduation no later than the beginning of their last semester (the exact date is specified in the academic calendar that is published for each semester).

SCHOOLWIDE DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
All School of Business bachelor's degree candidates are required to:
- complete a minimum of 120 credits that satisfy MHEC general education, business core and specialization requirements
- apply no more than 60 credit hours of community college work toward graduation, except in specific articulated programs
- earn a minimum grade of C- in all lower-level general-education requirements taken at UB and a minimum grade of C (2.0) in all upper-level general-education requirements
- earn a minimum grade of C in all lower- and upper-division business core requirements and all specialization courses required by the degree program (including courses that are regarded as business electives); some programs may have additional requirements or standards that are specified in the program requirements
- earn a minimum cumulative grade point average of C (2.0)
- earn their final 30 credit hours required for the degree at the University of Baltimore.

B.S. IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION DEGREE

PROGRAM GOALS AND LEARNING OBJECTIVES
Mission Statement: The goal of the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration at the Merrick School of Business is to produce students with the capacity to compete and be productive in today's complex business environment. The program will provide high-quality management education that develops the skills required to meet the diverse needs of employers in a variety of areas in business.

Specifically, as a result of the education they receive at the Merrick School of Business, our graduates will have:

Goal 1 – A Broad Knowledge of Business Disciplines: Students will obtain general knowledge and acquire proficiency in the key functional areas of business.

Goal 2 – A Global Perspective: Students will analyze international business environments and formulate global adaptation strategies.

Goal 3 – Effective Communication Skills: Students will demonstrate an acceptable level of written and oral communication skills.

Goal 4 – Analytical Thinking and Problem-Solving Skills: Students will demonstrate problem-solving skills, supported by appropriate analytical and quantitative techniques.
Goal 5 – An Ethical Perspective: Students will understand the importance of behaving ethically in their professional lives.

Goal 6 – Team Skills and Dynamics: Students will understand group and individual dynamics in organizations.

Goal 7 – An Understanding of Information Technology: Students will demonstrate competency in the use of technology.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
The requirements for the B.S. in Business Administration have been grouped into two categories: lower- and upper-division requirements.

Students who transfer from community colleges typically complete the lower-division requirements by following an articulated transfer program. All students’ transcripts are evaluated course by course to ensure the maximum transferability of courses taken prior to starting at the Merrick School of Business. Admitted students receive a transfer evaluation from the Office of Transfer Admission and Community College Relations.

There are 120 credit hours required for this degree as outlined below. The number of electives required is the number of credits needed to complete the 120-credit minimum requirement after meeting the specific course requirements. Below is a brief summary of general-education requirements. Please see page 35 of this catalog for further details.

Lower-Division General-Education Requirements (34 credits)
- English Composition (3)
- Mathematics (3)
- *MATH 111
- Literature (3)
- Oral Communication (3)
- *CMAT 303 or 201
- History or Philosophy (3)

  - Laboratory course (4)
  - Non-laboratory course (3)
- Social and Behavioral Sciences 1 (3)
  - *ECON 200
- Social and Behavioral Sciences 2 (3)
  - (other than ECON)
  - *denotes preferred general-education course

University Requirements (2-5 credits)
- IDIS 101 First-Year Seminar: Applied Learning and Study Skills (2)*
- Information Literacy (3)
  - *Transfer students replace this requirement with lower-level electives.
  - Students in the B.S. Business Administration program will meet the University’s information literacy requirement through successful completion (a grade of C- or better) of either IDIS 110 or INSS 300.

Upper-Division General-Education Requirements (6 credits)
- IDIS 302 Ethical Issues in Business and Society (3)
- WRIT 300 Advanced Expository Writing (3)
Lower-Division Business Core Requirements (24 credits)
- ACCT 201 Introduction to Financial Accounting (3)
- ACCT 202 Introduction to Managerial Accounting (3)
- BULA 151 Business Law (3)
- CMAT 303 Oral Communication in Business (or CMAT 201) (3) [CMAT]
- ECON 200 The Economic Way of Thinking (3) [SOSC]
- MATH 111 College Algebra (3) [MATH]
- OPRE 201 Introduction to Business Statistics (3) [MATH]
- OPRE 202 Statistical Data Analysis (3)

Upper-Division Business Core Requirements (31 credits)
Today’s managers need to keep pace with a continuously changing business environment. Each professional is equipped with a unique set of skills and experiences. The business core teaches the functional skills needed to navigate the ever-changing world of business. The course numbers are for courses taught at UB. These courses are required of all Business Administration students with the exception of students choosing the accounting specialization. The accounting core and competency courses are listed separately under the section for the specialization in accounting. Students transferring with an articulated A.A. or A.S. degree may have completed all or most of the prerequisite core.

- ECON 305 Managerial Economics (3)
- FIN 331 Financial Management (3)
- INSS 300 Management Information Systems (3)* [COSC]
- MGMT 301 Management and Organizational Behavior (3)
- MGMT 302 Global Business Environment (3)
- MGMT 315 Human Resource Management (3)
- MGMT 330 Personal and Professional Business Skills for Business (1)
- MGMT 339 Process and Operations Management (3)
- MGMT 475 Strategic Management (3) (This course is taken in a student’s last semester.)
- MKTG 301 Marketing Management (3)
- OPRE 315 Business Application of Decision Science (3)

*This course satisfies the computer literacy general-education requirement as well as the University’s information literacy requirement.

Specialization Requirements (12 to 21 credits)
A specialization allows students to tailor their degree program to their advantage, perhaps by completing their B.S. degree with a sampling of specified courses across business disciplines with a general business specialization or by choosing one of eight defined specializations, providing greater preparation in a particular area of business.

By completing the B.S. with a general business specialization, students can benefit if they prefer:
- to complete the B.S. online
- a more flexible/transfer-friendly option when transferring upper-level business credit earned prior to UB
- a faster track to specialize in graduate school while earning a broader undergraduate business degree
- a practical option for the generalist.

Alternatively, students can choose a defined specialization in accounting, computer information systems, finance, entrepreneurship, management, human resource management, international business or marketing.

Each specialization allows students to pursue an area of study in depth. The number of business elective credits required for each specialization varies from 12 to 21 credits. The maximum number of lower-level (200-level) courses that can count toward a specialization is 6.
Electives
The number of electives required is the number of credits needed to complete the 120-credit minimum requirement after meeting the specific course requirements. This number will vary and will be determined at the initial advising appointment.

GENERAL BUSINESS SPECIALIZATION
Students may choose a 15-credit customized specialization, in lieu of one of the more formal specializations defined below, by choosing courses that include at least the following:
- one course from each of three areas, denoted by different course abbreviation codes, e.g., ACCT, ECON, ENTR, FIN, INSS, OPRE, MGMT or MKTG
- two additional business electives
- approval of electives by the Merrick Advising Center.

The B.S. with the general business specialization provides students with a maximum amount of flexibility in terms of scheduling courses and taking their courses online in the School of Business' webBachelor's program as well as transferring from prior institutions.

ACCOUNTING SPECIALIZATION
FACULTY: Gaynor, Korb, Lynn, Sigler, Stiner, Tong, White, Williams

A maximum of 6 lower-level transfer credits, excluding Intermediate Accounting II (ACCT 302), may be applied to the Accounting Specialization. A minimum grade of B- is required in ACCT 302: Intermediate Accounting II to be granted transfer credit.

For prerequisites, refer to the individual listings in the Course Descriptions section of this catalog.

Upper-Division Business Core Requirements (28 credits)
- ECON 305 Managerial Economics (3)
- FIN 331 Financial Management (3)
- INSS 300 Management Information Systems (3)* [COSC]
- MGMT 301 Management and Organizational Behavior (3)
- MGMT 302 Global Business Environment (3)
- MGMT 315 Human Resource Management (3)
- MGMT 330 Personal and Professional Skills for Business (1)
- MKTG 301 Marketing Management (3)

*This course satisfies the computer literacy general-education requirement as well as the University's information literacy requirement.

Choose two of the following:
- OPRE 315 Business Application of Decision Science (3)
- MGMT 339 Process and Operations Management (3)
- MGMT 475 Strategic Management (3) (This course is taken in a student's last semester.)

Accounting Specialization Requirements (27 credits)
Required Courses (24 credits)
- ACCT 301 Intermediate Accounting I (3)
- ACCT 302 Intermediate Accounting II (3)
- ACCT 306 Cost Accounting (3)
- ACCT 310 Intermediate Accounting III (3)
- ACCT 317 Accounting Information Systems (3)
- ACCT 401 Auditing (3)
- ACCT 403 Advanced Financial Reporting (3)
- ACCT 405 Income Taxation (3)

Elective (3 credits)
Any 3-credit accounting course that is not required (ACCT 495 recommended)
COMPUTER INFORMATION SYSTEMS SPECIALIZATION
FACULTY: Aggarwal, A. Bento, Fowler, Mirani

Please note: Students interested in studying information systems in depth may also wish to consider the B.S. degree in Information Systems and Technology Management.

The computer information systems specialization provides the student with skills necessary to develop and support an information system in an organization. Students receive instruction in a variety of information technologies, including exposure to appropriate hardware and software design and selection and business issues related to technology. Students may choose electives from several advanced courses in information systems.

The University, with the cooperation of local businesses, has established internship and co-op programs with opportunities in the area of information systems. This program is highly recommended for all students who have no work experience in computer systems. A substantial number of students attending the University of Baltimore hold full-time jobs related to computer and information systems in many local business organizations.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP SPECIALIZATION
FACULTY: Lingelbach, Weiss, Woods

As corporate America continues to downsize, the need increases for entrepreneurial ventures to take over an ever greater portion of the nation's employment base and to create the bulk of new employment and new wealth. This trend is expected to continue well into the 21st century, resulting in a boom in new enterprises and in new ventures within existing organizations. Consequently, entrepreneurship is the fastest growing subject in business schools today.

The Baltimore-Washington, D.C., region has many features that encourage entrepreneurial activity. The combination of a highly skilled and educated work force, a vibrant economy and a strong technology base make this area attractive for new venture activities.
The specialization in entrepreneurship in the B.S. in Business Administration degree program empowers students to understand how the major elements of business—economics, finance, management, marketing, operations and accounting—are brought together to create value. The program is not limited to simply teaching students how to start a business; rather, it addresses the broader question of how to organize resources to capitalize on a market need.

Students enrolled in entrepreneurship complete four courses designed to sharpen their critical thinking and problem-solving abilities in areas important to the creation of new ventures. The specialization is truly an interdisciplinary experience that exposes students to relevant issues in accounting, management, marketing, economics and finance.

Entrepreneurship Specialization Requirements (15 credits)

FINANCE SPECIALIZATION
FACULTY: Chen, Ford, Isberg, Morse, Nguyen, Yu, Yunus

The finance specialization provides students with a solid foundation on which to build successful professional careers. Regardless of the student’s primary area of interest, an understanding of the financial forces and interdependencies in today’s world is essential for every graduate of a sound business program. Students need to acquire the tools necessary to make informed decisions and continue on a path of lifelong learning and intellectual development.

The first course in the finance specialization is designed to equip students with a working knowledge of the technical methods and tools of financial analysis, as well as provide them with the ability to design and implement professional-quality written, oral and electronic presentation of their results.

Upon successful completion of this program, students will have constructed a professional portfolio that demonstrates their ability to conduct analysis and present findings within their areas of interest in finance.

Students will be prepared for career opportunities with domestic and international corporations, financial institutions and both governmental and educational organizations. Specific areas of employment might include economic forecasting and analysis, bank management, capital investment analysis, security analysis, working capital management, portfolio management, real estate management and various other managerial and professional staff positions with financial institutions. The logical and rigorous arguments in finance also provide excellent preparation (in terms of skill and professional competency development) for graduate work or law school.

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS SPECIALIZATION
FACULTY: Mersha, Nielsen, Randolph, Sawhney, Sriram

The School of Business offers this interdisciplinary international business specialization in recognition of the increasing need for global awareness and expertise. Students first take Management 465: International Management to develop an analytical base for exploring the complex issues of international business. This course emphasizes the underlying rationale for trade, investment entry strategies and global management. Students then choose four courses to focus on more specific skills applicable to the international arena.

In addition to developing skills in international business, students gain a broader understanding of the environment in which global business is conducted by drawing on the resources of the University's College of Public Affairs and Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences.

International Business Specialization Requirements (15 credits)
For prerequisites, refer to the individual listings in the Course Descriptions section of this catalog.

ECON 409 International Economics (3)
MGMT 465 International Management (3)

Electives (9 credits)
Choose any three of the following courses:
FIN 433 International Financial Management (3)
INSS 431 Electronic Commerce (3)
MGMT 496 International Business Practicum (3)
MGMT 498 Global Field Study (3)
MKTG 407 International Marketing (3) approved electives (3-6 credits)*

* Students may choose up to two electives not specifically listed above, including MGMT 497: Special Topics in Management (for international internships and other special studies), or non-business electives from undergraduate courses offered through the College of Public Affairs and the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. Students must meet the prerequisites for each elective and obtain the approval of the international business student adviser, demonstrating how these electives would assist the student in achieving career goals.
The two programs in the field of management help students build the managerial knowledge and ability needed to operate in an international world of information, innovation and entrepreneurship. Students are exposed to concepts involved in the solution of human, organizational and business problems.

Nearly all activities in an organization involve some form of management of employees, finances, raw materials or information. Managers must be creative people who can motivate and guide others in the achievement of organizational goals. They are the leaders who establish departmental objectives consistent with the organizational mission or vision, develop plans and procedures, orchestrate the work of their human resources, foster teamwork and ultimately influence the productivity of their organizations.

These programs emphasize the importance of understanding the business environment and how it is affected by social, political and economic events and trends. Students learn the skills and responsibilities of management with a particular emphasis on the influence managers can exercise on changing conditions, productivity, morale and attitudes. Accordingly, the goal of the Management program is to teach the student to become an efficient, well-rounded manager who is capable of assessing the work situation, initiating proper action with sensitivity to workforce diversity and achieving objectives under a multitude of conditions in business and public enterprises. Clearly, the art and science of management is not restricted merely to job-related functions but also can be applied to everyday situations.

MARKETING SPECIALIZATION
FACULTY: Laric, Lynagh, Pitta, Patino, Richardson, Smith, Sriram

Marketing positions include advertising and promotions manager, account executive, market research manager, market analyst, product manager, transportation manager, sales representative and public relations officer. Marketing graduates work in business, industrial, government and nonprofit organizations. They design and manage programs that create and deliver a company’s products and services to its varied customers. Many nonprofit and government organizations use marketing techniques and strategies as an increasingly important aspect of their management and development.

To prepare students for rewarding careers, the marketing program blends theoretical and applied concepts in coursework and hands-on experiences involving case studies of marketing organizations.

B.S. IN INFORMATION SYSTEMS AND TECHNOLOGY MANAGEMENT
FACULTY: Aggarwal, A. Bento, Fowler, Mirani

This degree prepares students to become “core IT workers” in the digital economy of the new millennium. It builds on core knowledge of business and technology to deliver key competencies and develop specialized skills needed for successful information systems professionals.
Students will:

- learn how to manage information systems projects, including how to manage risk, calculate return on investment, assess a project as part of an overall IT portfolio, manage vendors and deliver IT as a service
- learn how to define business needs as information system requirements and design solutions to match the enterprise architecture
- learn systems, databases, networking, and Web and programming technologies and apply these technologies to develop solutions for business
- be able to work as end-user support, business analysts, system administrators, database analysts, network specialists, Web designers, webmasters or systems analysts and in many other jobs that are being created in today’s digital economy

This degree differs from the B.S. in Business Administration with a specialization in computer information systems in that it has less emphasis on business knowledge and more in-depth coverage of information systems technologies and management.

Program Goals and Learning Objectives

Mission Statement: The Bachelor of Science in Information Systems and Technology Management program at the Merrick School of Business delivers key business competencies and develops specialized skills needed for successful information systems professionals. It emphasizes the application of information systems technology to business and provides students with the knowledge and skills to enhance their job performance and allow for meaningful professional career advancement in the information technology area.

Graduates will have:

Goal 1 – Competencies in the Application of Technologies in the Development of Information Systems: Students will apply information systems technology to business.

Goal 2 – Effective Communication Skills: Students will demonstrate an acceptable level of written and oral communication skills.

Goal 3 – An Ethical Perspective: Students will understand the importance of behaving ethically in their professional lives.

Goal 4 – Team Skills and Dynamics: Students will understand group and individual dynamics in organizations.

B.S. IN REAL ESTATE AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT
FACULTY: Ford, Isberg, Yunus

Students in the B.S. in Real Estate and Economic Development will demonstrate:
- a basic professional competency in the vocabulary, concepts and tools of analysis needed by real estate professionals
- the appropriate communication skills used by real estate professionals; this skill set includes writing case analyses, memoranda, financial reports and market opportunity analyses citing accounting and other data
- the ability to access and utilize information available from a variety of online and electronic media, as well as the ability to use spreadsheets fluently to estimate forecasts, cash flows and appreciation
- analytical and critical-thinking skills by solving a variety of complex real estate-related problems requiring them to identify salient issues; obtain, screen and select relevant information and data; frame and conduct an analysis; and report findings and/or recommendations
- an ability to identify ethical issues and problems related to real property transfer and situations involving conflict, explain the impact on the conduct of business and society as a whole and articulate solutions in the context of an ethical model.

Program Goals and Learning Objectives
Mission: The goal of the Bachelor of Science in Real Estate and Economic Development program at the Merrick School of Business is to provide students with a rigorous education that prepares them for successful careers in real estate investment, commercial property development and/or management, mortgage banking, commercial lending and related fields.

Graduates will have:

Goal 1 – Real Estate Professional Competencies: Students will obtain and integrate knowledge and competencies of real estate professionals.

Goal 2 – Research Skills: Students will possess the research skills necessary to study issues in commercial real estate and economic development.

Goal 3 – Effective Communication Skills: Students will demonstrate the appropriate communication skills used by real estate professionals. This skill set includes writing case analyses, memoranda, financial reports and market opportunity analyses citing accounting and other data.
Goal 4 – Analytical Thinking and Problem Solving Skills: Students will demonstrate problem-solving skills, supported by appropriate analytical and quantitative techniques.

Goal 5 – An Ethical Perspective: Students will understand the importance of behaving ethically in their professional lives.

Degree Requirements
There are 120 credit hours required for this degree as outlined below. The number of electives required is the number of credits needed to complete the 120-credit minimum requirement after meeting the specific course requirements. Below is a brief summary of general-education requirements. Please see page 35 of this catalog for further details.

Lower-Division General-Education Requirements (34 credits)
- English Composition (3)
- Mathematics (3) *MATH 111
- Literature (3)
- Oral Communication (3) *CMAT 303 or 201
- History or Philosophy (3)
- Fine Arts (3)
- Computer Literacy (3) *INSS 300
- Biological and Physical Sciences
  - Laboratory course (4)
  - Non-laboratory course (3)
- Social and Behavioral Sciences 1 (3) *ECON 200
- Social and Behavioral Sciences 2 (3)
  - (other than ECON)
  - *denotes preferred general-education course

University Requirements (2-5 credits)
- IDIS 101 First-Year Seminar: Applied Learning and Study Skills (2)*
- Information Literacy (3)
  *Transfer students replace this requirement with lower-level electives.
  Students in the B.S. in Real Estate and Economic Development program will meet the University’s information literacy requirement through successful completion (a grade of C or better) of either IDIS 110 or INSS 300.

Upper-Division General-Education Requirements (6 credits)
- IDIS 302 Ethical Issues in Business and Society (3)
- WRIT 300 Advanced Expository Writing (3)

Lower-Division Business Requirements (24 credits)
- ACCT 201 Introduction to Financial Accounting (3)
- ACCT 202 Introduction to Managerial Accounting (3)
- BULA 151 Business Law (3)
- CMAT 303 Oral Communication in Business (or CMAT 201) (3) [CMAT]
- ECON 200 The Economic Way of Thinking (3) [SOSC]
- MATH 111 College Algebra (3) [MATH]
- OPRE 201 Introduction to Business Statistics (3) [MATH]
- OPRE 202 Statistical Data Analysis (3)
Business Fundamental Requirements (15 credits)
FIN 330    EXCEL for Financial Analysis (2)
FIN 331    Financial Management (3)
FIN 332    Financial Modeling and Communications (3)
INSS 300   Management Information Systems (3)* [COSC]
MGMT 330   Personal and Professional Skills for Business (1)
MKTG 430   Personal Selling (3)
*This course satisfies the computer literacy general-education requirement as well as the University’s information literacy requirement.

Real Estate Core Requirements (18 credits)
ECON 312   Public Economics and Land Use Policy (3)
FIN 471    Real Estate Finance (3)
REED 312   Real Estate Principles and Transactions (3)
REED 315   Real Property Law (3)
REED 475   Real Estate Market Analysis (3)
REED 480   Property Management (3)

Real Estate Program Electives (15 credits)
Choose two of the following:
CSCE 401   Economic and Community Development (3)
FIN 470    Real Estate Investments (3)
REED 495   Internship in Real Estate and Economic Development (3)
REED 497   Special Topics (3)

Choose three of the following:
ACCT 301   Intermediate Accounting I (3)
ACCT 302   Intermediate Accounting II (3)
CSCE 301   Introduction to Nonprofit Leadership (3)
GVPP 320   Public Administration (3)
GVPP 322   Bureaucracy and Public Policy (3)

GVPP 326   Urban Politics and Public Policy (3)
GVPP 348   State and Local Government (3)
GVPP 461   Maryland Government Processes and Politics (3)
HIST 382   History of Baltimore (3)

Additional Electives (15 credits)
An additional five elective courses in areas of the student’s needs and interests are required. Suggested areas are government, community studies and civic engagement, finance, accounting and marketing.
Elective courses must be approved by the program adviser.
INNOVATION, DISCOVERY AND ENRICHMENT
The Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences awards bachelor’s, master’s and doctoral degrees that encourage innovation and discovery and enrich the intellectual lives of the college’s students and faculty. Through interdisciplinary and discipline-based programs in the arts, humanities, and social and natural sciences, the college offers visionary, integrative learning and teaching environments enhanced with rapidly evolving information and communication technologies. Our graduates learn to be reflective, skilled communicators, adept at addressing contemporary problems within an ethical framework and able to adapt to a changing world. Well prepared for the world of work, our students become broadly informed and deeply engaged in local, regional and world communities.

The college was founded in 1937 as a junior college emphasizing the liberal arts. In 1961, it became a four-year institution offering day and evening classes; 1974 marked the introduction of its first graduate program. In 1975, it became an upper-division college and graduate school. Now that the University offers four-year programs, the college continues its commitment to offering a variety of unparalleled graduate programs and outstanding undergraduate programs.

In 1982, the College of Liberal Arts was named for Yale Gordon, a University of Baltimore alumnus and businessman who understood the central importance of the humanities in higher education and in the life of a community. With his wife, Peggy, he established the Peggy and Yale Gordon Trust, which supports organizations such as the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences that are dedicated to advancing the humanities. In 2010, the college was renamed the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences to reflect a strengthened, expanded foundation of general education and arts and sciences courses to enhance student success.

Although teaching and learning are of primary focus, the college places considerable importance on research and public service for both faculty and students. Theoretical and applied research among faculty members enhances the quality of our academic programs and ensures the competitiveness of our students and graduates in the workplace and beyond.

As a public institution, the college recognizes its responsibility to the state and to the Baltimore metropolitan area. The work of the Ampersand Institute for Words & Images; various specific projects undertaken in conjunction with enterprises like CityLit Project; a joint summer initiative with The Johns Hopkins University; and programs like Legal and Ethical Studies and counselor education have an impact on the growth and development of the community that reaches far beyond the campus borders.

DIVISIONS AND SCHOOLS
The college comprises four academic units: three divisions and a school. All units award bachelor’s and master’s degrees; some offer certificates and doctoral degrees. Each unit includes opportunities for interdisciplinary studies as a platform for cross-divisional innovation.

Division of Applied Behavioral Sciences
Deborah Kohl, interim division chair

John Bates, program director, B.A. in Psychology
Elaine Johnson, program director, M.S. in Applied Psychology
Courtney Gasser, program director, Certificate in Professional Counseling Studies

Educating students for life and for work, the Division of Applied Behavioral Sciences is committed to developing and offering educational and professional programs of the highest quality to meet the emerging needs of students, the community and the region. This division offers an undergraduate program (B.A.) leading to a degree in psychology; an accelerated B.A./M.S. option in psychology is also offered. It also offers a graduate program leading to a degree in applied psychology (M.S.)—with specialization tracks in counseling psychology and psychological applications. The division also offers a post-master’s certificate program in professional counseling studies, which prepares students for Maryland state and national licensure as licensed clinical professional counselors (LCPCs).

Division of Legal, Ethical and Historical Studies

Thomas Carney, division chair

Elizabeth Nix, program director, B.A. in Community Studies and Civic Engagement

Boram Yi, program director, B.A. in History

Deborah Kohl, program director, B.A. in Interdisciplinary Studies

Thomas Carney, program director, B.A. in Jurisprudence

Michele Cotton, program director, M.A. in Legal and Ethical Studies

Law, ethics and history are woven into our society. The Division of Legal, Ethical and Historical Studies offers undergraduate and graduate degree programs that examine these areas of study from various perspectives. It offers undergraduate programs leading to degrees in history, jurisprudence, and community studies and civic engagement (all B.A.) and a graduate program leading to a degree in legal and ethical studies (M.A.). Special emphasis is given to the study of ideas and ethics as well as to regional, economic and cultural studies. The division is closely affiliated with the University’s Hoffberger Center for Professional Ethics.

Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies

Deborah Kohl, division chair

Jeffrey Livermore, program director, B.S. in Applied Information Technology

Ronald Castanzo, program director, B.A. in Environmental Sustainability and Human Ecology

Vacant, program director, B.S. in Simulation and Digital Entertainment

Kathryn Summers, program director, D.S. in Information and Interaction Design, M.S. in Interaction Design and Information Architecture and certificates in Information Design and New Media Publishing

Focusing on three of the increasingly important STEM disciplines (science, technology and mathematics) and meeting the workforce demand for those who possess the knowledge and skills to practice them, the Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies offers academic programs designed for students with interests in science and computer-related areas and the mathematics that supports them. These interests range from information technology; usability studies; system development; and game, simulation and interaction design to environmental studies that encompass science, ethics and politics to the exploration of humans’ interactions with the planet. The division offers undergraduate programs leading to degrees in applied information technology (B.S.), environmental sustainability and human ecology (B.A.), and simulation and digital entertainment (B.S.). It also offers graduate programs leading to a doctoral degree in information and interaction design (D.S.) and a master’s degree in interaction design and information architecture (M.S.). It offers post-bachelor’s certificates in both information design and new media publishing.

School of Communications Design

Stephanie Gibson, executive director and division chair

Julie Simon, program director, B.S. in Corporate Communication

Virginia Kirby-Smith Carruthers, program director, B.A. in English

Vacant, program director, B.A. in Integrated Arts

Kendra Kopelke, program director, M.F.A. in Creative Writing & Publishing Arts

Edwin Gold, program director, M.F.A. in Integrated Design; director, Ampersand Institute for Words & Images

Stephanie Gibson, program director, M.A. in Publications Design
Making ideas public—that’s how the School of Communications Design defines its mission. Its programs blur the boundaries between creativity and practicality, between the humanities and the real world. It promotes learning as both a key to and a function of life and offers programs that examine the marriage of art and commerce, words and images and old and new media. The school encompasses the Ampersand Institute for Words & Images, which conducts research and in other ways promotes and supports the mission of the academic division of the school. The division offers undergraduate programs leading to degrees in corporate communication (B.S.), integrated arts (B.A.) and English (B.A.), which has four specializations: literature, creative writing, professional writing, and discourse & technology. It also offers graduate programs leading to degrees in publications design (M.A.), integrated design (M.F.A.) and creative writing & publishing arts (M.F.A.).

STUDENTS
The approximately 1,860 men and women enrolled in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences—about two-thirds of them in undergraduate programs—represent about 30 percent of the total University of Baltimore student population.

About 63 percent of the college’s undergraduate students are enrolled full time. Many of the remainder are already working in a wide variety of careers, and most of the college’s students—whether undergraduate or graduate, full time or part time—balance job, family and school responsibilities. Some students are seeking to advance their current careers while others are preparing to change careers. This diversity of age and experience is an important and invigorating part of classroom and campus life. Most classes take place in the evenings or on weekends. Student services are also available during evening hours.

FACULTY
College of Arts and Sciences faculty members are leaders in teaching, research, scholarship and service to the community. Full-time faculty members teach both graduate and undergraduate courses, conduct sponsored research, publish papers and articles and engage in public service as consultants, board members and volunteers. The college’s teaching faculty also includes a cadre of adjunct professors who are leading professionals in dozens of fields—from government to the arts, nonprofit organizations to businesses. These adjunct faculty members contribute in significant ways to creating and advancing professional applications of the arts and sciences. A number of the University’s administrative staff also serve as adjunct faculty members.

FACILITIES
Classrooms, laboratories and faculty offices for the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences are located in the Academic Center and in the Liberal Arts and Policy Building. The college shares the University of Baltimore’s Langsdale Library, Office of Technology Services and Academic Resource Center with other components of the University.

A gift of psychology Professor Emeritus William Wagman and his wife, Althea, the William and Althea Wagman Laboratory on the second floor of the Academic Center includes a sensory deprivation room, an individual testing room, a wet lab and a computer Intranet system. Division of Applied Behavioral Sciences students can use the lab for independent and classroom research.

Advanced laboratories in the School of Communications Design support student work in graphics and desktop publishing, electronic publishing, motion graphics, digital imaging, and audio/video studio production and post-production editing. Laboratories include high-end Macintosh computers; an extensive array of quality printers, including those for large-scale posters; CD/DVD-R burners for data, audio and/or video; and connections for digital cameras, camcorders, high-end, photo-quality scanners and other equipment. The multroom facility offers easy access to state-of-the-art software for desktop publishing; image creation, correction and manipulation; audio and video post-production; animation; and Web design.

Laboratories in the Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies support work in general and environmental science, PC and network administration, information security, hypermedia, game design, application development for mobile technologies and usability research. Facilities include a general science laboratory with 24 workstations, on the fourth floor of the Academic Center, which provides a hands-on environment for students to put their knowledge into practice. Several other labs support programming, network administration, information security, 3-D graphics, and computer game and application development. The information security lab provides students with access to networking hardware, including network switches, firewalls, intrusion detection systems and VPN servers. A specialized usability lab available for student research includes video and audio recording as well as the latest screen-capture and eye-tracking technologies. The school also operates several Internet servers that provide students with access to various server-side technologies, including software that supports multi-user applications and other tools for advanced electronic publishing.

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

• Applied Information Technology (B.S.)—available to students once they have completed a minimum of 56 credits; may require that additional criteria be met, and courses to fulfill this major may not be available during the day
• Community Studies and Civic Engagement (B.A.)
• Corporate Communication (B.S.)
• English (B.A. with specializations in literature, creative writing, professional writing and discourse and technology)
• Environmental Sustainability and Human Ecology (B.A.)
• History (B.A.)
• Integrated Arts (B.A.)
• Interdisciplinary Studies (B.A.)—available to students once they have completed a minimum of 56 credits; may require that additional criteria be met, and courses to fulfill this major may not be available during the day
• Jurisprudence (B.A.)
• Psychology (B.A.)
• Simulation and Digital Entertainment (B.S.)

Note: Descriptions of these programs follow Academic Policies and Information in the above-listed alphabetical order.

HELEN P. DENIT HONORS PROGRAM
Both faculty and students in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences participate actively in the Helen P. Denit Honors Program. See page 9 for a description of the honors program or visit www.ubalt.edu/honors.

University-Wide Degree Requirements
See the University-Wide Degree Requirements section of this catalog.

Collegewide Degree Requirements
All Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences bachelor’s degree candidates are required to:
• complete a minimum of 120 credits, including the specific requirements of their major, with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0
• apply no more than 60 credit hours of community college work toward graduation
• earn a minimum grade of C (2.0) in all courses required for the major, including courses that are regarded as electives in the major. Some programs may have additional requirements or standards, which are specified in the program requirements in this catalog.
• apply no more than 30 credits in business courses toward requirements for the bachelor’s degree
• complete the last 30 credit hours required for the degree at the University of Baltimore.

Note: Any deviation from the program requirements described in the catalog requires the written permission of the dean of the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences.
ACADEMIC MINORS

Students who have completed 24 credit hours with a 2.0 cumulative GPA may declare a minor, which is a cohesive set of courses designed by faculty to provide students with an opportunity to cultivate skills and knowledge through concentrated study in an area that is not the major. Minors may focus on one discipline or may be interdisciplinary; they require 15-21 credits. Completing a minor is optional, and students should seek the guidance of an academic adviser when selecting a minor to understand how the minor requirements may be completed in conjunction with their degree.

For more information about minors offered and further requirements, see page 134.

OPTIONS AND REQUIREMENTS FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS TAKING GRADUATE COURSES

Undergraduate students who have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.2 and who have completed at least 90 credits applicable to a degree (senior standing) may request enrollment in graduate courses as part of their undergraduate degree. Enrollment requires the approval of the directors of both the undergraduate and graduate programs in question. With this arrangement, undergraduate students are permitted to take a maximum of 6 credit hours at the graduate level, and these credits are applied strictly to the undergraduate degree.

Undergraduate students taking graduate courses being applied to an undergraduate degree pay usual undergraduate tuition. Consequently, all application and approval forms must be completed prior to registration.

ACCELERATED BACHELOR’S/MASTER’S OPTION

Undergraduate students of recognized academic ability and educational maturity may fulfill the combined requirements of the college’s bachelor’s and master’s degrees via a variety of accelerated bachelor’s/master’s options. This is different from applying to enroll in graduate courses as part of the undergraduate degree, as described above.

This accelerated option requires a minimum of 141 credits, depending on the requirements of individual programs. A maximum of 9 graduate credits, completed at the undergraduate level, may be applied simultaneously to the requirements for the bachelor’s and master’s degrees. In some cases, students may cross disciplines. Those interested should discuss their proposals with the appropriate program directors.

To be eligible for an accelerated bachelor’s/master’s option, students must have a cumulative 3.5 GPA; to remain in the program, students must maintain a 3.5 GPA in their undergraduate coursework and a 3.0 GPA in their graduate courses.

To take advantage of the option, students need the approval of the dean of the college and of the appropriate graduate and undergraduate program directors and must elect to take advantage of the option prior to beginning the last 30 credits of their undergraduate degree. Moreover, students must secure approval for participating in the option as special students in the appropriate graduate program and pay the applicable fees.

Students taking advantage of this accelerated option may register for up to 9 credits of graduate coursework during the last 30 hours of their undergraduate degree. The undergraduate and graduate program directors will select the appropriate graduate courses for each student upon election of the option. These courses may not include independent study or research, individual research, directed study, thesis, internship or practicum courses. Changes in the program of study require approval of both the undergraduate and graduate program directors.

Students must be in continuous enrollment at the University of Baltimore for this agreement to remain in effect. Those who fail to maintain the eligibility requirements will be dropped from the accelerated option. Applicability (if any) of graduate courses to the undergraduate degree will be determined on an individual basis. Students should be aware that graduate courses applied to both undergraduate and graduate degrees at the University may not transfer as graduate credits to another institution.

In addition to electing the accelerated bachelor’s/master’s option, a separate application for admission to the graduate program (including payment of applicable fees) must be completed during the final semester of the bachelor’s program. Admission to the graduate program must be effective the first regular semester after completing the credits required for the bachelor’s degree so that there is no break in studies.

GRADUATE PROGRAMS

Graduate Degree Programs
- Applied Psychology (M.S.)
- Creative Writing & Publishing Arts (M.F.A.)
- Integrated Design (M.F.A.)
- Interaction Design and Information Architecture (M.S.)
- Legal and Ethical Studies (M.A.)
- Publications Design (M.A.)

Graduate Certificate Programs
- Information Design
- New Media Publishing
- Professional Counseling Studies

Doctoral Degree Program
- Information and Interaction Design (D.S.)

LAW SCHOOL AUTOMATIC ADMIT OPTION
Students who graduate from a University of Baltimore undergraduate program with a cumulative cross-institutional grade point average of 3.35 or better as computed by the Credential Assembly Service and an LSAT score of 154 or better can be automatically admitted into the entering class of the UB School of Law following their graduation.

Admission is for the fall semester only (note that the law school cannot make an admission decision until students have completed 75 credits of undergraduate coursework), and a completed application must be submitted by April 1. Students should take the LSAT no later than February of the calendar year in which they would like to enter law school.

Note that if students answer yes to any section of Question 29 of the UB School of Law application, they are not eligible for automatic admission; instead, their application will be forwarded to the admissions committee for a complete review. Question 29 concerns information regarding academic and disciplinary probation, criminal offenses, civil suits and employment termination.

The UB School of Law does not ensure acceptance into the full-time day program; students may be admitted to the full-time day program, the part-time day program or the evening program.

The law school reserves the right to increase the grade point average and the LSAT score required on an annual basis.

For more information about this option, contact the Office of Law Admissions at 410.837.4459 or lwadmiss@ubalt.edu.

LAW SCHOOL EARLY ENTRY OPTION
Available to students enrolled in the B.A. in History or B.A. in Jurisprudence programs, this option allows students’ first year of enrollment at the University of Baltimore School of Law to fulfill the requirements of their last year of undergraduate study. It requires a cumulative cross-institutional grade point average of 3.50 or better as computed by the Credential Assembly Service and an LSAT score of 155 or better. This option is available only if students are continuously enrolled at the University from their undergraduate major into their law school education.

To pursue the option, students must complete the 93 undergraduate credits required for their degree and complete a minimum of 33 credits at UB, excluding AP, IB, DANTES, CLEP or challenge examinations. Students must complete all lower- and upper-division general-education requirements and apply to the UB School of Law. Admission is for the fall semester only (note that the law school cannot make an admission decision until students have completed 75 credits of undergraduate coursework), and a completed application must be submitted by April 1. Students should take the LSAT no later than February of the calendar year in which they would like to enter law school.

Note that students must apply for graduation during the last semester of their first year of law school to receive their bachelor’s degree.

If students answer yes to any section of Question 29 of the UB School of Law application, they are not eligible for early entry; instead, their application will be forwarded to the admissions committee for a complete review. Question 29 concerns information regarding academic and disciplinary probation, criminal offenses, civil suits and employment termination.

Law school admission may be into the full-time day program or the part-time day program, as determined by the School of Law.

The law school reserves the right to increase the grade point average and the LSAT score required on an annual basis.

For more information about this option, contact the Office of Law Admissions at 410.837.4459 or lwadmiss@ubalt.edu.

For more detailed information about B.A. in History requirements, see page 110; for B.A. in Jurisprudence requirements, see page 122.

SECOND BACHELOR’S DEGREES

Students who have previously earned a bachelor’s degree, at either the University of Baltimore or another accredited institution, may earn a second bachelor’s degree in a different degree program. Students must complete a minimum of 30 credits in residence at the University of Baltimore, applicable only to the second degree, and satisfy all of the departmental requirements for the degree, but they are not required to fulfill general-education or University-wide course requirements. No University of Baltimore courses taken to complete the first bachelor’s degree can be retaken to complete the second bachelor’s degree.

Credits used to satisfy a first degree at the University of Baltimore may not be applied toward the 30-credit residency requirement for the second degree. In some cases, this policy may require the substitution of courses in the major, other than those specified by the second-degree program. Students interested in pursuing a second bachelor’s degree should consult with the appropriate program director before making a formal application through the Office of Transfer Admission and Community College Relations. Information about applying for a second bachelor’s degree may be found in the Admission section of this catalog.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

Students may pursue independent research with faculty members through independent or directed study courses. Each academic discipline within the College of Arts and Sciences offers an independent study course that is described in the appropriate course description section of this catalog. Students must obtain permission of their program director and the supervising faculty member before registering for an independent study course.

APPLIED INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY, BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

(available to students once they have completed a minimum of 56 credits; may require that additional criteria be met, and courses to fulfill this major may not be available during the day)

www.ubalt.edu/ait

Jeffrey Livermore, program director
FACULTY: Ketel, Livermore, Wright Brown
ADJUNCT FACULTY: Bergkvist, Brown, Carpeneto, Spencer

The B.S. degree in Applied Information Technology is offered by the Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies. The degree program is rooted in computer science—centered around microcomputers and server-based computing—and focuses on the details of how computer technology works. The curriculum provides a solid academic foundation in networking, desktop and server-based applications.
development, website development and support, and information security, while also preparing students for valuable information-technology industry certifications in these areas.

Although earning an industry certification is not a program requirement, students are encouraged to sit for at least one certification exam in parallel with the bachelor’s degree. A certification may require the student to pass several industry-administered exams.

FACILITIES
The Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies maintains several PC labs supporting programming, network administration, information security, 3-D graphics and computer game development.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
See the Admission section of this catalog.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the major, all bachelor’s degree candidates are required to fulfill the collegewide degree requirements outlined under Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, Academic Policies and Information.

Information Literacy
Students in the B.S. in Applied Information Technology program will meet the University of Baltimore Information Literacy requirement by successful completion of one of the following:

- IDIS 110 Introduction to Information Literacy
- COSC 324 Designing for Humans

Applied Information Technology students are expected to complete MATH 111: College Algebra at the University of Baltimore if they have not completed an equivalent course at another institution. MATH 111 also fulfills the lower-division general-education mathematics requirement. Students are also expected to have successfully completed at least one course in each of the following:

- microcomputer maintenance and troubleshooting
- basics of Web authoring with HTML/CSS
- general elements of computer programming (using any language)
- introduction to Visual Basic programming.

The program director may require students who have not done so to take one or more of these courses at UB.

General-Education Requirements (43 credits)
The state of Maryland requires all undergraduate students to complete a group of general-education courses as defined by the institution; students complete many of these prior to transferring to the University of Baltimore. General-education coursework to be transferred from a Maryland public institution will be evaluated according to the definition and grading standards of the institution at which the coursework was completed. At UB, general-education courses must be completed with a grade of C- or better and include:

- English Composition (3)
- Mathematics (3) *MATH 111: College Algebra
- Oral Communication (3)
- Literature (3)
- History or Philosophy (3)
- Fine Arts (3)
- Computer Literacy (3)
- Social and Behavioral Science 1 (3)
Social and Behavioral Science 2 (3)
Biological and Physical Science
   Laboratory course (4)
   Non-laboratory course (3)
*denotes required general-education course

Students must complete three courses with a grade of C or better:
WRIT 300 Advanced Expository Writing (3) completing WRIT 101 and either passing the writing placement test or successfully completing WRIT 200 required
IDIS 302 Ethical Issues in Business and Society (3)

and one of the following:
IDIS 301 World Cultures (3)
IDIS 304 Arts and Ideas (3)
   required if no lower-level general-education course in fine arts

Applied Information Technology Requirements (39 credits)

Information Technology Core (30 Credits)

Networking Module (9 credits)
COSC 305 Networking: Theory and Application (3)
COSC 307 Administering and Supporting a Network Operating System (3)
COSC 401 The TCP/IP Protocol Suite (3)

COSC 310 Computer Programming II (3)
COSC 403 Advanced and Object-Oriented Programming (3)
COSC 425 Database Design and Implementation (3)

Web Development and Security Module (9 credits)
COSC 416 Advanced Web Development (3)
COSC 432 Information Assurance (3)
COSC 433 Network Security (3)

Capstone (3 credits)
COSC 490 Practicum in Information Technology (3)

Other Requirements (6 credits)
MATH 321 Mathematical Structure for Information Technology (3)
COSC 324 Designing for Humans (3)

Major Elective (3 credits)
one course from among COSC, CMAT or INSS courses

General Electives (39 credits)
Students may take 13 courses from any University discipline.

Accelerated Bachelor’s/Master’s Option (See page 92.)
Students who qualify may apply to take up to 9 graduate credits that apply to both this undergraduate degree and the M.S. in Interaction Design and Information Architecture. Contact the program director for information.
Law School Automatic Admit Option (See page 93.)
Qualified graduates of all UB undergraduate programs can be automatically admitted to the UB School of Law following their graduation through the University’s Automatic Admit Option.

Transfer Program
General education: 43
Major requirements: 39
General electives: 39
Total for degree: 121

COMMUNITY STUDIES AND CIVIC ENGAGEMENT, BACHELOR OF ARTS

www.ubalt.edu/communitystudies

FACULTY: Elfenbein, Henderson, Nix, Shorr, Weiss
ADJUNCT FACULTY: Aydokovich, Crouch, Gamber, McNeely, Pearl, Stein, Victorson

The B.A. in Community Studies and Civic Engagement program is administered by the Division of Legal, Ethical and Historical Studies. An undergraduate degree in community studies and civic engagement prepares committed students to work to improve their communities. In their coursework, students move beyond the boundaries of the University to discover trends and practices for initiating innovations in social, political and economic spheres. This interdisciplinary program encompasses courses in entrepreneurship, history, communication, philosophy, government, economics, accounting, and negotiations and conflict management.

Through a variety of courses, internships and co-curricular activities, students explore the historical and philosophical foundations of the nonprofit sector. Service-learning components provide opportunities to develop skills in resource and program development, strategic communication, organizational accountability, volunteer recruitment, human resource management and social entrepreneurship. Students benefit from courses taught by professor/practitioners who are experts in philanthropy and nonprofit organizations. Students also complete a capstone experience based on a semester-long internship with a community-serving nonprofit organization. Upon graduation, they will have completed at least 300 hours of experiential learning.

Students are eligible to earn certification in nonprofit management. Certification offers students numerous opportunities to experience diverse co-curricular activities, participate in professional development training and compete for scholarships. Students planning to work in the nonprofit sector will benefit from certification and will have a competitive edge in a growing profession.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
See the Admission section of this catalog.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the major, all bachelor’s degree candidates are required to fulfill the collegewide degree requirements outlined under Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, Academic Policies and Information.

Information Literacy
Students in the B.A. in Community Studies and Civic Engagement program will meet the University of Baltimore Information Literacy requirement by successful completion of one of the following:

- IDIS 110 Introduction to Information Literacy
- CSCE 301 Introduction to Nonprofit Leadership
General-Education Requirements (43 credits)
The state of Maryland requires all undergraduate students to complete a group of general-education courses as defined by the institution; students complete many of these prior to transferring to the University of Baltimore. CORPORATE COMMUNICATION, BACHELOR OF SCIENCE www.ubalt.edu/corporatecommunication

FACULTY: Carr, Carruthers, Cortese, Delury, Fitz, Fox, Friskey, Gibson, Justice, K. Kopelke, Matanle, Pointer, Shorr, Simon, Smith, Verville, Wilson, Winik, Yarrison
WRITER IN RESIDENCE: Magida

The Corporate Communication program—housed in the Division of English & Communications Design in the School of Communications Design—leads to the Bachelor of Science degree. The program prepares students for positions in government, private industry and the nonprofit sector as specialists in the presentation of information: writing, graphic design, website and Internet design and video production. The program is designed for people who are entering freshmen or transferring from community colleges and four-year schools as well as for working professionals who want to develop their communication skills further, either for continued advancement in their present careers or as preparation for a career change. Students enter the program from a variety of backgrounds, including production areas such as photography, video and graphic design as well as business, English and other humanities disciplines. Once in the program, students broaden their information and skills base. Moving from a foundation of communication theory, students examine and analyze the components of the communication process (message content, audiences and media) and the learning process (social learning and modeling, conditioning and reinforcement).

They understand the strengths and weaknesses of a variety of communication media, from print and video to computer graphics, Web animation, podcasting, social media and the Internet. They graduate with a working knowledge of how to use these media to communicate effectively and responsibly specific information to specific audiences.

FACILITIES

School of Communications Design facilities include state-of-the-art Macintosh laboratories in the Liberal Arts and Policy Building. Students have access to digital HD video cameras and digital audio recorders; industry-standard software for desktop publishing; applications for image creation, correction and manipulation; audio and video post-production; animation and Web design.

ENGLISH, BACHELOR OF ARTS

www.ubalt.edu/english

Virginia Kirby-Smith Carruthers, program director

WRITER IN RESIDENCE: Magida

ADJUNCT FACULTY: Barry, Gibbons, Hutchinson, Messick, Toran, Turtle, Weber, Weissman, Wilhelm

The B.A. in English is housed in the Division of English & Communications Design within the School of Communications Design. Students majoring in English choose from among four specializations: literature, creative writing, professional writing and discourse & technology. Sharing a core of four courses, all specializations emphasize the development of the critical thinking and communication skills that are necessary for success both in the world of work and in the pursuit of advanced degrees. The major prepares its students for positions in publications and communications (media production, graphic design, electronic publishing, writing, editing and public relations, for example) and provides a sound basis for graduate work in areas such as literature, rhetoric, creative writing and the law.

Extracurricular opportunities for English majors include Sigma Tau Delta (the national English honor society), the literary magazine Welter and the University newspaper, the UB Post. The division is also affiliated with the Edgar Allan Poe Society of Baltimore and the literary journal Passager.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

See the Admission section of this catalog.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the major, all bachelor’s degree candidates are required to fulfill the collegewide degree requirements outlined under Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, Academic Policies and Information.

Transfer students may apply up to 9 credits of 200-level courses in literature taken elsewhere to count toward the 36 credits required for the program. For students transferring with 300- and 400-level courses, at least 18 credits in the program must be taken at the University of Baltimore. Any special exceptions to these requirements must have the permission of both the division chair and the dean of the college. The literature specialization has no lower-division prerequisites.

Information Literacy
Students in the B.A. in English program will meet the University of Baltimore Information Literacy requirement by successful completion of one of the following:

- IDIS 110 Introduction to Information Literacy
- ENGL 498 Seminar in English: The Modern Tradition.

General-Education Requirements (43 credits)

ENGL 442 The Victorian Paradox (3)
ENGL 450 The Great Moderns (3)

Also take:
ENGL 364 Shakespeare: Kings, Knaves & Fools (3) or ENGL 365: Shakespeare: Love, Myth & Metamorphosis (3)
ENGL 498 Seminar in English: The Modern Tradition (3)
any 300- or 400-level CMAT, ENGL or WRIT course (3)

Specializations (24 credits)
Students complete one of the following specializations.

LITERATURE SPECIALIZATION
The literature specialization fosters critical thinking and interpretive skills that will serve graduates well in a variety of careers, among them teaching and the practice of law. Students choose from a wide array of courses that focus on topics such as literary genres, major writers, historical or cultural contexts, and recurrent themes that stress the importance of close reading and clear analytical writing. They may also elect courses in creative or professional writing or in media studies. With the approval of the program director, they may undertake an independent study or an honors project.
ENGL 397 Reading Strategies (3)
two additional Period & Context courses (6) three additional 300- or 400-level ENGL courses (9)
two additional 300- or 400-level ENGL, WRIT or CMAT courses (6)

PROFESSIONAL WRITING SPECIALIZATION
The professional writing specialization prepares students to be versatile, adaptable writers and editors in a variety of settings within the corporate and nonprofit worlds. Through coursework in areas such as public relations writing, writing for the media, copyediting and document design, and desktop publishing—often taught by practicing professionals—they develop a repertoire of skills to draw upon in the required internship that may serve as a gateway to a career after graduation. Students who are interested in expanding their career options may elect courses in graphic or electronic design offered through the Corporate Communication program.
CMAT 211 Computer Graphics: Publishing (3)
WRIT 330 Writing, Editing & Publishing (3)
WRIT 380 Syntax, Semantics & Style (3)
WRIT 407 Internship in Professional Writing (3)
WRIT 430 Copyediting & Document Design (3) three additional 300- or 400-level courses appropriate to the professional writing specialization (9)

CREATIVE WRITING SPECIALIZATION
The creative writing specialization brings together writers of fiction, poetry and literary nonfiction in small workshop classes conducted by faculty who have a strong record of publication in these genres. Literature courses in short story, modern poetry and contemporary literature expose the students to the work of established writers who may serve as models or sources of inspiration. In addition, creative writers are encouraged to attend readings by accomplished contemporary writers sponsored by the University’s M.F.A. in Creative Writing & Publishing Arts program. In the required WRIT 401: Publication and Performance course, all majors collaborate in editing and producing the University’s literary magazine, Welter.
WRIT 401 Publication & Performance (3)
two additional 300- or 400-level ENGL, WRIT or CMAT courses (6)

Two of the following:
ENGL 315 The Short Story (3)
ENGL 316 Modern Poetry (3)
ENGL 320 Contemporary Literature (3)

Three of the following:
WRIT 315 The Art of Memoir (3)
WRIT 318 Creative Writing Workshop: Poetry (3)
WRIT 319 Creative Writing Workshop: Fiction (3)
WRIT 363 Creative Writing Workshop: Screenwriting (3)

DISCOURSE & TECHNOLOGY SPECIALIZATION
Students in the discourse & technology specialization explore how technology affects our society and culture and shapes forms of expression. At the same time, they acquire a well-defined set of marketable skills. Core courses develop media literacy and an understanding of the nature of language and the role that narrative, both visual and verbal, plays in communication strategies. Each student selects a cluster of courses in media production, graphic design or professional writing, courses that are specifically designed to prepare for careers in visual or verbal communication, and completes either an independent project or internship. Graduates of this specialization often continue their studies in the University's master's program in Publications Design.
CMAT 352 Media Literacy (3)
ENGL 392 The Archaeology of Language (3)
ENGL 395 Narrative Discourse: Cross-Media Comparison (3)

Directed Project or Internship
One of the following:
WRIT 407 Internship in Professional Writing (3)
WRIT 489 Directed Independent Study (3)

Application Requirement
With the advice and consent of their adviser, students choose four related courses from one or more of these application areas:

Media Production
CMAT 369 Digital Video (3)
CMAT 451 Communication Technologies (3)
CMAT 456 Multimedia Design & Production (3)
CMAT 469 Advanced Audio/Video Production (3)

Graphic Design
CMAT 211 Computer Graphics: Publishing (3)

ENVIRONMENTAL SUSTAINABILITY AND HUMAN ECOLOGY, BACHELOR OF ARTS
www.ubalt.edu/environmental

Ronald Castanzo, program director
FACULTY: Bhattacharyya, Castanzo, Gerlowski, Haynes, Kassner, Kemp, Kohl, Pecher, Wells

Students in the environmental sustainability and human ecology program study—often through hands-on learning—the interrelationships of people and their environment from scientific, social, ethical and public policy perspectives.

From a science perspective, they gain a solid understanding of environmental science terminology, concepts and techniques. They explore the diversity of life and ecosystems of the world, and they participate in hands-on study of the Chesapeake Bay and its watershed. Students also study the effects of urban center growth on local ecosystems and focus on the concept of sustainable development.

Adding social sciences to the mix, students gain a cross-cultural perspective on how human populations adapt technologically, socially and psychologically to their environments and how people alter the living and nonliving worlds around them.

Combining this with policy studies, students learn how environmental public policy is formulated, how it affects the health of the environment and how it’s shaped by ecological considerations. They also examine the ethical and legal implications of the use, treatment and potential destruction of the natural environment.

When they graduate, students are prepared to deal with the real problems facing communities worldwide, from Baltimore to cities in the developing world. They go on to work in fields as varied as environmental compliance, permitting, environmental hygiene, environmental interpretation, education, environmental consulting, government and the nonprofit sector.
FACILITIES
On the fourth floor of the Academic Center, a general science laboratory with 24 workstations provides a hands-on environment for students to put their knowledge into practice. On the second floor of the same building, the environmental research laboratory contains equipment and materials that allow environmental science faculty and students to investigate local ecosystems at molecular, microscopic and organismal levels.

HISTORY, BACHELOR OF ARTS
www.ubalt.edu/history

Boram Yi, program director
FACULTY: Carney, Etheridge, Hudgins, Nix, Sawyer, Yi
ADJUNCT FACULTY: Drake, Moore, Reilly, Singer

The B.A. degree in History is administered through the Division of Legal, Ethical and Historical Studies. The History program provides students with a broad background in the humanities. It sharpens the analytical and communication skills necessary for advanced training and career development. As such, it has thrived as one of the traditional programs of study for students who go on to careers in law, government, business, education, nonprofit organizations and other professions.

The program is also designed for students who wish to pursue graduate work in the humanities, social sciences or other professional fields. The program is a flexible one. It includes basic coverage or period courses in American, Asian and European history, plus more specialized thematic courses in the history of law, business and ideas.

In addition, students may select the program’s specialization in public history leading to a B.A. in History with a specialization in public history. Public history is the professional application of historical methods, skills, research and presentation in settings outside the classroom. Public historians work in museums, archives, government agencies, historical societies, living history sites, preservation groups, businesses and nonprofit organizations of all kinds, either independently or in partnership with academic institutions. Students in the public history specialization combine standard history coursework with public history courses, seminars, independent research and an internship designed to introduce them to various specialties within the field as they gain practical experience in a variety of professional settings where historians work. The public history specialization requires 15 credits, including a foundation course on local history, two public history core courses and two specialized electives.

There are also plenty of opportunities for directed research through independent studies, internships at local historical agencies or museums, and a senior seminar. Moreover, students working on such projects find easy access to some of the best archival and other resources in the greater Baltimore region.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
See the Admission section of this catalog.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the major, all bachelor’s degree candidates are required to fulfill the collegewide degree requirements outlined under Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, Academic Policies and Information.

A maximum of 6 transfer credits in history, taken at the 200 level or above, can be applied to the history major with the approval of the program director.

History has no lower-division prerequisites.
Information Literacy
Students in the B.A. in History program will meet the University of Baltimore Information Literacy requirement by successful completion of one of the following:

- IDIS 110 Introduction to Information Literacy
- HIST 300 Exploring the Past.

General-Education Requirements (43 credits)
The state of Maryland requires all undergraduate students to complete a group of general-education courses as defined by the institution; students complete many of these prior to transferring to the University of Baltimore. General-education coursework to be transferred from a Maryland public institution will be evaluated according to the definition and grading standards of the institution at which the coursework was completed. At UB, general-education courses must be completed with a grade of C- or better and include:

- English Composition (3)
- Mathematics (3)
- Oral Communication (3)
- Literature (3)
- History or Philosophy (3)
- Fine Arts (3)
- Computer Literacy (3)
- Social and Behavioral Science 1 (3)
- Social and Behavioral Science 2 (3)
- Biological and Physical Science
  - Laboratory course (4)
  - Non-laboratory course (3)

Students must complete three courses with a grade of C or better:
- WRIT 300 Advanced Expository Writing (3) completing WRIT 101 and either passing the writing placement test or successfully completing WRIT 200 required
- IDIS 302 Ethical Issues in Business and Society (3)

and one of the following:
- IDIS 301 World Cultures (3)
- IDIS 304 Arts and Ideas (3) required if no lower-level general-education course in fine arts

History Program Requirements (33 credits)

Core Courses (12 credits)
- HIST 300 Exploring the Past (3)

One course from each of the following three areas:

European History
- HIST 310 The Ancient World (3)
- HIST 311 The Emergence of Europe (3)
- HIST 312 The Age of Revolution (3)
- HIST 313 Europe, 1815-1914 (3)
- HIST 314 Europe, 1914-45 (3)

Optional Specialization in Public History (optional 15 credits)

Students majoring in history may choose to complete this specialization in public history, which is the professional application of historical methods, skills, research and presentation in settings outside the classroom. Public historians work in museums, archives, government, historical societies, living history sites, preservation groups, businesses and nonprofit organizations of all kinds, either independently or in partnership with academic institutions.

Students can fulfill this specialization through Topics in American History core courses, major electives and/or general electives; this does not require completion of additional credits beyond those of the History program.

Vacant, program director
FACULTY: Cortese, Delury, K. Kopelke, Matanle, Oldenburg, Pointer, Shorr, Simon, Smith, Swaim, Verville, Winik
ADJUNCT FACULTY: Lynne, Page, Toran

The undergraduate B.A. program in Integrated Arts, administered through the School of Communications Design, invites students to experience arts production and performance while studying arts analysis and management. Students concentrate in one art that interests them most—whether it be visual art, music, theater, dance, creative writing, filmmaking. When they graduate, students are prepared to work for businesses, nonprofit organizations and government agencies that deal in, represent or interact with artists and the arts—perhaps in addition to managing their own freelance artistic career. Students also are well prepared for graduate-level study in business and the arts.

Students take courses in arts production and performance; history, appreciation and analysis of the arts; government and business as they relate to the arts; and technology’s impact on and importance to the arts. The major allows students opportunities to work with the city’s theaters, museums, galleries, musical venues and arts advocacy groups, shadowing and assisting artists, attending exhibits and performances, and interning with artists or arts-related organizations. All integrated arts students are required to complete two foundation courses, a senior project and an internship.

Deborah Kohl, program director
FACULTY: selected faculty from the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Public Affairs and the Merrick School of Business
The undergraduate B.A. program in Interdisciplinary Studies allows students to create a course of study anchored to three areas of individualized study including wide-ranging and inventive combinations of academic disciplines. The program is designed for students whose intellectual interests and professional goals are best served by extended study in more than one discipline.

Working closely with the program director, students construct a cohesive program of study that combines the traditional rigors of an arts and sciences education with a specialty in more professionally oriented disciplines. The program is particularly appropriate for students who are already involved in a profession and wish to take courses in related disciplines, and also for students who wish to develop a degree program around themes, topics or areas not confined to a single discipline. This degree allows flexibility not found in a standard program.

Note: Students should not confuse the Interdisciplinary Studies program with various University course requirements that use the IDIS course code. The major draws on courses across the curriculum. IDIS is a subject code that references interdisciplinary courses, some of which meet graduation and general-education requirements.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
See the Admission section of this catalog.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the major, all bachelor’s degree candidates are required to fulfill the collegewide degree requirements outlined under Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, Academic Policies and Information.

Information Literacy
Students in the B.A. in Interdisciplinary Studies program will meet the University of Baltimore Information Literacy requirement by successful completion of:

- IDIS 110 Introduction to Information Literacy.

General-Education Requirements (43 credits)
The state of Maryland requires all undergraduate students to complete a group of general-education courses as defined by the institution; students complete many of these prior to transferring to the University of Baltimore. General-education coursework to be transferred from a Maryland public institution will be evaluated according to the definition and grading standards of the institution at which the coursework was completed. At UB, general-education courses must be completed with a grade of C- or better and include:

- English Composition (3)
- Mathematics (3)
- Oral Communication (3)
- Literature (3)
- History or Philosophy (3)
- Fine Arts (3)
- Computer Literacy (3)
- Social and Behavioral Science 1 (3)
- Social and Behavioral Science 2 (3)
- Biological and Physical Science Laboratory course (4)
- Non-laboratory course (3)

Students must complete three courses with a grade of C or better:
WRIT 300 Advanced Expository Writing (3) completing WRIT 101 and either passing the writing placement test or successfully completing WRIT 200 required
IDIS 302 Ethical Issues in Business and Society (3)

and one of the following:
IDIS 301 World Cultures (3)
IDIS 304 Arts and Ideas (3)

required if no lower-level general-education course in fine arts

Program Plan Requirement
Within the first semester after admission to the interdisciplinary studies major, a degree candidate must develop and submit a proposed program plan for approval by the Interdisciplinary Studies program director in consultation with faculty from the student’s proposed areas of individualized study. The proposed program must not duplicate an existing degree program at the University of Baltimore.

The proposed program must include three areas of individualized study with a rationale for their interdisciplinary interrelationship. The proposed program should include the student’s learning goals for the major and show how the three proposed areas of individualized study and their interdisciplinary connections align with the student’s career goals. Program plans will be kept on file and will be revised appropriately as the student progresses through the program. A final program plan will be developed as part of the coursework for IDIS 497: Interdisciplinary Studies Portfolio.

Once the proposed program has received initial approval, the student will work with the Interdisciplinary Studies program director to plan coursework that will include not only the four courses that will be used to meet the core requirement within each of the three areas of individualized study but also appropriate electives from any discipline. This curriculum plan, which will become part of the student’s program plan and will be revised as needed, should support the student’s career goals and the interdisciplinary goals of the proposed program.

Interdisciplinary Studies Requirements (39 credits)

Specialization Areas (36 credits)
- First area of individualized study (12 credits minimum/300 level or above)
- Second area of individualized study (12 credits minimum/300 level or above)
- Third area of individualized study (12 credits minimum/300 level or above)

Areas of individualized study may be drawn from among courses and disciplines offered in the University of Baltimore’s undergraduate programs in business, applied information technology, corporate communication, criminal justice, English, history, government and public policy, philosophy, psychology, sociology and others, as well as from disciplines not offered at the University of Baltimore with the approval of the program director. At least 24 credits to be applied to the individualized areas of study must be taken in arts and sciences disciplines. Courses in more than one academic discipline (e.g., writing and corporate communication or management and marketing) may be combined as an area of study with the permission of all program directors.

IDIS 497 Interdisciplinary Studies Portfolio (3)
In this course, each student will work individually and in groups to create an interdisciplinary studies learning portfolio that contains the student’s revised program plan with commentary, a reflective journal, a resume package and pre-professional work samples. As part of the course, portfolios will be presented in a public forum that will include review by the program director and three faculty members (one from each of the student’s areas of individualized study) selected by the student with the approval of the program director.

General Electives (38-39 credits)
Students who plan to major in Interdisciplinary Studies are strongly advised to use these elective credits to fulfill all introductory and pre-major requirements in the disciplines that they intend to use as areas of individualized study in their planned interdisciplinary studies program. Interdisciplinary studies students must fulfill all prerequisites that apply to courses selected from the disciplines approved for use as areas of individualized study (see above).

IDIS 101 First-Year Seminar: Applied Learning and Study Skills (2)
transfer students replace this with a different elective

Students may take 12 additional courses from any discipline.

Law School Automatic Admit Option (See page 93.)

JURISPRUDENCE, BACHELOR OF ARTS

www.ubalt.edu/jurisprudence

FACULTY: Carney, Cotton, Guy, Hudgins, Kassner, Nix, Sawyer, Yi

The B.A. in Jurisprudence program is a selective academic program designed for serious students, many of whom go on to law school, graduate school or careers in fields that require an interdisciplinary background focused on law, history, philosophy, government and English. The program is administered through the Division of Legal, Ethical and Historical Studies.

The interdisciplinary curriculum is designed to provide students with a broad knowledge base as well as focus on professional humanities skills—critical reading, effective research, analytical thinking and persuasive writing. This course of study provides jurisprudence graduates with a larger perspective on their community, nation and the world, as well as skills and knowledge that will serve them well in law and many other fields of graduate education and work.

Qualified students may seek early admission to the School of Law upon completion of 93 credits through the Law School Early Entry Option, which allows students to begin studying law prior to the completion of the bachelor’s degree and to substitute the first year of law school for the senior year of college.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Jurisprudence is a selective major that grants admission to all qualified applicants.

- Applicants must meet the University’s general admission requirements as well as the program-specific admission requirement of a cross-institutional cumulative GPA of 3.00 or better. This requirement applies to students admitted under freshman standards and to transfer students.
- Applicants who do not meet this criterion for admission to jurisprudence but who meet requirements for undergraduate admission or for choosing an academic major may select another major. If, between the time of first admission to UB and the successful completion of 72 credits applicable to the degree (including transfer credits), such students raise their cross-institutional cumulative GPA to 3.00, they may petition for a change of major to the jurisprudence program. See Academic Policies section of this catalog.
- Transfer students are not required to have majored in any particular field of study or to have taken any particular course of study; however, all jurisprudence majors must meet any course requirements for the B.A. in Jurisprudence as outlined in this catalog with either acceptable transfer credits or credits earned at UB.
• Applicants who are interested in the 93-credit Law School Early Entry Option are cautioned to read UB School of Law requirements for this option carefully (see www.ubalt.edu/prelaw) and to seek advisement regarding their current standing and progress toward meeting these requirements.
• Freshmen and sophomores who are interested in this major should meet with the jurisprudence program director as part of the transition process to an academic major. Transfer students must meet with the jurisprudence program director prior to their first registration at UB.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the major, all bachelor’s degree candidates are required to fulfill the collegewide degree requirements outlined under Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, Academic Policies and Information.

Information Literacy
Students in the B.A. in Jurisprudence program will meet the University of Baltimore Information Literacy requirement by successful completion of:
• IDIS 110 Introduction to Information Literacy.

General-Education Requirements (43 credits)
The state of Maryland requires all undergraduate students to complete a group of general-education courses as defined by the institution; students complete many of these prior to transferring to the University of Baltimore. General-education coursework to be transferred from a Maryland public institution will be evaluated according to the definition and grading standards of the institution at which the coursework was completed. At UB, general-education courses must be completed with a grade of C- or better and include:

John Bates, program director
FACULTY: Bates, Eyssell, Farley, Gasser, Johnson, Kohl, Mitchell, Yun
ADJUNCT FACULTY: Clayton, Dunn, Gasparini, Norwood, Pickens, Shanefelter, Stern, Walk

The B.A. in Psychology program is administered through the Division of Applied Behavioral Sciences. The program provides students with broad exposure to the theoretical, methodological, quantitative and applied aspects of psychology. The program enables students to prepare for admission to graduate school and to build skills necessary for careers in psychology and related fields.

Faculty members have a wide variety of research interests and professional skills in counseling, industrial/organizational psychology, research methods and data analysis, psychological assessment and neuropsychology. The division hosts a variety of research projects associated with individual faculty members.
The Wagman Applied Psychology Laboratory supports faculty and student research projects. Supervised practicum and internship experiences are also available in a variety of areas. The undergraduate program sponsors a local chapter of Psi Chi, the National Honor Society in Psychology. Assistance in academic planning, registration and scheduling is provided by the academic program coordinator. Students are encouraged to discuss program, career interests or graduate school plans with the program coordinator, as well as with members of the division’s faculty.

This transfer program is also offered on weekdays at the Universities at Shady Grove.

FACULTY: Kaplan, Livermore, Oldenburg, Salter, Summers
ADJUNCT FACULTY: Carter III, Doyle

The B.S. in Simulation and Digital Entertainment is offered through the Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies. This program allows students with a strong interest in interactive software to refine skills and understanding while they prepare for a range of career opportunities. Coursework focuses on the design and development of games, both for entertainment and for learning. Students will be able to participate in development teams building interactive software for education, training and research as well as the game industry. They will also acquire a foundation for further study in areas such as applied information technology.

FACILITIES
The Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies maintains several computer labs supporting programming, network administration, information security, 3-D graphics and computer game development for game consoles, desktop and laptop computers, and mobile devices.
ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
Students applying to the program at USG must have a minimum of 60 transferable credits. For more information, see the Admission section of this catalog.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS
In addition to fulfilling the requirements of the major, all bachelor’s degree candidates are required to fulfill the collegewide degree requirements outlined under Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, Academic Policies and Information.

Information Literacy
Students in the B.S. in Simulation and Digital Entertainment program will meet the University of Baltimore Information Literacy requirement by successful completion of one of the following:

- IDIS 110 Introduction to Information Literacy
- COSC 324 Designing for Humans.

If you have not completed an articulated program at one of the state's community colleges, you must meet the University's general requirements for transfer and satisfy the following course requirements:

- a college-level course in multimedia authoring or production (COSC 150 Introduction to Game Design)
- a college-level course in standard publishing technologies for the World Wide Web, such as HTML/CSS (COSC 155: Internet Technologies: Mastering the Basics)
- a college-level course in 2-D graphics or digital imaging (COSC 160 Graphics for Game Design)
- a college-level course in 3-D modeling and/or animation (COSC 260 Introduction to 3-D Graphics).

All of these prerequisite requirements can be met by courses at the University of Baltimore but are not offered at the Universities at Shady Grove. If you are applying to the program at USG, you must have a minimum of 60 transferable credits and you must satisfy these prerequisites before enrolling in UB classes.

Academic Minors

www.ubalt.edu/minors

An academic minor is a cohesive set of courses designed by faculty to provide students with an opportunity to cultivate skills and knowledge through concentrated study in an area that is not the major. Minors may focus on one discipline or may be interdisciplinary, and they require 15-21 credits. Completing a minor is optional, and students should seek the guidance of an academic adviser when selecting a minor to understand how the minor requirements may be completed in conjunction with their degree.

ELIGIBILITY FOR A MINOR

Students who have completed 24 credit hours with a 2.0 cumulative GPA (some minors require a 2.5 cumulative GPA; see the individual minor descriptions for more information) may declare a minor by submitting a form (available at www.ubalt.edu/recordsforms) to the director or adviser of their major program to verify their eligibility for the minor. The Office of Records and Registration adds the designation to the student’s record and sends a copy of the declaration to the contact person of both the student’s major program and the minor. A student may not declare a minor until he/she has declared a major, but these declarations may be made at the same time.

REQUIREMENTS FOR COMPLETION OF A MINOR

- No more than 6 credits may satisfy both requirements for the degree (including major and general-education requirements) and requirements for the minor.
- Courses completed in one minor may not be used to satisfy the requirements of another minor.
- At most, 6 credits applied to a minor may be transferred from another regionally accredited institution.
- To graduate with a minor, a student must earn a C (2.0) in each course applied to the minor.
- Prerequisite courses that are not part of the minor itself are outside the required credit count and may not exceed 6 total credits.

Verification of the completion of a declared minor is part of the graduation check-off completed by a student’s major program director or adviser. Minors are posted on a student’s academic transcript but not on the diploma.

BUSINESS MANAGEMENT, MINOR
Tigineh Mersha, faculty contact

This minor provides students with an introduction to the fundamental language, culture and practices of business.

MINOR REQUIREMENTS

In addition to fulfilling the Requirements for Completion of a Minor, students must have completed at least 24 credits with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.5. Students in the Business Administration, Information Systems and Technology Management, and Real Estate and Economic Development programs are not eligible for this minor.

CREATIVE WRITING, MINOR
Kendra Kopelke, faculty contact

Many students—from early childhood through high school—produce poetry, short stories, plays and other forms of creative writing, but when they reach college, they feel compelled to give up their writing to pursue a more practical, applied area that is more likely to help them secure a job and significant income. This minor allows students to concentrate on their career-oriented major while giving them a creative outlet through a set of courses that hones their existing skills and teaches them new ones that will serve them well, regardless of their career.

MKTG 430 Personal Selling (3)

PHILOSOPHY, MINOR
Joshua Kassner, faculty contact

There is value in struggling with the fundamental questions of human existence. For students, philosophy courses present a unique academic and intellectual opportunity to be exposed to a way of looking at the world that may be unlike anything they have experienced before. And through this minor, they develop skills—such as analytic thinking with methodological rigor, clear and concise writing, and openness to different ways of looking at the world—that are likely to make them more successful in their careers, no matter the field.
MINOR REQUIREMENTS
In addition to fulfilling the Requirements for Completion of a Minor, students must earn at least 9 credits toward this minor in 300- or 400-level courses.

Electives (9 credits)
Students complete two philosophy elective courses at the 200 level or higher and one philosophy elective course at the 400 level.

POPULAR CULTURE, MINOR
Jonathan Shorr, faculty contact

Students are immersed in rapidly evolving, far-reaching expressions of shared cultures. The construction of self, of groups, of popular icons and culturally significant phrases are but a Tweet away, and the ease with which these media can be engaged does not diminish their social impact. Through this minor, students learn to read, interpret, critique and utilize various media to become more savvy consumers of popular culture. They examine a variety of media—from print, film and television to popular music and video games—that focus on representations of historical figures and events, families, racial and ethnic groups, and political issues. Along the way, they learn about the historical, social, business and governmental forces that affect popular culture as well as the psychological motivations for embracing or rejecting aspects of popular culture.

PSYCHOLOGY, MINOR
Kristen Eyssell, faculty contact

This minor provides breadth and focus in the field of psychology, based on a foundation of research methodology and scientific writing.

Students gain an understanding of theories and concepts in the field of psychology, which can influence their formation of multifaceted and effective resolutions to interpersonal and organizational issues. The skills they develop through this minor augment their abilities to assess and evaluate the needs and concerns of a community or organization with which they work, and these same skills enhance students’ ability to create effective solutions, utilizing a blend of scientific skepticism and open-minded tolerance for human behavior.

MINOR REQUIREMENTS
In addition to fulfilling the Requirements for Completion of a Minor, students must have completed PSYC 100 Introduction to Psychology with a grade of C or better and must earn at least 9 credits toward this minor in 300- or 400-level courses. Psychology majors are not eligible for this minor.

Minor Requirements (15 credits)
Required Courses (6 credits)
PSYC 200 Introduction to Professional Practices (3)
PSYC 308 Research Methods and Statistics I (3) or a quantitative methods course in another discipline

Electives (9 credits)
Students complete three psychology elective courses.

SECURITY AND NETWORK ADMINISTRATION, MINOR
Jeffrey Livermore, faculty contact

Information technology is the application of computing and communication technologies in industry, government, business and entertainment, and it is now a vital part of any organization. In the 21st century, organizations rely heavily on those who can use IT applications software competently and professionally.

As the interconnection of global information networks expand, this interdisciplinary minor in computing, communication networks, computer system administration and security technologies provides students with theoretical and practical foundations in networking, computer system administration and security scenarios.

Upon completing this minor, students are prepared, with additional review, to pursue A+ and Network+ industry certifications. Actual certification would require successful completion of the certification examinations.

COURSE CODE
Computer science (COSC). Descriptions and prerequisites for individual courses are detailed in the Course Descriptions section of this catalog.

MINOR REQUIREMENTS
See the Requirements for Completion of a Minor. Applied information technology majors are not eligible for this minor.
Minor Requirements (15 credits)
COSC 305 Networking: Theory and Application (3)

ANTHROPOLOGY (ANTH)

Anthropology courses (ANTH) are offered by the Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences.

ANTH 110 Cultural Anthropology (3) Provides an introduction to the field of cultural anthropology, the study of human cultural variation throughout the world, both past and present. This course focuses on the general concepts of anthropology as a discipline, the evolution and structure of human social groups, and in-depth culture description and cross-cultural comparison involving both past and extant societies. [SOSC]

ANTH 115 Human Origins (3) An introduction to physical anthropology and archaeology, two subdisciplines within the field of anthropology. Physical anthropology has two major objectives: the reconstruction of the evolutionary history of Homo sapiens and the study of human genetic, anatomical and physiological diversity. Archaeology is devoted to the study of the life ways of past peoples through the examination of cultural remains. [SOSC]

ANTH 222 Human Environmental Adaptations (3) Examines the various ways humans adapt culturally to their physical and biological environments. Societies of a variety of time periods and levels of complexity are studied. Many different types of habitat and settlement are considered, from tropical rain forests to arctic zones, small villages to cities. The impact human societies have on their environments is an important theme in class lectures and discussions. prerequisite: ANTH 110

ANTH 365 Human Population Dynamics (3) Examines the effects of fertility, mortality and migration on the size and structure of human populations. An anthropological focus is used to link demography to cultural attributes, such as economy, religious practices, education, marriage, gender and class.
Environmental issues as they relate to the growth of human populations are important themes.
prerequisite: ANTH 110

FINE ARTS (ARTS)

Fine Arts courses (ARTS) are offered by the Division of English & Communications Design within the School of Communications Design in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. Related courses are listed under Communication (CMAT).

CMAT 350 Integrated Computer Graphics (3) Introduction to a variety of desktop publishing, graphics manipulation and presentation software and digitizing and printing hardware. Students learn to create and manipulate images and integrate graphics with text. Laboratory fee required. Students who have completed CMAT 211 and CMAT 212 may not take this course for credit.

CMAT 351 Project Management I: Principles (3) An introductory workshop for students interested in corporate communication. The course does not teach production skills but rather examines the process of developing a media package, of following a production project from start to finish: audience analysis, behavioral objectives, budgeting, needs assessment, evaluation, etc. Media to be considered include print, video, Web and multimedia.

CMAT 352 Media Literacy (3) An upper-level theory course that introduces students to a variety of ways of understanding the interactions between media and culture. The course examines media content and effects, media industries, cultural perceptions and notions about how meaning is constructed in these environments.

CMAT 355 Communication Theory & Learning (3) Investigation and survey of contemporary communication theories and their application to learning through current research and literature in the field. Application to designing media programs and packages to meet specific instructional needs.

CMAT 357 Print Design (3) An introduction to print design and production, including flyers and brochures, posters and magazines. The course focuses on the organization of visual space, typography, paper and ink, visual strategies and the appropriateness of visual design for a variety of audiences. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: CMAT 350 or both CMAT 211 and CMAT 212

CMAT 358 Electronic Design (3) An introduction to design and production for various electronic media, including video, Web and other emerging technologies. The course focuses on the organization of visual space, both moving and stationary, visual strategies and the appropriateness of visual design for a variety of audiences. It introduces basic HTML coding, Web editing software and animation. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: CMAT 350 or both CMAT 211 and CMAT 212

CMAT 361/WRIT 361 Writing for the Media (3) Scripting for various media, including hypermedia, audio, video and print. Emphasizes the translation of information, ideas and experience into various presentational formats and applies that knowledge to informational, persuasive and dramatic scripts.

CMAT 363/WRIT 363 Creative Writing Workshop: Screenwriting (3) Intensive writing experience for students interested in writing drama for television and film. Emphasizes characterization, dialogue and plot development as well as conventions of and script formats for television and film.

CMAT 364 Digital Photography (3) Explores creation and manipulation of both still and video images in the digital environment. Through lectures, critiques, demonstrations, picture taking and digital manipulation exercises, students learn to shoot, edit and use a variety of digital techniques to produce material for print and Web distribution. Emphasis is placed on the development of portfolio-quality pieces. Laboratory fee required.

CMAT 366 Producing Sound Portraits (3) Introduction to the art and craft of audio production. Students listen to and produce a series of short audio programs, learning the tools, techniques and aesthetics of the craft along the way.

CMAT 368 Photojournalism (3) Problems of producing and selecting photos for print and for other visual media. The relationship between text, photographs and design. Experience in preparing photo essays that incorporate both photographs and copy. Laboratory fee required.

CMAT 369 Digital Video (3) The use of portable video equipment for producing location and small-studio nonbroadcast presentations and the planning and management of industrial video facilities. The production context is emphasized with special attention given to public-access cable, corporate and institutional uses of video. Laboratory fee required.

CMAT 371 Mass Media & Society (3) Mass media as a vital force in contemporary society. The impact of television, film, music, advertising and other media on our economic, political and social systems. Evaluation of means to effect creative solutions to social problems via media use. A study of current controversies and research. Laboratory fee may be required.

CMAT 381 Representing Reality: News & Documentary (3) Examination of the process, problems and techniques of gathering and presenting information. Moving from a historical context, the course looks at the lines between news, documentary and propaganda; the forces that shape and influence the presentation of information; difficulties in determining objectivity; and contemporary issues relating to reality programming. Balancing theory and analysis are hands-on newsgathering and production activities. Laboratory fee may be required.

CMAT 407 Internship in Communication (3) Students apply skills and knowledge from coursework to jobs in the field of corporate communication. Grading: pass/fail. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: senior status and permission of the program director.

CMAT 451 Communication Technologies (3) Satellite teleconferencing, cable television, desktop publishing, hypermedia, CD-ROM and other new and emerging technologies. Technical development, economic and political factors, potential applications and evaluation of their impact on society.

CMAT 453 Media & Community/Community Media (3) An introduction to the ways that communications media shape people's perceptions of communities, ways that citizens can use various media to change those perceptions and ways to strengthen communities through increased and broader-based communication. Students examine case studies, learn basic techniques of producing messages in a variety of media and propose solutions to problems in their own communities by utilizing those media.

CMAT 455 Hypermedia (3) An introductory survey of the many types of hypermedia, multimedia and other means of nonlinear writing now available in fiction, education and business. Combines theory and hands-on experience in the reading and composition of hypermedia and Web sites. Students explore the position of this new technology/language in contemporary culture.

CMAT 456 Multimedia Design & Production (3) The conceptualization and production of multimedia design. After studying the fundamentals of interactivity, students learn to digitize sound and video, integrate these elements with graphic design and written text, develop prototypes and examine various interactive software applications. Application of problem-solving techniques to the corporate environment and media applications. Laboratory fee required.

CMAT 458 Project Management II: Practices (3) An upper-level introduction to the skills and concepts necessary for the competent administration of a communication department or a freelance, communication-related business. Topics include production planning and control, cost analysis and project bidding procedures, organizational theory, equipment specifications and legal considerations. prerequisite: CMAT 351

CMAT 469 Advanced Audio Video Production (3) Advanced techniques and experience in planning, producing and editing audio and video presentations. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: CMAT 369 or the equivalent or permission of the instructor

CMAT 475 Media Criticism (3) Examination and application of the criteria for critically analyzing film, video and audio. Evaluation of the role of the critic and critical publications. Students compose and present critical reviews.

CMAT 480 Portfolio Development (3) After articulating their professional goals—for example, as writers, designers, videographers or public relations specialists—students determine which of the materials they have created in the past will contribute positively to their portfolios and revise and improve those pieces. They determine what additional items their portfolios need and create them from scratch. Finally, they develop strategies for applying and interviewing for professional positions. Laboratory fee required. Note: Students entering this class must have a pre-existing body of work from which to draw. prerequisite: permission of the program director

CMAT 489 Directed Independent Study (3) Consideration and completion in depth of a special topic or project in communication. Each student works closely with a faculty member who helps set goals, develop a course plan and guide progress. The project must be carefully planned and have approval of the instructor involved and the program director. prerequisite: permission of both the instructor and the program director

CMAT 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

CMAT 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director
CMAT 497 Special Topics in Communication (3) Intensive exploration of communication-related topics that are of mutual interest to faculty and students. Content varies according to the concurrent interests of faculty and students. The topic for study appears in the class schedule. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisite: determined by topic.

COMMUNITY STUDIES AND CIVIC ENGAGEMENT (CSCE)

Community Studies and Civic Engagement (CSCE) courses are offered by the Division of Legal, Ethical and Historical Studies in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. Related courses are listed under History (HIST) and Negotiations and Conflict Management (CNCM).

CSCE 100 Urban Solutions (3) Provides an introduction to the field of urban studies and to the practices of studying cities and metropolitan areas. Students are exposed to a variety of current and historic urban challenges as well as policy solutions. The course exposes students to the complexity of life in metropolitan regions, using the Baltimore area and other cities nationally and internationally as case studies. [SOSC]

CSCE 200 Understanding Community (3) Allows students to explore basic concepts of community: a group’s history and change over time, the lines that divide communities, the physical movement of groups, the responsibilities of individuals within the community and the role community plays in social control. Students begin to master the skills of selection and synthesis as they use historical documents, census data, community mapping, field observations, nonfiction and fiction to make observations about groups and compare their findings to the ways groups are depicted by outsiders. [SOSC]

CSCE 300 Community Studies (3) Focuses on reading the core philosophy and history of community studies and applying the abstract concepts to a number of case studies of successful problem-solving organizations. Students examine one organization in depth, analyze the issues the organization addresses, identify the assets it draws upon and evaluate the solutions it develops.

CSCE 301 Introduction to Nonprofit Leadership (3) Introduces students to personal and professional competencies relevant to careers in nonprofit organizations. Special emphasis is placed on individual and community development as the pivotal functions of nonprofit organizations and on collaboration as the central mode of public problem-solving.

CSCE 302 Fundamentals of Fundraising (3) Voluntary association, voluntary giving and voluntary action directed toward the public good are, and have long been, important dimensions of American society. This course considers historic and contemporary issues in philanthropy and voluntarism and features archival research and agency internships. Students gain knowledge, experience and awareness of the role of the nonprofit sector in Baltimore and throughout the United States.

CSCE 400 Nonprofit Management (3) Nonprofit organizations are key to the functioning of civil society. The United States has one of the world’s most vibrant nonprofit communities. In this practical skills course, students examine how to carry out the responsibilities of organizing and managing a nonprofit, with focus on organizations framed under 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Students explore effective mission, incorporation and vision statements; board and staff roles and relationships; ethics; budgets and fundraising; and maintaining nonprofit status. This course helps students meet a number of American Humanics competency requirements. Prerequisite: CSCE 301 or permission of the CSCE program director.

CSCE 401 Economic and Community Development (3) Using theory and practice, this course emphasizes the programs and policies that enhance the economic vitality of low- and moderate-income communities and organizations to provide an understanding of the basis for both economic and community development along with a basic set of practical tools to enable the student to work in the field of community development. This course features a service-learning component.

CSCE 481 Service Learning (3) and CSCE 482 Service-Learning Seminar (3) Each student develops an original project as a capstone to the Community Studies and Civic Engagement program, which is tied to a 240-hour internship. Through this capstone endeavor, the student integrates theory and practice in a project that is designed in consultation with the CSCE program director. These two courses are co-requisites—that is, they must be taken together in the same semester. prerequisite: CSCE 301

CSCE 492 Independent Study (3) Provides students with the opportunity to pursue a research topic or community service project in depth over the course of a semester. An interested student submits a proposal to a faculty member who agrees to be the adviser for the study. The faculty member and the student negotiate the terms of study and the requirements for the final product. prerequisite: permission of the program director

CSCE 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

CSCE 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student’s choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

CSCE 497 Special Topics in Community Studies and Civic Engagement (3) An examination of a selected topic or issue related to the research interests of CSCE faculty or a collaboration with a local nonprofit in a one-time community project. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes.

COMPUTER SCIENCE/COMPUTER NETWORKING AND TECHNOLOGIES (COSC)

Computer Science (COSC) courses are offered by the Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies within the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. Related courses are listed under Mathematics (MATH).

COSC 100 Introduction to Computer Technologies (3) An introduction to computer hardware and software and their uses. Introduces students to how computers, networks and the Internet work, how they impact our lives and the ethical implications of information technologies. Hands-on experience with a variety of computer applications, including spreadsheet, presentation, database application and Internet tools. Laboratory fee required. [COSC]

COSC 150 Introduction to Game Design (3) Examines the use of computer technology to produce computer games and create interactive educational and training materials; covers beginning concepts in screen design, animation and scripting. Note: Additional lab time outside of class may be required to complete course projects. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 155 Internet Technologies: Mastering the Basics (3) Provides an introduction to the Internet, as well as technologies used to generate and maintain Web pages, such as FTP, HTML, CSS, JavaScript and XML. Note: Additional lab time outside of class may be required to complete course projects. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 160 Graphics for Game Design (3) Introduces 2-D computer graphics, including image generation, capture and processing. Particular emphasis on applications to interactive multimedia and computer game design. Provides basis for further study in 3-D graphics. Note: Additional lab time outside of class may be required to complete course projects. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 260 Introduction to 3-D Graphics (3) Introduces students to modeling, texturing, lighting, rendering and simple animation using the industry-standard tool. Provides a foundation for further work with sophisticated 3-D imaging tools. Note: Additional lab time outside of class may be required to complete course projects. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 301 Microcomputer Maintenance and Troubleshooting (3) Introduces students to the architecture and hardware components of the microcomputer. Topics include installation, configuration and upgrading; diagnosing and troubleshooting; safety and preventive maintenance; system board, processors and memory; printers; portable systems; and basic networking. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 305 Networking: Theory and Application (3) An introduction to networks, including network operating system concepts. Topics include network components, the OSI and 802 models, protocols, network architecture, network administration and support, LANs, WANs and troubleshooting. This course requires each student to purchase an unassembled computer that he/she builds in class. These computers are then used to support networking exercises. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 307 Administering and Supporting a Network Operating System (3) The sequel to COSC 305. Topics include setting up user and group accounts; securing network resources; setting up and administering network printers; auditing resources and events; monitoring network resources; backing up and restoring data; managing system policies, file systems, partitions and fault tolerance; interoperating between network operating systems; implementing network clients and directory replication; and troubleshooting. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: COSC 305

COSC 309 Computer Programming I (3) A first programming course designed to teach problem-solving, algorithm development and principles of good programming. Topics include procedures, decisions, repetition, arrays, sequential and random-access files and the graphical display of data. Algorithms are implemented in a visual programming language. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 310 Computer Programming II (3) A sequel to Computer Programming I. While continuing to emphasize problem-solving and algorithm development, this course introduces object-oriented programming; programming that integrates other applications, especially those in the Microsoft Office suite; and Internet programming. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: COSC 309 or equivalent COSC 315 Programming for Interactive Design (3) An introduction to object-oriented computer programming framed in the technical aspects of game programming. The course covers variables, control structures, functions, arrays, data types, classes, inheritance and polymorphisms. Students apply these concepts to build a series of small games. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 324 Designing for Humans (3) Introduces key concepts of human/computer interaction, including how humans interact with technology to find and process information. It also introduces the concepts of systematic software testing to students of applied information technology and students of interactive simulation and computer gaming. Students learn principles of interface and software construction and apply them to practical problems of software or game evaluation in the process of learning principles that underlie good interaction and play design. Readings cover theory of human/computer interaction, interaction design and usability testing. Laboratory fee required.
COSC 330 Applied Simulation (3) Concentrates on nonentertainment applications of interactive simulation in such areas as technical communication, emergency preparedness and education. Students study a range of simulations representing various approaches to visualization and interaction, analyzing the ways in which they use conventions of interactive play to serve larger purposes of learning and discovery. Using basic multimedia tools, students prototype interactive presentations for training and education. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 331 Introduction to Computer Organization (3) Basic logic design, coding, number representation and arithmetic, computer architecture, examples using simple minicomputer or microcomputer systems. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisite: COSC 310

COSC 401 The TCP/IP Protocol Suite (3) Introduces students to the TCP/IP suite of communication protocols. Topics include fundamentals, basic and advanced IP addressing, TCP/IP routing, TCP/IP name resolution, TCP/IP tools, dynamic P/IP configuration tools, WINS, NetBIOS, Internet/intranet services, printing and RAS, network management, and monitoring and troubleshooting. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisite: COSC 307

COSC 403 Advanced and Object-Oriented Programming (3) Introduces the basic syntax of an object-oriented language and teaches object-oriented design. Also studied are more advanced programming topics not covered in Computer Programming I and II (e.g., recursion and data structures). This course extends the Internet programming methods introduced in Computer Programming II. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisite: COSC 310 or equivalent

COSC 405 The Business of Game Development (3) Examines the past, present and future of the video game industry, with an emphasis on business organizations and practices that have evolved along with the medium. Particular attention is given to opportunities and requirements for new ventures in games and other areas of interactive design. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 407 Social Media and Games (3) Examines games and simulations as systems designed for common use and collaboration and the ways non-game social media can promote markets for digital entertainment. Theoretical approaches are compared to current implementations and tested in one or more limited practical experiments. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 410 3-D Modeling (3) Improves an existing understanding of 3-D modeling, texturing and animation for interactive simulation applications, including scenic and character design for computer games. Practical assignments allow students to advance skills in industry-standard programs (e.g., 3D Studio and Maya). Readings, critical examples and visits from industry experts provide broader contexts for skills. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisite: COSC 260

COSC 414 Audio Integration in Games and Simulations (3) Concentrates on the design of sound elements for use in computer games and other forms of interactive simulation. Practical design exercises based on standard production software and popular game engines are combined with theoretical readings, critical studies and visits from industry experts. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 415 Web Site Essentials (3) Introduces the fundamentals of creating and maintaining a Web site. Begins with a general treatment of Web servers, connecting to the Internet, Web security and Web administration. Topics include file servers, Web server computer hardware, communication media, TCP/IP, HTTP, domain name conventions, getting an IP address, backing up, fault tolerance, firewalls and proxy servers. The general treatment is followed with a study of Microsoft’s Internet Information Server (IIS). Topics include installing IIS, Microsoft’s Index Server and supporting Active Server. Students create an intranet using Microsoft’s Internet Information Server and Web pages using Microsoft’s FrontPage. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisite or co-requisite: COSC 401
COSC 416 Advanced Web Site Development (3) Focuses on building interactive Web pages using Java, JavaScript, Perl and VBScript. Also introduces students to Microsoft Visual InterDev and techniques for creating multimedia Web pages. Emphasis is placed on database connectivity. Also introduces techniques for creating multimedia Web pages. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisites: COSC 403 and COSC 415; COSC 415 may be taken as a co-requisite.

COSC 418 Design of Multiplayer Games (3) Examines the design principles and challenges underlying games and interactive simulations designed to be used collaboratively or in situations of simultaneous use, from multiplayer console games to massively multiplayer Internet games and their associated virtual communities. Assignments include development of modules or levels for popular multiplayer games and systematic study of Internet game communities. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 425 Database Design and Implementation (3) Uses Microsoft Access and Microsoft SQL Server to introduce the design and implementation of database systems. Implementation includes creation, indexing, querying, referential integrity, form and report generation, graphing and programming in the application language. Also teaches Microsoft SQL Server system administration to include installing and configuring SQL Server; managing security and database files; transferring data; backing up and restoring databases; automating administrative tasks; and planning, setting up and managing replication. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisite: COSC 310.

COSC 432 Information Assurance (3) Provides an introduction to the various technical and administrative aspects of information security and assurance. Discusses the foundation for understanding the key issues associated with protecting information assets, determining the levels of protection and response to security incidents, and designing a consistent, reasonable information security system with appropriate intrusion detection and reporting features. Ethical, legal and professional issues in information security are also discussed. Students develop familiarity with research and information resources to forecast emerging problems and strategies in this area. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisite: COSC 305.

COSC 433 Network Security (3) Deals with the conceptual and technological aspects of network security. The course begins with a review of various forms of network attacks, including scanning, exploits and denial-of-service attacks. It discusses the role of major networking devices, including routers, firewall technology and servers, in establishing a secure network. It provides a comprehensive overview of building and maintaining firewalls in a business environment. It discusses how to make an intelligent choice of firewall technology and firewall planning/design and presents basic firewall troubleshooting. It also covers security policy development, authentication, encryption, VPNs and IDSs. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisite: COSC 307.

COSC 440 Frontiers of Game Design (3) Focuses on one or more emerging technologies or practices likely to shape the video game industry in the next three to five years. Students both investigate the history and rationale of the innovation and develop practical experiments or proofs of concept indicating possible applications. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 450 SDE Internship (3) Provides students with hands-on work experience in applied simulation and game development. Students may arrange placement with an external organization, subject to written approval by the instructor and an official of the organization. Alternatively, students may participate in an in-house project managed by the instructor. In the latter case, students attend regular class meetings as part of their project work. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 452 Internship in Simulation and Digital Entertainment: Production and Design (3) Internship course intended to give students professional experience in software reliability and play testing in computer games and other areas of applied interactive simulation. Students are assigned projects in area industries or in an on-campus development facility to be developed with local companies. Laboratory fee required.
COSC 460 Games, Simulations and Society (3) Examines the nature of games and how they are framed by and impact individuals and groups. Topics include scholarly work on online economies and community building, fan cultures and their creative reworking of game content, the role of play in human culture and the relationships between online and offline identity, as well as psychological facets of games. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 469 Game Development Project I (3) Constitutes the first part of the capstone experience in the Simulation and Digital Entertainment major. Students work through design assignments to practice project management and team coordination. They also research and propose individual project concepts, some of which are selected for group development as the final course project and for further work in Game Development Project II. Laboratory fee required. prerequisites: Simulation and Digital Entertainment major with senior status

COSC 470 Game Development Project II (3) Provides the capstone experience for students in the Simulation and Digital Entertainment major. Working with faculty and visiting industry experts, students propose a concept for a computer game or applied interactive simulation, developing that concept over the course of the semester through several stages of specification and prototyping. Theoretical readings and critical studies of existing games provide insight and context. Final prototypes are entered in a competition at the end of the course whose jury includes representatives from game and simulation development companies. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: COSC 469

COSC 490 Practicum in Information Technology (3) Provides students with hands-on work experience in applied information technology. Students may arrange placement with an external organization, subject to written approval by the instructor and an official of the organization. Alternatively, students may participate in an in-house project managed by the instructor. In the latter case, students attend regular class meetings as part of their project work. Laboratory fee required. prerequisites: Simulation and Digital Entertainment major

COSC 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. Laboratory fee may be required. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

COSC 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. Laboratory fee may be required. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

COSC 497 Topics in Computer Science (3) Intensive exploration of topics in computer science of mutual interest to faculty and students. Content varies according to the current interests of faculty and students. The topic for study appears under that name in the class schedule. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. Laboratory fee required.

COSC 499 Independent Study (1-3) The pursuit of independent study under the supervision of a full-time faculty member. The number of credits to be earned is determined by the supervising faculty member before the study begins. Students may earn up to 3 credits for this independent study. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: varies; see class schedule or instructor
CRIMINAL JUSTICE (CRJU)

Criminal Justice (CRJU) courses are offered by the School of Criminal Justice within the College of Public Affairs.

CRJU 200 Criminal Justice (3) Examines the fundamental concepts of the criminal justice field; the history, philosophy, social development and operations of police, courts and corrections in a democratic society; and criminal justice careers. [SOSC]

CRJU 220 Police and Society (3) An overview designed to examine law enforcement service delivery at the local, state and federal levels of government. Special emphasis is placed on the historical development of the law enforcement role in contemporary society and how it shapes the type of law enforcement service that can be expected in the future.

CRJU 301 The Contemporary Criminal Justice System (3) A critical analysis of the contemporary criminal justice system. Political, economic and societal contexts provide the framework for an examination of issues, current problems and challenges facing the criminal justice system. prerequisite: CRJU 200 or equivalent

CRJU 302 Criminal Justice Research Methods (3) A survey of the research methods and techniques utilized within the field of criminal justice and criminology. Topics discussed include research designs, sampling, data collection, quantitative versus qualitative methods and applications to criminal justice planning and administration. prerequisite: CRJU 200 or equivalent

CRJU 304 Criminal Justice Professional Studies (3) Assists students with criminal justice database technologies and with writing and research skills specific to the field of criminal justice. The course contains units on conducting secondary research, learning to write for the academic setting (e.g., literature reviews, empirical studies) versus the applied setting (e.g., case summaries, incident reports) and preparing for a career in criminal justice. prerequisites: CRJU 200 or equivalent; and placement in WRIT 300 following completion of the writing placement test or receipt of the grade "pass" in WRIT 200 prior to beginning CRJU 304

CRJU 306 Criminological Perspectives (3) The major paradigms, models and theories that form the foundation of criminal justice and criminology are examined. Using current texts, journals and reports, the course examines the range of explanations of criminal behavior, focusing on attempts to integrate perspectives and theories. prerequisite: CRJU 200 or equivalent

CRJU 320 Police Administration (3) Study of line and staff functions in police organizations. Examination of organization principles, management functions and organizational behavior as they relate to police agencies. Emphasis on the behavioral science approach to supervising and managing police personnel. prerequisite: CRJU 200 or equivalent

CRJU 330 Criminal Law (3) An examination of the general and specific parts of the substantive criminal law in the United States, its development within historical and societal contexts, and its representation in statutory and case law. Consideration is given to problems of application and interpretation of the written law. prerequisite: CRJU 200 or equivalent

CRJU 332 Civil Rights and Civil Liberties in Criminal Justice (3) The nature of civil liberties and civil/political rights in the United States. Emphasis on judicial exposition and its relationship to the field of criminal justice. prerequisite: CRJU 200 or equivalent

CRJU 334 Criminal Procedure (3) Presents the principles and applications of procedural criminal law in the United States. Such procedural laws are supplemented by rules of evidence and decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court on key constitutional questions. prerequisite: CRJU 200 or equivalent
CRJU 341 Correctional Perspectives (3) Introduces students to the history, role, functions, problems and contemporary practices of correctional facilities, including prisons, jails and community corrections (e.g., probation and parole) and the role and difficulties of inmates and correctional officers. prerequisite: CRJU 200 or equivalent

CRJU 380 Forensics in Criminal Justice I (3) An examination of the history and development of the legal issues concerning the admissibility of scientific evidence in court proceedings. Demonstrations of the techniques used by various experts in forensics are presented, concentrating on psychiatry, firearms, micrography, forensic pathology, chemistry and fingerprint identification. prerequisite: CRJU 200 or equivalent

CRJU 381 Forensics in Criminal Justice II (3) An examination of the history and development of the legal issues concerning the admissibility of scientific evidence in court proceedings. Demonstrations of the techniques used by various experts in forensics are presented, concentrating on neutron activation analysis, questioned documents, visual and verbal identification, polygraph, photography, hypnosis and narcoanalysis. prerequisite: CRJU 380

CRJU 390 Victimology (3) An introduction to the study of crime victims. Examines the victim’s role in crime, the criminal justice system’s handling of victims and victim services. prerequisite: CRJU 200 or equivalent

CRJU 404 Comparative Criminal Justice (3) Examines comparative criminal justice: how different societies around the world practice criminal justice relative to practices in the United States. Multidisciplinary approach considers the economic, governmental, geographic and social situations in the selected countries. prerequisite: CRJU 301

CRJU 406 Political Terrorism (3) An overview of the definitional and conceptual issues, typologies, history, causal explanations and reviews of the effects of oppositional political terrorism. The events of Sept. 11, including its major actors such as Osama bin Laden, al-Qaida and the Taliban, are explored, including the reaction to this event by the United States and its allies. prerequisite: CJRU 301

CRJU 408 Crime and Delinquency Prevention (3) A review of major crime and delinquency prevention strategies, including punitive, mechanical and corrective prevention policies and programs. Selected prevention programs and policies are highlighted for in-depth evaluation. prerequisite: CRJU 301

CRJU 420 Special Problems in Policing (3) Issues and problems in policing a free society. The role and function of the police, the effects of contemporary police practices and the exercise and control of police power. Examination of current problems and proposals for reform. prerequisite: CRJU 301

CRJU 430 Juvenile Justice (3) An examination of youthful law violation and the juvenile justice system. The history, law, operations and agencies of juvenile justice are analyzed, as are alternative approaches to defining, preventing and responding to youthful law violation. prerequisite: CRJU 301

CRJU 432 Criminal Courts (3) An exploration of the multidisciplinary literature on the criminal courts in the United States, focusing on the social, political and organizational contexts of the court, the court’s case flow and the various actors in the court’s process. Contemporary issues are highlighted. prerequisite: CRJU 301

CRJU 434 Survey of Law (3) A consideration of selected areas of law that have direct bearing on criminal justice procedures, including family law, administrative law, personal property, torts, evidence and constitutional law. prerequisite: CRJU 301

CRJU 441 Special Problems in Corrections (3) In-depth analysis of the issues, problems and suggested reforms facing the contemporary role and practices of correctional facilities, including prisons, jails and community corrections (e.g., probation and parole), and the role, functions and difficulties of inmates and correctional officers. prerequisite: CRJU 301 or CRJU 341

CRJU 442 Community Corrections (3) An examination of practices and problems of community corrections, including but not limited to probation, parole, halfway houses and fines. prerequisite: CRJU 301 or CRJU 341

CRJU 451 Minorities, Crime and Justice (3) An analysis of race, ethnicity and gender issues and how they impact the criminal justice system. An examination of how race, ethnicity and gender issues revolve around questions associated with evidence of disparity, disproportionality and discrimination within the criminal justice system. prerequisite: CRJU 301

CRJU 454 Criminal Behavior (3) An examination of selected types of crime or criminal behavior patterns, such as white-collar crime, violent crime, organized crime, drugs and crime, or age and crime. The topic studied appears in the class schedule. Course may be repeated for credit when the topic changes. prerequisite: CRJU 301

CRJU 456 Drugs and Crime (3) An examination of various topics and issues relating to drugs and crime in the United States. Explores social, legal, medical and political factors, as well as changes in attitudes that contribute to drug use and policy. Prominent drug-crime issues and projections for the future are included. prerequisite: CRJU 301

CRJU 464 Criminal Justice Issues (3) An examination of a selected topic or issue, such as women and criminal justice, private security, criminal justice legislation or ethical issues. The topic studied appears in the schedule of classes. Course may be repeated for credit when the topic changes. prerequisite: CRJU 301

CRJU 470 Biosocial Perspectives in Criminology (3) A multidisciplinary approach to the study of human behavior generally and criminal behavior specifically. Provides a survey of the developmental, psychological and biological aspects of antisocial behaviors and forensic disorders. The latest scientific discoveries with respect to causes of behavior and the relevant controversial issues are presented. Diagnostic, preventive and treatment techniques new to the field are covered. prerequisite: CRJU 301

CRJU 485 Advanced Criminal Justice Studies (3) The senior-level capstone experience. The focus is multidisciplinary, and the emphasis is on the integration and application of theory, research methods and statistics. The problems of data gathering and reporting and relationships of theory, research and practice in the field are addressed. prerequisites: CRJU 301, CRJU 302, CRJU 304, CRJU 306 and MATH 115

CRJU 490 Criminal Justice Internship (3) A practicum designed to broaden the educational experience of students through appropriate observational and work assignments with criminal justice agencies. Correlation of theoretical knowledge with practice is emphasized. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: CRJU 301, senior status and consent of the instructor

CRJU 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

CRJU 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

CRJU 498 Directed Independent Study (1-3) Designed to provide credit for a student who wants to pursue independent work under the supervision of a faculty member. prerequisite: consent of the instructor

DEVELOPMENTAL COURSES (DVMA, DVRW)

Developmental courses are offered in conjunction with the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. Related courses are listed under Writing (WRIT) and Mathematics (MATH).

Note: Institutional credits contribute to a student’s course load for financial aid and determination of full- or part-time status but do not count toward the degree.

DVMA 93 Introductory Algebra (3 institutional credits) Develops skills that are essential background for an intermediate algebra course. Topics include a brief review of fundamentals of arithmetic and pre-algebra. As much as possible, the course is applications oriented. Elementary algebra topics include real number operations, variable expression, polynomial operations, factoring of polynomials, operations with rational expressions, linear equations in one or two variables, systems of linear equations, linear inequalities, solving quadratic equations by factoring, properties of radical expressions and solutions of applications problems.

DVMA 95 Intermediate Algebra (3 institutional credits) Develops midlevel algebra skills that are essential background for a college-level mathematics course. Topics include a brief review of basic algebra, linear equations and inequalities (including graphs), factoring quadratic expressions, quadratic equations (including graphs), fractional algebraic expressions, exponents and radicals. prerequisite: adequate score on placement test or successful completion of DVMA 93

DVRW 90 College Reading and Writing I (3 institutional credits) Helps students develop college-level reading skills, including using new and specialized vocabulary appropriately in writing and speaking; identifying, understanding and analyzing key parts of a text; and applying systematic reading methods to increasingly complex reading assignments in textbooks, academic articles and other required reading materials. Students also improve their college-level writing skills as they learn to adopt and adapt recursive writing processes, develop the parts of an academic essay and write coherent short expository essays for a variety of purposes and audiences using a variety of patterns of organization.

DVRW 95 College Reading and Writing II (2 institutional credits) Develops students’ confidence in their ability to plan, organize, develop and edit their writing in response to college-level writing tasks through a focus on development of clear, coherent paragraphs and longer essays with emphasis on basic grammar and sentence-combining skills, formulation of thesis statements, development of ideas and increased competence in writing about reading.

ECONOMICS (ECON)

Economics (ECON) courses are offered by the Merrick School of Business.

ECON 100 Economics of Contemporary Issues (3) Provides a survey of societal issues examined through the lens of economic analysis. A scientific approach is adopted in which the basic tools of economics are applied to social issues such as pollution, crime and prevention, poverty and discrimination, professional sports and economic growth. Students gain an appreciation of how society addresses the conflict between unlimited wants and scarce resources. [SOSC]

ECON 200 The Economic Way of Thinking (3) An economist sees the world in a unique way and is able to provide a different perspective on many issues. This course presents the “economic way of thinking” with an emphasis on being able to make effective decisions in a wide variety of economic and business situations. In addition, the “economic way of thinking” is used to understand the impact of business and government policies and actions on our daily lives. [SOSC]

ECON 305 Managerial Economics (3) Managers and business professionals need the wide variety of tools provided by economic theory to deal with the many complex issues facing organizations in today’s competitive global markets. This course focuses on the economic forces affecting the process of organizing economic activity. The primary tools of analysis are imperfect information, transaction costs and the voluntary pursuit of efficiency. prerequisites: ACCT 202, ECON 200 or 3 hours of micro- or macroeconomics, and OPRE 202

ECON 312 Public Economics and Land Use Policy (3) Analyzes the nature and structure of urban economies; the location of economic activity; the economics of an urban framework; and the principles of urban economic development, housing, transportation, poverty, and unemployment and municipal finance.

ECON 409 International Economics (3) A broad coverage of international issues, providing a starting point for the analysis and insights available from other business disciplines. Topics include the underlying rationale for trade, market mechanisms, efficiency, exchange rates, balance of payments and some aspects of international economic development. prerequisite: ECON 200 or 3 hours of micro- or macroeconomics

ECON 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

ECON 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

ECON 497 Special Topics in Economics (3) The economics and finance faculty, from time to time, offer an opportunity to integrate new material into the undergraduate program reflecting changes in the field and in the educational needs of students. prerequisites: ECON 305 and 6 additional hours of economics

ECON 499 Independent Study: Economics (1-3) An independent study completed under the direction of a faculty member. For eligibility and procedures, see the Merrick School of Business Independent Study Policy.
ENGLISH (ENGL)

English (ENGL) courses are offered by the Division of English & Communications Design within the School of Communications Design in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. Related courses are listed under Communication (CMAT), Writing (WRIT) and graduate Publications Design (PBDS).

ENGL 200 The Experience of Literature (3) Teaches students how to read, understand and appreciate fiction, drama and poetry. Exploration of three major literary genres through close reading of selected works, with attention to the contexts that have shaped them. Understanding and applying literary terms and concepts to written analysis of literary works. [ENGL]

ENGL 315 The Short Story (3) An investigation of the various forms a short story may take and the kinds of effects writers have tried to produce. Particular attention is given to authors of the 20th century.

ENGL 316 Modern Poetry (3) A reading and discussion of 20th-century poetry. Emphasis is given to major works of those poets thought best to define the modern and its diversity of poetic response.

ENGL 317 English Fiction: Journey in Experience (3) A study of the development of English fiction. The course moves from the 18th century to the early 20th century with analogues from present and past.

ENGL 318 Modern English Fiction: Journey Into the Mind (3) An examination of the break with the past in 20th-century English fiction. Studies in new developments and techniques in thought, structure and style.

ENGL 319 European Fiction (3) Readings in major European fiction focusing on the nature of realism and subjectivity in writers from the beginnings to the 20th century.

ENGL 320 Contemporary Literature (3) An investigation of trends and individual writers of today with respect to their immediacy and possible universality. Varied emphasis on the many different forms of current poetry, drama and prose.

ENGL 327 Children’s Literature (3) Explorations of classic and contemporary literature for children from an international and multicultural perspective. Emphasis on the art of storytelling through words and images, criteria for evaluating children’s literature and techniques for classroom presentation. Attention to children’s literature as an expression of its time.

ENGL 328 Adolescent Literature (3) A study of literature written for adolescents or young adults. Examines differences between adolescent and adult literature, criteria for evaluating it, guidelines used by writers and ways in which teachers incorporate it into the curriculum.
ENGL 330 The Art of Film (3) A study of film as an art form. Course considers film as an artifact, made in particular ways and having a certain style and structure. Emphasis is placed on the ways film represents space and time. Laboratory fee required.

ENGL 332 Literature & Film (3) A study of famous and infamous adaptations of literary classics, ancient and modern. The problems involved in adapting one medium of communication to another. Laboratory fee required.

ENGL 333/CMAT 333 Media Genres (3) Analysis of the patterns and conventions of a specific type of media program (e.g., Western, science fiction, situation comedy), media artist (e.g., Hitchcock, Allen, Capra) or style (e.g., film noir). May be repeated for credit when the topic changes. Laboratory fee required.

ENGL 334/CMAT 334 Oral Interpretation of Literature (3) Creative reading: the transformation of the writer's word through the reader's voice in expository, poetic, narrative and dramatic forms. A progression from reading to analysis to interpretation to presentation. Laboratory fee required.

ENGL 337 Great Plays: From the West & East (3) A study of plays from major periods of world drama, with a view to showing the shaping of the literary movements, forms and techniques of the modern theater.

ENGL 338 Modern Drama (3) The drama of the 20th century, with emphasis on contemporary movements and innovations.

ENGL 341 American Literature: The Central Years (3) A critical and historical study of representative American authors and movements—Romanticism, Realism, Naturalism—with emphasis on the literary renaissance of the 19th century.

ENGL 342 Melville, Poe & Whitman: American Voyagers (3) A study of three major American authors whose work explores the romantic figure of the voyager and of the voyage itself, both physical and metaphysical. Emphasis is placed on these authors' use of allegory and symbolism and their affirmation and criticism of certain American ideals and dreams.

ENGL 344 American Fiction (3) A critical and historical study of the ideas, structure and themes of major American novels and short stories, with emphasis on works of the first half of the 20th century.

ENGL 346 The American Dream (3) The continuing cycle of faith and doubt in the brave new world of America, with particular attention to the writers of America's maturity.

ENGL 348 The Multicultural Americas (3) A study of postcolonial literature in the Americas, other than the United States, with an emphasis on tensions between the European cultural tradition and that of the indigenous or nonwhite populations of the Americas. May be repeated for credit when the topic changes.

ENGL 349 Identities: Explorations in the American Past & Present (3) A study of problems of individual identity and social roles: racial, ethnic and sexual. The voices of writers and poets that reflect two worlds, yet are urgently their own.

ENGL 351 Ancient Myth: Paradigms & Transformations (3) An introduction to classical mythology as well as other ancient literatures and mythographies along with their later adapters and interpreters. [ENGL]

ENGL 354 Images of Love (3) A varying look at the faces and reflections of love in literature, art and myth. Readings in selected classical and modern works invite students to compare and contrast modern and traditional ideas about love.
ENGL 356 Literature and Law (3) Examines the relationship between law and literature through close readings of literature dealing with the law, along with close readings of legal texts from a literary perspective. Students read primary course materials with special attention to historical, social and cultural contexts that have shaped them. Along the way, students look at ways that writers employ various techniques and devices to evoke both clarity and ambiguity for different audiences and different purposes.

ENGL 357 Other Worlds: Fantasy, Science Fiction & Mystery (3) Explorations and discoveries of distinctive literary worlds from Scotland Yard to outer space. Specific emphasis may vary. May be repeated for credit when the topic changes.

ENGL 358 Tolkien: Master of Fantasy (3) A close examination of the work of J.R.R. Tolkien in fiction and criticism, with emphasis on The Lord of the Rings. Also considers some of Tolkien’s sources and inspiration from fairy tale, legend and myth.

ENGL 361 The Hero & the Quest (3) The hero and the quest as archetypes, and an introduction to the mythic quest in early English literature from Beowulf to the Arthurian romance. Modern works are read against the background of the heroic tradition.

ENGL 362 Dante, Chaucer & Cervantes: Three Versions of Pilgrimage (3) An examination of Medieval and Renaissance concepts of love and the journey as they are reflected in the major works of these three writers.

ENGL 364 Shakespeare: Kings, Knaves & Fools (3) A thematic approach to Shakespeare’s development and variety, revolving around one work such as Hamlet, and dealing with Renaissance attitudes toward power, freedom and the individual. Shakespeare’s plays are viewed against the background of the Elizabethan period.

ENGL 365 Shakespeare: Love, Myth & Metamorphosis (3) A thematic approach to Shakespeare’s development and variety, centering on one play such as Othello, and dealing with Renaissance attitudes toward love and myth. Shakespeare’s plays are viewed against the background of his age.

ENGL 366 Milton, Blake & Yeats: Poet as Prophet (3) A study in development and contrast: concepts of order and revolt, of vision and revision, in the major works of the three poets. Emphasis among the three may vary from year to year.

ENGL 371 Changing Woman (3) An examination of sexual roles and politics in literature from the Victorian age to the present. Consideration is given to the relationship between gender and genre.

ENGL 372 Feminine Realities: In the Context of Their Times (3) Women’s writing and writing about women in the context of specific times and/or places. Emphasis on the literature, legends and other means (e.g., letters, journals, biographies) by which women’s voices can be heard. May be repeated for credit when the topic changes.

ENGL 374 Austen, the Brontes & Woolf: Rooms of Their Own (3) Classic, Romantic, Modern—these women brought their unique visions to life within the context of larger literary movements but created rooms of their own within which to write and live.

ENGL 391 Language as Technology (3) A consideration of narratives in the information age, historical developments through which changes in linguistic practice manifest themselves, and information theory. The role of languages in the social construction of reality as well as in the narrower sense of specific agents of change.
ENGL 392 The Archaeology of Language (3) A study of the beginnings, principles and designs of language. Competing paradigms of what language is and how it does what it does; how it communicates and conceals meaning; and how it expresses what we feel, think, represent and construe.

ENGL 395 Narrative Discourse: Cross-Media Comparisons (3) A study of narrative, both verbal and visual, as a form of discourse. The course focuses on the nature of narrative, types of narrative and the role of the reader/viewer in the narrative process. In addition to reading and viewing a wide range of narrative texts, from fairy tales to modern fiction, classical myths to television commercials and popular films, students compose their own narratives to gain a deeper understanding of what stories are and why they matter to us.

ENGL 397 Reading Strategies (3) An exploration of ways in which we make sense of literary works, both for ourselves and for others. Emphasis is placed on the relationships between literary texts and contexts (e.g., formal, inter-textual, historical, cultural), which make reading, as an interpretive act, a vital, rich and complex experience. prerequisite or co-requisite: 3 credits of literature coursework ENGL 400 Literature in Society (3) An investigation of how literature emerges from and is shaped by the cultural and historical circumstances of specific times and places. May be repeated for credit when the topic changes.

ENGL 421 The Elizabethan Renaissance: In the Green World (3) A study, through poetry and drama, of the 16th-century English Renaissance. The world that molded Shakespeare and about which Shakespeare wrote.

ENGL 431 The Metaphysical Moment: From T.S. Eliot to John Donne (3) The 20th-century response to 17th-century literature and a study of the metaphysical idea and poetry that sparked that response.

ENGL 432 The Age of Reason (3) A study of major 18th-century writers; readings in poetry, prose and drama. The social, cultural and intellectual fabric of the age.

ENGL 441 The Romantic Imagination (3) A critical analysis of Romanticism and its meaning. The poetry, and some prose, is set against the background of the neoclassical and is viewed as a continuing literary force and ideal.

ENGL 442 The Victorian Paradox (3) Synthesis versus alienation. The Victorian consciousness torn by the emerging turmoil of modern society. Literature as the reflection of an age in transition.

ENGL 450 The Great Moderns (3) A seminar concentrating on three to five major writers of the early 20th century considered against the critical background of Modernism. May be repeated for credit when the topic changes.

ENGL 489 Directed Independent Study (3) Consideration and completion of a special topic or project in the study of literature or language. Each student works closely with a faculty member who helps to set goals, develop a course plan and guide progress. The project must be carefully planned and have the approval of both the instructor involved and the literature program director.

ENGL 490 Thesis in Literature (3) Directed individual instruction in the writing of a scholarly, critical or research paper. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The thesis must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the director and a second reader, one of whom is usually the division chair. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.5 GPA and/or permission of both the program director and the division chair

ENGL 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

ENGL 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student’s choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

ENGL 497 Topics in Literature (3) Intensive exploration of topics in literature of mutual interest to students and faculty. Content varies according to the concurrent interests of faculty and students. The topic studied appears under that name in the class schedule. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisite: none unless listed in the class schedule

ENGL 498 Seminar in English: The Modern Tradition (3) A culminating close examination of a major 20th-century work in the light of modern literary traditions. Students relate the work, as a touchstone, to other writings of the past and present. Emphasis on independent thought culminating in a written project, presented before the class. Subject may change from year to year. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisite: senior major status or permission of the program director

ENTREPRENEURSHIP (ENTR)

Entrepreneurship courses (ENTR) are offered by the Merrick School of Business.

ENTR 101 Imagination, Creativity and Entrepreneurship (3) Students experience what it means to discover the patterns that produce breakthrough ideas when attempting to solve business problems. Participants in this class are exposed to a systematic approach to changing the way they create, identify and sell these ideas. They are also introduced to a number of techniques, concepts and methods that can be added to their creative skills toolkit. The course is designed around real methods that have been proven to work in some of the leading corporations in the world. These methods are conveyed through both interactive and experiential learning approaches. Students form teams for the purposes of developing creative solutions to problems and coming up with a concept around which a venture can be based. [SOSC]

ENTR 300 The Entrepreneurial Experience (3) The entrepreneurial process considered as a paradigm, tracing the process and highlighting its practical applications. Special emphasis on the creation and initial growth phases of new ventures, with discussion of related ethical, international and legal issues. Local entrepreneurs serve as guest speakers. Open to all students, this course functions as a survey course as well as the first in the specialization in entrepreneurship sequence. There is a lab fee associated with this course.

ENTR 320 Opportunity Assessment and Development (3) Developing the analytical and conceptual skills required to test the feasibility of a concept for a new venture. A venture feasibility study involves undertaking activities that may help determine whether one should go forward with an opportunity. The process of feasibility analysis involves identifying, evaluating and determining whether to exploit an opportunity. Students will learn a number of practical skills and techniques that are applied to opportunities that students will explore. The creation of a feasibility study is the primary activity of the class. The course involves a significant amount of outside work that is time consuming, ambiguous, complex and multi-functional in nature. Feasibility analysis forces students to: undertake a significant amount of field research; develop and think critically about business concepts; answer fundamental questions about strategic, marketing, financial, operational and human resource issues about business concepts; and then research a decision about going forward to start the venture that is proposed. prerequisites: ENTR 300 and MKTG 301

ENTR 330 Internal Control and Growth for Entrepreneurial Ventures (3) Primary focus on managerial accounting practices, diagnostic analysis of financial statements and implementation of financial and accounting management systems designed to enhance the internal business control mechanism for an entrepreneurial venture. Topics are covered in the context of strategic and tactical decisions regarding entry into and exit from different product and service markets. prerequisites: ENTR 300, FIN 331 and ACCT 201

ENTR 430 Capital Acquisition and Strategic Financial Management for Entrepreneurial Ventures (3) Provides knowledge and training in the area of capital acquisition strategies and tactics through the life cycle of an entrepreneurial venture and coverage of valuation techniques as applied to the allocation of business assets. Topics include start-up and mezzanine financing and their bridging to initial public offers on the capital acquisition side, as well as capital budgeting and internal control techniques applied in the strategic context developed in earlier courses. prerequisite: ENTR 330

ENTR 450 Entrepreneurial Organization, Planning and Implementation (3) The capstone course of the specialization in entrepreneurship. Students apply knowledge and experience gained in prior courses to develop and implement a new venture. Outside entrepreneurs bring real-world problems to class and students participate in field experiences. Emphasis is placed on creating and continuously enhancing an overall management system to guide the entrepreneurial venture as it grows. prerequisites: ENTR 300 and ENTR 320.

ENTR 460 Social Enterprise (3) Successful nonprofit organizations are consistently challenged to expand their impact, be socially responsible and fiscally accountable, and find new sources of revenue. In response, more and more organizations are discovering innovative ways to generate both financial and social returns on their investments. Students and selected nonprofits learn about successful ventures and engage in lectures and hands-on work to determine the feasibility of entrepreneurial ideas, recognize and overcome financial obstacles, and convert social venture ideas into reality. prerequisites: ENTR 320 and ENTR 430 or FIN 430, or by permission of instructor

ENTR 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

ENTR 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

ENTR 497 Special Topics in Entrepreneurship (3) The entrepreneurship faculty, from time to time, offer an opportunity to integrate new material into the undergraduate program reflecting changes in the field and in the educational needs of students. prerequisite: ENTR 300

ENTR 499 Independent Study: Entrepreneurship (1-3) An independent study completed under the direction of a faculty member. For eligibility and procedures, refer to the Merrick School of Business Independent Study Policy.
ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE (ENVS)

Environmental Science courses (ENVS) are offered by the Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. Related courses are listed under Biology (BIOL), Chemistry (CHEM) and Physical Science (PHSC).

ENVS 201 Human Ecology (3) Introduces the student to aspects and dimensions of the impact of burgeoning human populations on human societies and life on Earth in general. Specific applied topics in environmental science, ecology and sustainability are covered, with a focus on urban ecosystem issues. An emphasis is placed on current and newsworthy topics at scales ranging from local to global. Understanding the place of humans in the biosphere and how to ensure a habitable planet for future generations and for other organisms is a primary goal of the course. [GSCI]

ENVS 221 Science of the Environment (4) A survey of a number of scientific disciplines related to the earth’s changing environment, including geology, ecology, zoology, hydrology, climatology and chemistry. These disciplines are integrated to provide a clearer understanding of complex environmental issues, using both local and global case studies. The laboratory portion of the course investigates environmental hypotheses and theories and introduces students to the techniques of environmental data collection and analysis. Lab fee required. [GSCI]

ENVS 289 Independent Study: Introduction to Field/Lab Research (3) Provides students with the opportunity to pursue a research topic or special project in the natural and environmental sciences. Students work closely with a faculty member who helps set goals, develop a course plan and guide progress. Projects vary with individual student interests. Lab fee may be required. prerequisite: permission of the division chair

ENVS 300 Greater Baltimore Urban Ecosystems: Field Investigations (4) An introduction to local ecosystems; their determining natural forces and human-caused challenges; and strategies, methods and techniques used to assess ecosystem condition. Students develop skills to evaluate ecological assessment reports, guidance documents and sampling techniques produced and used by environmental agencies and other interested parties. The course includes both classroom and field components, with frequent class trips to local ecosystems to assess and compare their characteristics. prerequisite: ENVS 221

ENVS 375 Molecular Genetics and Biotechnology in Society (4) The science behind practices such as cloning and genetic engineering and advances in biotechnology in human health, agriculture, aquaculture and environmental sciences are discussed. This course raises awareness of the impact of biotechnology on human society and discusses related ethical issues, and it provides students with the knowledge to evaluate the risks and impacts of advances in biotechnology. The laboratory portion of the course introduces students to the techniques used in molecular genetics, molecular biology and biotechnology. prerequisite: CHEM 101

ENVS 490 Special Projects in Environmental Sciences (3) Provides students with the opportunity to pursue a research topic or special project in environmental science. Students work closely with a faculty member who helps set goals and develop a course plan and guides progress. The project must be carefully planned and have approval of the course instructor. prerequisites: ENVS 221 and ENVS 300

ENVS 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director
ENVS 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. Prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director.

FINANCE (FIN)

Finance courses (FIN) are offered by the Merrick School of Business.

FIN 300 Personal Finance (3) A practical introduction to financial concepts and tools such as the time value of money, risk-return tradeoffs, asset pricing models, the efficient market hypothesis, financial databases and Internet searches. Personal Finance then applies these concepts and tools to personal financial decisions about housing, personal and small business borrowing, insurance, income taxes, retirement planning and investments in common stock, bonds, mutual funds, and futures and options. FIN 300 may not be used as a specialization course by finance majors.

FIN 330 EXCEL for Financial Analysis (2) Provides students with skills in the use of EXCEL spreadsheets to prepare and present analyses for personal, corporate, real estate and investment finance. Prerequisite: FIN 331.

FIN 331 Financial Management (3) An overview and understanding of fundamental principles of financial decision-making and their application to internal and external problem-solving by the business enterprise. Topics include financial statement analysis and forecasting, time value of money and security valuation, corporate capital budgeting, cost of capital and capital structure. Thematic coverage encompasses the traditional, international and ethical dimensions of financial decision-making. Prerequisites: ACCT 201, ECON 200 or 3 hours of micro- or macroeconomics, and OPRE 201.

FIN 332 Financial Modeling and Communication (3) Designed to equip students with a working knowledge of the technical methods and tools of financial analysis, as well as to provide them with the ability to design and implement professional-quality written, oral and electronic presentation of their results. Topics include financial statement constructions, creating exhibits for presentation of financial information, and analysis and communication of corporate financial policy. Prerequisites: FIN 331 and INSS 300.

FIN 333 Investment Analysis and Portfolio Management (3) An understanding of the basic valuation principles for financial instruments such as common stocks, bonds, and futures and options. These instruments are studied in the context of modern portfolio theory. Company and industry analysis projects provide the chance for practical experience. Prerequisite: FIN 331.

FIN 420 Risk and Insurance (3) Fundamental concepts of insurance/reinsurance products as risk management tools for individuals and corporations. Topics include the regulatory environment, financial operations of insurance companies and the role of the capital market in the risk management process.

FIN 430 Entrepreneurial Organization and Finance (3) Provides knowledge and training in the area of capital acquisition strategies and tactics through the life cycle of an entrepreneurial venture and coverage of valuation techniques as applied to the allocation of business areas. Topics include start-up and mezzanine financing and bridging to initial public offers on the capital budgeting and internal control techniques applied in the strategic context developed in earlier courses. Prerequisite: FIN 331.

FIN 433 International Financial Management (3) In global financial markets, exchange rate risk exposure demands careful management and the use of financial instruments for hedging currency risk. These... include currency options, futures and swaps. Working capital management and long-term financing and investment decisions are also crucial to today’s financial managers and need to be understood in the context of expanding global financial markets. prerequisite: FIN 331

FIN 450 Professional Finance Portfolio (3) Students apply finance tools and techniques to business plans for selected nonprofit and for-profit firms. Nonprofit firms are assisted in establishing profit-making subsidiaries. Over the semester, students learn about successful ventures and engage in lectures and hands-on experiences. The students’ work for external firms focuses on determining the feasibility of entrepreneurial ideas, analyzing financial obstacles and converting ideas into reality. prerequisite: FIN 332

FIN 470 Real Estate Investments (3) Introduces the fundamentals of real estate investment analysis, including elements of mortgage financing and taxation, and applies the standard tools of financial analysis and economics to real estate valuation. Topics include traditional and nontraditional appraisal methods, techniques of real estate financing, real estate work-outs, innovations in real estate financing and the relationship to the macroeconomic environment. prerequisites: FIN 331 and REED 312

FIN 471 Real Estate Finance (3) Analyzes the instruments, techniques and institutions of real estate finance. Emphasis is placed on the sources of funds, mortgage risk analysis and typical policies and procedures used in financing residential and commercial properties. prerequisites: FIN 331 and REED 312

FIN 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

FIN 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

FIN 495 Internship in Finance (3) Provides students with practical real-world experience in an organization. The course requires a minimum of 120 hours of practical work with a qualified firm based on explicit statements of student responsibilities and faculty/firm monitoring mechanism. Students will work closely with both the firm and a faculty member. prerequisites: completion of 9 hours of finance courses, with a minimum GPA of 3.0 in these courses. Completion of MGMT 330 is recommended. Permission of the department chair is required.

FIN 497 Special Topics in Finance (3) The economics and finance faculty, from time to time, offer an opportunity to integrate new material into the undergraduate program reflecting changes in the field and in the educational needs of students. prerequisite: FIN 331

FIN 499 Independent Study: Finance (1-3) An independent study under the direction of a faculty member. For eligibility and procedures, see the Merrick School of Business Independent Study Policy.
FORENSIC STUDIES (FSCS)
Forensic Studies (FSCS) courses are offered by the School of Criminal Justice in the College of Public Affairs. Related courses are listed under Criminal Justice (CRJU).

FSCS 301 Forensic Science (3) Introduces students to forensic-science topics, including crime-scene processing, fingerprints, firearms and toolmarks, questioned documents, serology, fire and explosives, trace evidence, pathology and instrumental analysis. Lectures, demonstrations and basic laboratory exercises are used to present the subject matter.

FSCS 307 Crime Scene Investigation (3) Focuses on the scientific techniques used to investigate different types of crime scenes, including burglaries, murders, rapes, arsons and bombings. Students learn to recognize, identify, collect, preserve, transport, record and process physical evidence such as body fluids, body fluid stains, items of trace evidence, tire and shoe impressions, latent fingerprints, weapons and tools. Laboratory fee required.

FSCS 400 Laboratory Safety and Quality Assurance (3) Introduces students to the various principles of safety and quality assurance in a forensic laboratory. Laboratory safety topics include OSHA standards, material safety data sheets (MSDS), workplace safety, personal protective equipment, employer liability and employee responsibilities. Quality assurance topics include quality concepts and quality assurance principles, documentation, document control, standard operating procedures, proficiency testing, validation standards, test standards, instrument calibration, instrument maintenance, auditing principles, laboratory accreditation and analyst certification. prerequisites: Biology I, Chemistry I and II, Organic Chemistry I and II, and Physics I and II

FSCS 401 Trace Evidence I (4) Introduces methods of collecting, handling, preparing, identifying and comparing items of trace evidence. Topics include hairs, fibers, fabric, cordage, tape, glass, paint, paint chips, wood, vegetation, soil and other items requiring microscopic examination. Laboratory fee required. prerequisites: Biology I, Chemistry I and II, Organic Chemistry I and II, Physics I and II, and FSCS 400, 405 and 407

FSCS 403 Trace Evidence II (4) A continuation of Trace Evidence I, this course focuses on items of trace evidence requiring instrument analysis. Topics include flammable liquids, explosives, bank dyes, plastics, polymers, gunshot residue, metals and natural elements. Laboratory fee required. prerequisites: Biology I, Chemistry I and II, Organic Chemistry I and II, Physics I and II, and FSCS 400, FSCS 401, FSCS 405 and FSCS 407

FSCS 405 Microscopy (4) Provides instruction in the methods of collecting, handling, preparing, identifying and comparing items of trace evidence. Topics include use of the stereomicroscope, compound microscope, comparison microscope, microspectrophotometer, scanning electron microscope, polarizing microscope, fluorescent microscope and hot-stage microscope. These methods are demonstrated, and students conduct hands-on analyses of materials using some of this equipment. Laboratory fee required. prerequisites: Biology I, Chemistry I and II, Organic Chemistry I and II, and Physics I and II; prerequisite or co-requisite: FSCS 400

FSCS 407 Instrumental Analysis (4) The use of scientific instruments in forensic testing. Lectures and laboratories cover instrumentation theory, data systems, method development and qualitative and quantitative analytical techniques. Techniques discussed include gas chromatography (GC), liquid chromatography (LC), thin-layer chromatography (TLC), ion chromatography (IC), capillary electrophoresis (CE), infrared spectrometry (IR), mass spectrometry (MS) and X-ray diffraction (XRD). Laboratory fee required. prerequisites: Biology I, Chemistry I and II, Organic Chemistry I and II, Physics I and II, and FSCS 400 and FSCS 405
FSCS 410 Forensic Serology (4) Exposes students to both the theoretical and practical aspects of forensic serology. At the end of the course, students will have gained practical experience and will have a comprehensive knowledge of techniques presently being used in the forensic examination of body fluids. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisites: Biology I, Chemistry I and II, Organic Chemistry I and II, Physics I and II, and FSCS 400 and FSCS 405.

FSCS 418 Mathematical Applications in Police Science (3) Introduces the various uses and applications of mathematics in law enforcement. Students learn to interpret and construct graphs and tables, calculate clearance rates and conduct trend analysis. The basics of operational research are explored relative to the needs of law enforcement. Probabilities and statistical techniques, which provide the basis for DNA interpretation, are addressed.

FSCS 424 Fourth Amendment: Interpretation and Application (3) Covers the doctrines and cases inherent in and arising from the Fourth Amendment: the law of arrest, search and seizure, standing, forfeiture and derivative evidence. Organized as a topical analysis, the course identifies the elements of each constitutional area and references major federal and state cases to illustrate the application and source of the rules.

FSCS 426 Innovative Investigative Techniques (3) Advanced techniques and strategies designed to further aid in investigating serious or complex crimes are presented. Particular attention is paid to the procedural aspects of police activity as they relate to the admissibility of evidence in state and federal prosecutions. Content includes improvements to basic investigative skills and a discussion of alternative tactics. Also covered are the necessary, suggested and explicit requirements for a federal Title III investigation and a Maryland wiretap investigation.

FSCS 430 Specialty Warrants, Wiretaps and Historical Conspiracies (3) Focuses on the extreme recourses available to law enforcement in investigating serious offenders. Content includes the legalities involved in obtaining trap and trace devices, electronic and video surveillance and body wires. These investigative techniques are then combined with traditional investigative techniques to develop evidence of historical conspiracies against criminal organizations.

FSCS 454 Death Investigation (3) Presents the medical and legal investigation of death. The history and development of forensic pathology are considered. The course examines the manners of death, including homicide, suicide, accidental, natural and undetermined. Postmortem changes are also examined. The course is organized in a lecture series format. Lecture topics include sharp and blunt force trauma, thermal injuries, drowning, drug and alcohol abuse, pediatric forensics, gunshot injuries, asphyxia and motor vehicle trauma.

FSCS 460 Forensic Photography (3) Familiarizes students with, and provides a basic understanding of, the camera (35mm, digital and video) with respect to crime scene analysis. Using photographic techniques, students learn how to document a crime scene and pertinent physical evidence including tire impressions, shoe prints, latent prints and blood spatter. In addition, students explore available light, flash, flash fill and painting-by-light processes. Students learn how to construct and maintain a photographic log and how to enter photographs into court as evidence. Students create a portfolio of their work. Laboratory fee required.

FSCS 480 Forensic Documentation (3) Prepares students to document and manage cases properly from inception to successful conclusion. Students gain a basic understanding of investigative and forensic case documentation.

FSCS 482 Moot Court and Trial Advocacy for Forensics (3) Students learn courtroom presentation techniques designed to elicit direct, persuasive and comprehensive testimony as it relates to various evidentiary issues at criminal hearings and trials. Students prepare and present direct testimony and are cross-examined by attorneys in a simulated courtroom setting.
FSCS 487 Field Internship in Forensic Science (3) Provides field experience to students through laboratory assignments with various criminal justice entities. This requirement is completed at the end of the program. Eligible for continuing studies grade.

FSCS 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

FSCS 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of a student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

FSCS 496 Field Internship in Police Science (3) Broadens the educational experience of students through appropriate observational and work assignments with criminal investigation units. This requirement is completed at the end of the program. Eligible for continuing studies grade.

FSCS 497 Topics in Forensics (3) Examines special topics and issues in the field of forensics such as homicide investigation, blood spatter analysis, and forensic medicine and public health. Course may be repeated for credit when the topic changes.

FSCS 498 Laboratory Topics in Forensics (4) Examines special laboratory topics and issues in the field of forensics such as DNA analysis, questioned document examination and drug analysis. Course may be repeated for credit when the topic changes. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: none unless listed in the class schedule

GOVERNMENT AND PUBLIC POLICY (GVPP)

Government and Public Policy (GVPP) courses are offered by the School of Public and International Affairs within the College of Public Affairs.

GVPP 201 American Government (3) An examination of the foundations, politics and institutions of the American political system. An introduction to the American ideology, the Constitution, the practice of politics and the institutions that constitute the governing structures of the country. [SOSC]

GVPP 210 Global Politics (3) Surveys global events and processes. The course covers issues of war and peace, arms and armaments, international governmental and nongovernmental organizations, the politics of global economic relations both among nations of the developed north and between northern and southern states. Humanitarian and environmental issues are also covered. Emerging trends in globalization, terrorism and ethnic conflict are considered. [SOSC]

GVPP 284 Politics in Comparative Perspective (3) Introduces students to the study of politics and political science. The course covers basic concepts in comparative politics, including ideologies, political behavior and political institutions. These concepts are used to explore the political experiences of representative countries from the Western democratic, transitional and developing worlds. Coverage is also given to the impact of globalization on selected countries. Specific countries covered will vary with instructor. [SOSC]
GVPP 300 American Political Institutions (3) The role and interrelationship of the federal, state and local governments in the formulation and implementation of public policy are examined. Major contemporary issues are explored to illustrate the policymaking process.

GVPP 315 Public Policy Analysis (3) Students gain a foundation in policy analysis, the process of creating, critically assessing and communicating information to determine which of various policy alternatives will best achieve given goals within the American policy arena. Students understand the policy process and analysis by defining, assessing and describing public problems; identifying policy goals and criteria to assess possible strategies; crafting appropriate policy options by borrowing, adapting and creating; analyzing and predicting the effects of alternative policy options; and communicating policy advice in written and oral presentations.

GVPP 320 Public Administration (3) The problems of municipal, state and federal governments as these relate to organization, budgeting, personnel, welfare, control, reporting, public relations, federal-state-local relations, the city government in society and the division of state and federal powers.

GVPP 321 Leadership: An Experiential Approach (3) Organized around developing leadership, this course helps students to identify goals and objectives and achieve them. This course uses adventure education and outdoor experience to support the development of personal and professional competencies for individuals interested in careers in community-serving nonprofit organizations.

GVPP 322 Bureaucracy and Public Policy (3) An understanding of the institutional, political, legal and ethical challenges of public policy management in the contemporary administrative state.

GVPP 324 American Public Policy (3) Analysis of the formulation and implementation of governmental policies at all levels in such areas as art and culture, economic stability, income maintenance, education, the environment, public finance and older adults. Prerequisite: GVPP 300 or permission of the instructor.

GVPP 326 Urban Politics and Public Policy (3) An examination of the organization and main functions of urban government, the major participants and key issues in the urban political process, and the political relationship between cities and other levels of government. The distinctive characteristics of the political process in the urban setting with special emphasis on Baltimore.

GVPP 340 Constitutional Law (3) The role of the Constitution in the American system of government. Origins and historical development of the Constitution, the theory and operation of the federal court, and the effects of Supreme Court decisions on the relationship between different branches of government and on the rights of individuals in American society.

GVPP 341 Civil Liberties and the Bill of Rights (3) An advanced course about constitutional law that focuses on the Bill of Rights and issues of civil liberties that have arisen as the Supreme Court has changed its interpretation of the constitutional basis of decisions related to those rights. The course stresses legal reasoning and research skills; it also provides information about constitutional issues in relation to American governmental processes and policies. Suggested prerequisite: GVPP 340.

GVPP 344 American Presidency (3) An examination of the presidency in the American system of government. The powers of and limits on the president are studied, as are the relationships between the president and other major actors in the political system.

GVPP 345 The Legislative Process (3) An examination of legislatures in the American system of government. Emphasis is placed on the study of the representative function of legislatures, the ways in which they operate and their impact on public policy.
GVPP 348 State and Local Government (3) Emphasis on the organization, powers and functions of state, local, county and municipal governments. Government in theory and practice at different levels in the state of Maryland.

GVPP 360 Parties, Campaigns and Elections (3) A study of the rise, history and functions of political parties in the United States. Campaign management and strategies as well as electoral tactics and movements are also examined.

GVPP 362 Media and Government (3) A study of relationships among governments, public opinion and the media. Analysis of the components of public opinion and their individual and collective influence on government. The functioning of the media and its influence on both government and public opinion.

GVPP 381 American Political Thought (3) A study of the political thought in the United States that has provided the foundations of American democracy from colonial times to the present, focusing on political concepts, principles, ideas and issues.

GVPP 382 Political Ideologies (3) Focuses on the philosophical and ideological bases for the state. The political economy and social structure of governing ideologies are examined and illustrated in discussions about democracy, capitalism, liberalism, fascism, communism and socialism. Challenges to these ideologies as presented by religion and nationalism are also discussed.

GVPP 384 Comparative Government (3) An examination of the historical and social background, political process, governments and institutions of representative foreign governments, including Great Britain, France and Germany. The identification, comparison and evaluation of the main components and characteristics of the governing process are examined.

GVPP 385 International Relations (3) A study of concepts and principles of international relations; the nature of national power; state systems; balance of power; internationalism; causes and consequences of international stability; and trends in international relations, diplomacy and conflict resolution. Prerequisites: GVPP 210 or CNCM 102

GVPP 386 American Foreign Policy (3) An examination of the political, economic and military considerations involved in the formulation and implementation of United States foreign policy. Included are the constitutional responsibilities for foreign policy, the economic context, military doctrine and the country’s traditional international relationships.

GVPP 408 Methods in Government and Public Policy (3) Focuses on research and analytical techniques, statistical measurement and methods of science used in the study of governmental organizations, elections, political behavior and policy analysis.

GVPP 423 Public Budgeting and Personnel Administration (3) Focuses on budgeting and personnel administration at the national, state and local government levels. Examined are the form, content and processes of public budget development and its review, execution and management; also examined are the principles and functions of public personnel management, salary, schedules, unions, performance evaluation and retirement. Prerequisite: GVPP 320 or permission of the instructor

GVPP 425 Administrative Law and Processes (3) The growth of the administrative process in the United States, the necessity for the delegation of legislative authority to administrative agencies and the need for judicial control of the bureaucracy. Emphasis on federal and state of Maryland administrative and regulatory processes.

GVPP 426 Foundations of Democracy I (3) Examines the scope and nature of the fundamental values reflected in our system of democratic governance. Democracy joins individual citizens, neighbors and communities. Acting together they form the essence of an associational life—that is to say, a life lived with reciprocal linkages to the well-being of others and to the common good. Particular attention is placed on the decision-making and organizational design systems that characterize our social, political and economic institutions as well as community-serving nonprofits.

GVPP 427 Foundations of Democracy II (3) The primary focus is an examination of the scope of ethical behavior reflected in the various aspects of the public policy process. Particular attention is given to the administrative implementation of policy and the fundamental values inherent in the American democratic process.

GVPP 461 Maryland Government Processes and Politics (3) A study of the structure of Maryland’s three branches of government and their relationship to interest groups, political parties and public policies.

GVPP 463 Interest Group Politics and Lobbying (3) Examination of interest groups as key components in the functioning of a pluralistic political system. The proliferation of interests from trade associations to public, nonprofit interests is documented. The techniques of lobbying are also explored.

GVPP 465 Survey Research and Public Opinion Analysis (3) The methodologies of survey research and public opinion analysis such as sampling procedures, questionnaire design and measurement issues. Students are introduced to evaluation of current political polls and become conversant with some of the key issues in designing and carrying out polls.

GVPP 470/GVPP 471 Individual Research (1-3) Individual research on a subject of mutual interest to both student and supervisory faculty. Depending on the scope and depth of research, 1 to 3 credits may be earned for the successful completion of either course. The student may, upon approval, take both courses. prerequisites: a minimum of 12 credit hours in GVPP courses earned at the University of Baltimore and approval of the program director

GVPP 479 Special Topics in International Studies (3) In-depth examination of selected topics in international relations and/or comparative politics of mutual interest to faculty and students. Content varies according to the concurrent interests of faculty and students. The topic for study appears under that name in the class schedule. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes.

GVPP 480 Environmental Politics and Policy (3) Focuses on the process of public decision-making as it relates to national and global environmental issues. The course addresses policy-making institutions and political behavior and how these have shaped American responses to such issues as clean air and water, energy use and natural resource consumption, among others. The course explores how agencies use risk assessment and other decision tools to establish regulatory objectives and how tax, regulatory and other policy tools are used to manage the environment.

GVPP 481 Globalization (3) Examines the rapid global changes shepherding in the 21st century. Students examine the social, economic and political effects of a smaller, more connected world. Global citizenship, intertwined economies and global institutions joining nation states as primary global actors are presented as macro changes to national identities, economies and public policies.

GVPP 482 Topics in Political Theory (3) Selected political theory examines perennial issues in political thought within the frameworks of classical, medieval, Renaissance, Enlightenment and modern political theory. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes.

GVPP 483 Aging and Public Policy (3) The development of public policies as they relate to older Americans is examined. Analysis of the political attitudes and behaviors of older persons to determine the effects of older adults on the political process. Major federal legislation developed to respond to particular problems encountered by older persons is also analyzed (e.g., income maintenance, health care, transportation, housing, employment, nutrition).
GVPP 484 International Political Economy (3) Examination of the rapid changes in the postwar system of trade, production and finance. Students are exposed to discussions concerning the impact that these changes have presented to national identities and the public policy responses undertaken by states to maintain and enhance their position in the global trading system.

GVPP 485 The Far East in World Affairs (3) Political, economic and military aspects of India, Japan and Southeast Asia. Emphasis on their contemporary foreign relations.

GVPP 486 The Middle East (3) Political, economic and military aspects of Turkey, Iran, Egypt and the other Arab states, Israel and the eastern Mediterranean. Emphasis on foreign relations, the interrelationship of these powers and their relationships with Western European powers, the Soviet Union, the People’s Republic of China and the United States.

GVPP 487 Western Europe (3) Political, economic and military aspects of Austria, the Benelux countries, France, Italy and Germany with an emphasis on their contemporary foreign relations.

GVPP 488 The Commonwealth of Independent States and China in World Affairs (3) International relations of the Commonwealth of Independent States and the People’s Republic of China. An example of the political, economic and military considerations of these two countries in the conduct of their relationships.

GVPP 489 International Organization (3) The study of the development and evolution of international organizations, including the United Nations, regional and functional organizations, and nongovernmental organizations. The course focuses on the United Nations’ principal organs and specialized agencies and on major international intergovernmental organizations. Consideration is also given to nongovernmental organizations as well as informal organizations. Simulation or role-playing exercises or trips to the United Nations may be included at the instructor’s discretion. prerequisite: GVPP 201 or CNCM 102

GVPP 490/GVPP 491 Internship (3) Internship designed to broaden the educational experience of the student through work assignments with appropriate governmental agencies. Depending on the academic value of the work assignments, the student may enroll for up to a total of 6 credits in this internship. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: major in government and public policy or jurisprudence, a minimum of 12 credits completed in GVPP courses with a GPA of at least 3.0, and approval of the program director

GVPP 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

GVPP 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student’s choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

GVPP 497 Topics in Government and Public Policy (1-6) Intensive exploration of topics in political science of mutual interest to faculty and students. Content varies according to the concurrent interests of faculty and students. The topic for study appears under that name in the class schedule.

GVPP 499 Senior Seminar (3) A senior-level seminar required of all government and public policy majors. Topics considered include the perspectives of the major subfields of government and public policy and their relations with other disciplines. Students demonstrate their abilities to analyze, assess and write about relevant issues and practices in government and public administration. Open to students who are not government and public policy majors only by permission of the instructor.

HEALTH SYSTEMS MANAGEMENT (HSMG)

Health Systems Management courses (HSMG) are offered by the School of Health and Human Services within the College of Public Affairs.

HSMG 300 Health Indicators (3) A basic introduction to classical approaches typically used to describe population health. Emphasizes appropriate summaries and methods of health utilization data display in tables and in graphs. Use of rates, ratios and proportions are addressed. Introduces basic data management, exploratory data analysis and report generation. Students gain hands-on experience in using computer applications such as spreadsheets, statistical packages and database management while becoming acquainted with useful health data sources.

HSMG 301 Introduction to Health Economics (3) A survey course of the major topics in health economics. Students should develop an appreciation of the contribution economics make to the study of health and health policy. Topics to be covered include the demand for health and health care, workforce issues and the organization and financing of the U.S. health-care system. prerequisite: entry-level course in microeconomics HSMG 302 Statistics for Health Management and Finance (3) An introduction to the purposes and practices of statistical and financial analysis in the health management sector. Students evaluate data analysis as presented in health management and finance literature. Students also learn to distinguish between information based upon speculation, intuition and wishful thinking and that based upon systematic analysis of data.

HSMG 370 Overview of Health-Care Delivery System (3) Provides a systematic overview of the U.S. health services system to familiarize the student with various mechanisms through which health services are delivered. Systems approach assists students in studying details of the various topics while maintaining a broad perspective of health-care delivery.

HSMG 371 Principles of Health-Care Management I (3) Provides an understanding of the conceptual foundations and practices of management within health services organizations. Presents an overview of the structure, operation and management of health services organizations. Perspectives from organizational theory and general management provide a conceptual basis for understanding and analyzing the practice of management in health service organizations. Uses the case study approach to develop management skills through the analysis of health-care industry examples.

HSMG 372 Principles of Health-Care Management II (3) Provides an understanding of the conceptual foundations and practices of management within health services organizations. Perspectives from organizational theory and general management provide a conceptual basis for understanding and analyzing the practice of management in health-care organizations. Uses the case study approach to develop management skills through the analysis of health-care industry examples. Examines principles of management in health service organizations, specifically focusing on health professional accreditation, licensure, personnel issues, labor relations and selected issues in material handling particular to health services organizations. prerequisite: HSMG 371

HSMG 373 Health Policy and Politics (3) An in-depth study of a number of current policy issues in the American health-care system. Particular attention is paid to the roles and powers of nonmedical participants, including consumers, planners, administrators and policymakers.
HSMG 374 Epidemiology (3) Epidemiology is the study of how health and disease are distributed in populations and of factors that influence or determine this distribution. It is the basic science of public health. This course introduces epidemiology and epidemiologic approaches to the problems of health and disease. The basic principles and methods of epidemiology are presented with applications to public health and clinical practice.

HSMG 378 Introduction to Global Health (3) Provides an introduction to important global health issues, including health determinants and key areas of disease burden, and the role that new health technologies can play in solving these problems. Students examine case studies of successful global health interventions to understand features of successful programs. Working in small groups, students use their knowledge to design a solution to a real-world health challenge facing a developing country.

HSMG 470 Individual Research (3) Individual research on an academically sound project of interest in the health systems management field. Research is to be conducted in consultation with a monitoring faculty member. prerequisite: permission of the program director

HSMG 475 Managed Care I (3) Introduces the basic theoretical concepts concerning care, practical management issues and areas of controversy as they pertain to managed care. Topics include benefits design in managed care, structure and management of health-care delivery systems, financing of managed care, medical-surgical utilization, disease management and future managed care trends.

HSMG 476 Managed Care II (3) Addresses theoretical concepts; health plan operational management; data and information management; public-sector managed care; regulatory, ethical and legal issues; and finance, budgeting, rating and underwriting plans. prerequisite: HSMG 475 or permission of the instructor

HSMG 477 Health-Care Law and Risk Management (3) A study of the major legal issues encountered in the health-care field by administrators and practitioners. Topics include issues of health-care need, cost and quality control, Medicare and Medicaid, access to health care, the business roles of health institutions, health-care contracts and claims, right to treatment and federal health plans vs. private health coverage.

HSMG 490 Survey Research and Data Analysis for Health Services Administration (3) This hands-on course provides an overview of typical data analysis methods used in the health services setting, with an emphasis on surveys, including statistical analysis used for health management decision-making. Reviews typical graphical displays of data used in quality assurance programs. Introduces basic PC applications necessary for health managers such as spreadsheets and databases. prerequisite: APST 308 or equivalent HSMG 491 Health Planning and Program Evaluation (3) Enriches students’ understanding of the complexity of the planning and evaluation processes used by health-care organizations. Covers theoretical and historical foundations of health planning, the relationship between health planning and regulation and the application of planning methods. Also presents various planning and evaluation models and techniques necessary to equip students with practical evaluation and planning skills.

HSMG 492 Internship (3) The internship serves as a bridge between theory and practice. Students apply their knowledge and acquire insights into the management of health service organizations. This 90- to 120-hour-based practicum offers opportunities for observation, participation and applying administrative skills in the institutional setting. Course is eligible for continuing studies grade.

HSMG 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors program director
HSMG 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student’s choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director.

HSMG 498 Strategic Management in Health Care (3) Examines strategic management in health-care organizations. Includes discussions of the nature of strategic management; the environment of health organizations; and methods of formulating, implementing and controlling the strategic management of health-care delivery. prerequisites: HSMG 300, HSMG 301, HSMG 370 and HSMG 371 or permission of the program director.

HISTORY (HIST)

History (HIST) courses are offered by the Division of Legal, Ethical and Historical Studies in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences.

HIST 101 World History to 1500 (3) Explores the emergence of the modern world, from prehistoric times to early modern times, through an examination of selected themes across the world's cultures. Themes may include the arts, society and religion, global interaction of cultures or competing ideas of human dignity and self-determination. Special emphasis is given to the role of deep cultural roots over the long term of historical development and the long-term effect of traditional values and cultural practices. [HIPL]

HIST 102 World History Since 1500 (3) Explores the emergence of the modern world, from the end of the 15th century to contemporary times, through an examination of selected themes across the world’s cultures. Such themes may include the arts, society and religion, global competition and human rights, technological change, nationalist movements and self-determination. Special emphasis is given to the interaction and interdependence of the world's population as a whole. [HIPL]

HIST 111 Early America (3) This course focuses on the history of the United States to 1860 with emphasis on large-scale social and cultural phenomena such as the origin and impact of colonial migration, the forming of regional identities, the role of political ideologies and the influence of social movements. [HIPL]

HIST 112 Modern America (3) Focuses on the history of the United States from the 1860s to the present with emphasis on major social and cultural trends and movements. Topics include impact of race and ethnicity, rise of the New South, role of political ideologies, reform and labor movements, and migration and immigration. The history of ordinary people is stressed. [HIPL]

HIST 121 World History of Art to 1500 (3) Surveys human aesthetics up to the Renaissance, introducing students to the iconography and the artistic connections between global cultures, including those of Africa, Asia and Europe. While developing critical-thinking and communication skills, students explore human creations inspired by religion, the natural world and love. Incorporating the printed works of critics and historians, museum pieces, archeological evidence and electronic media, this course teaches students how to interpret an image as a primary source document. Emphasizes the political, religious and urban contexts of artistic creation. [HIPL]

HIST 122 World History of Art From 1500 (3) Surveys human aesthetics beginning with the Renaissance, introducing students to the iconography and the artistic connections between global cultures, including those of Africa, Asia and Europe. While developing critical-thinking and communication skills, students explore human creations inspired by religion, the natural world and love. Incorporating the printed works of critics and historians, museum pieces, archeological evidence and electronic media, this course teaches students how to interpret an image as a primary source document. Emphasizes the political, religious and urban contexts of artistic creation. [HIPL]

HIST 197 Conflicts in History (3) History is an ongoing inquiry and debate, rarely—if ever—set in stone. Introduces students to the major themes of history and the ingredients of the discipline. Presents a selection of major human conflicts of the past 3,000 years and the historical debates they have inspired. Students discover the roots and consequences of American, European or world conflicts in history, using primary sources to hear the actors in their own words. Leads to discovery that many of the problems of the past still have effects in the present. [HIPL]

HIST 240 Everyday Lives (3) Social history illuminates the lives of ordinary people. This skills course introduces the methods of the social historian to the beginning student. Students read examples of masterful social histories and engage in original research to produce their own depictions of everyday life in a particular period of the past. [HIPL]

HIST 290 Great Issues in History (3) Focusing on a single topic or theme of historical and contemporary interest, this course emphasizes the roots of great issues in history. The course focuses on understanding and applying historical methods, analyzing issues in their broader historical context and analyzing a variety of historical sources. The topic for a given semester appears in the schedule of classes. [HIPL]

HIST 300 Exploring the Past (3) An examination of the methods of historical research and presentation. Among the methods considered are the gathering of evidence, procedures for criticism and interpretation of primary sources, and special techniques such as collecting and using oral testimony. Deals with the application of historical methods in a number of vocational settings from museum and archival work to planning and policy studies. Required of all history majors.

HIST 310 Ancient Civilizations (3) The origins of European civilizations are traced to the societies of the Ancient Near East, Greece and Rome. Special emphasis on the development of complex societies and on such themes as the individual and society; freedom and slavery; and magic, religion and rationalism.

HIST 311 Emergence of Europe (3) A study of topics in the development of European culture from the decline of Rome through the Renaissance (ca. 400-1500). Special emphasis on classical, Christian and Arab influences.

HIST 312 Age of Revolutions (3) A study of European culture and thought from the Renaissance to the end of the Napoleonic Wars. Special emphasis on the origins and impact of the scientific, industrial and political revolutions.

HIST 313 Europe 1815-1914 (3) Surveys European history in the 19th century, a time of enormous cultural, social, economic and political change. Focuses on the dominant powers of Europe—England, France, Germany and Russia—and examines the impact of new ideologies such as nationalism, liberalism, socialism and right-wing radicalism.

HIST 314 Europe 1914-45 (3) World War I destroyed the institutions and values of traditional European society and ushered in a new era of European history. This course covers the causes, experience and impacts of World War I and World War II; the rise of extremist ideologies in the interwar era; and the development of modernism in European society in the years up to 1945. [HIPL]

HIST 315 Europe Since 1945 (3) This course examines all aspects of European history since 1945, focusing on trends and issues in both western and eastern Europe. [HIPL]
HIST 331 English Law to 1689 (3) The study of English law as it functioned in constitutional, political and social life from the Anglo-Saxon period to the Glorious Revolution of 1689. The precedents for American law are discussed.

HIST 332 English Law Since 1689 (3) The study of English law as it functioned in constitutional, political and social life from 1689 to the modern period. The precedents for American law are discussed.

HIST 340 American Legal History (3) A general survey of the development of American law from colonial times to the present. Emphasizes the importance of social change and political conflict in legal development. Topics include the reception of English law in the colonies, the establishment of the federal court system and the struggle to modernize American law in the 19th and 20th centuries. Coursework involves the analysis of original legal documents and materials.

HIST 344 World War II (3) A comprehensive study of the origins, events and effects of the 20th century’s second experience in total war.

HIST 370 Old South and Slavery (3) A social, economic and political study of the development of American slavery and the culture of the Old South. Special emphasis on the plantation system and the emergence of sectionalism.

HIST 375 Civil War and Reconstruction (3) A social and political study of the era of disunion and reunion, 1848-77, with special emphasis on the causes of the conflict and its impact on race relations, national institutions and the Southern states.

HIST 377 New South and Civil Rights (3) A study of the American South from Reconstruction to the present, with special emphasis on the economic and political impact of the Civil War and industrialization, the rebirth of Southern culture and literature, and race relations.

HIST 380 The Chesapeake World (3) Focusing on the period from 1600 to 1830, this course explores central themes in the social, economic and intellectual history of the Chesapeake Bay region. The region, including Virginia, Maryland and the Eastern Shore, is examined as a case study of Anglo-European colonization and settlements in the New World. Topics include the pattern of migration to the region, conflict between colonists and Native American peoples, emergence of the plantation system and the origins of slavery. Recommended for students who wish to take HIST 382.

HIST 381 American Cities (3) Urbanization as a major theme in American history, beginning with the establishment of American cities and ending with contemporary urban life. Topics include city and the frontier; the premodern city; the emergence of industrial cities; urban transportation networks; immigrants, bosses and reformers; the emergence of urban institutions; the growth of suburbia; and the urban crises of the 1960s.

HIST 382 History of Baltimore (3) Social and economic changes that took place in American cities. Emphasis is placed on a detailed study of Baltimore as it exemplified changes taking place during the period. Major themes are industrialization and racial and ethnic diversity.

HIST 383 Community History (3) Using case studies, this course considers the history of various efforts at community-making in the United States. The role ethnicity, class, race, gender, occupation, religion, age and affinity have played in different places at different times are explored as are nostalgia’s importance to the idea of “community” as a lost quality.

HIST 390 Film and History (3) A close study of historic events, people and issues as interpreted and presented in visual media, primarily feature films, documentaries or television series. Historical subject and type of media program varies from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when the topic changes.
HIST 420 America Since 1940 (3) Covering in depth and in detail the period from 1940 to about 1970, this course offers an exploration of major issues in recent American history. Topics include the impact of World War II on American society, origins of the Cold War, emergence of McCarthyism, history of the civil rights and women's movements, polarization of American society in the 1960s, American involvement in Southeast Asia and major trends in the social and intellectual climate of the era.

HIST 434 American Constitutional History (3) A historical study of the background and establishment of the American Constitution and its political and social effects on American life from 1789 to the 20th century.

HIST 438 Great Trials in History (3) A study of the interplay between society and the conduct and outcome of some controversial criminal trials. With each offering of the course, some of the following trials are studied: Guiteau, Dreyfus, Casement, Sacco-Vanzetti, Scopes, Scottsboro, Hiss and Rosenberg.

HIST 440 History of Common Law (3) A study of the common law of Great Britain and the United States through its development in medieval Europe and into the modern period. Both procedure and substance are emphasized. Parallels the School of Law course but is conducted at an undergraduate level. Credit earned in this course cannot be transferred to the School of Law.

HIST 445 Topics in the History of Religion (3) Intensive study of particular topics in the history of religion, ranging from Christianity and Judaism to Eastern religions or American religious history. Topic varies depending on the interests of the faculty and students. May be repeated for credit when the topic changes.

HIST 460 The Cold War, 1945-90 (3) For almost half a century following World War II, the United States and the Soviet Union engaged each other and their respective allies in an epoch-making global confrontation known as the Cold War. This course explores the origins, evolution and effects of that conflict and its role in shaping modern history. Topics include the nuclear arms race, the series of crises involving Berlin, the U-2 affair, the Cuban missile crisis, related conflicts in Southeast Asia, détente, impact on American culture and more.

HIST 463 History of Germany (3) A study of Germany from unification to the present, with an emphasis on German politics, society and economics before 1933, the rise and fall of National Socialism, the division of Germany after World War II and the unification of Germany in 1990.

HIST 465 Topics in Eastern European History (3) Intensive exploration of a geographic area or historical theme within Eastern Europe. The course may focus on such topics as southeastern Europe, the Baltic region and east central Europe. The topic to be studied appears in the class schedule. May be repeated for credit when the topic changes.

HIST 466 History of Africa (3) Studies in African history from early cultures to the late 19th century.

HIST 468 American Political History (3) Intensive study of dominant political issues in American society from the founding of the colonies to the recent past.

HIST 470 Modern China (3) Introduces the changes and continuities of modern China since 1860. Students learn to apply their knowledge of Chinese history and historical methodology to analyze current affairs. Students read and analyze primary and secondary sources of modern China and engage in original research to construct their own analysis of one aspect of modern Chinese history. [HiPL]

HIST 473 U.S. Women's History (3) Using case studies, this course examines the changing roles of women in American society. Topics such as family, work, education, sexuality and women's rights are explored. Emphasis is placed on both the variety of women's experiences and the evolving concerns and position of American women as a group.
HIST 474  Women and Family in European History (3) The history of European women from the old regime of the 17th and 18th centuries to the present. Topics include the private and public lives of women; changes in family structure, courtship and fertility; education, work and professional opportunities; and the social and political emancipation of European women.

HIST 477  Technology and History (3) Selected topics in the cause-and-effect relationship of technological developments on societies in various historical periods.

HIST 478  History of American Business (3) A historical survey of American business and labor from Colonial America to the recent past.

HIST 480  Introduction to Public History (3) A survey of the professional applications of historical analysis in settings outside academe focusing on the practice of history in museums, archives, historical societies and preservation. Guest speakers and site visits are featured.

HIST 490  Internship (3) Provides an opportunity to gain experience in the practical application of historical analysis through work assignments with the appropriate historical and related cultural agencies. The course instructor and staff at each agency supervise the student’s participation. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisite: approval of the instructor

HIST 492  Independent Study (1-3) Provides for individual work in research. prerequisites: presentation of a research proposal to the program director and permission of the program director

HIST 493  Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

HIST 494  Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student’s choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

HIST 495  Senior Seminar in History (3) Students read about and conduct research on a selected topic in history. Emphasis is on the preparation of a major paper based on primary sources. Topic changes from semester to semester.

HIST 496  Seminar in Public History (3) Students research and present a major project on a selected topic in public history. Projects are based on collaboration with external organizations or groups.

HIST 497  Special Topics in History (3) Intensive exploration of topics in history of mutual interest to faculty and students. Content varies according to the interests of the faculty and students. The topic studied appears under that name in the class schedule.

INFORMATION SYSTEMS (INSS)

Information Systems courses (INSS) are offered by the Merrick School of Business.

INSS 100  Computer Information Systems (3) A semester-long organizational simulation is used to provide students with an understanding of the concepts, terminology and operations that relate to general computer use and the essential knowledge needed to function productively and independently with a computer. Skills learned include the ability to solve problems using software, to adapt to new technological environments, and to keep information organized and communicate effectively using technology. Topics include group work and communications using e-mail and online discussion boards, an introduction to data analysis using spreadsheets, graphical and presentation software, writing reports and papers using word processors and using database software to query organizational data. [COSC]

INSS 209 Introduction to Programming (3) Develops logical and analytical thinking through basic programming concepts like looping, simple sequence, decision and branching. Provides an exposure to algorithm development for the design of simple programs. Topics include basic concepts of data and file organization.

INSS 225 Structured Programming Using Procedural Languages (3) Introduces good coding practices using structured programming concepts. Modules and shared routines with single-entry and single-exit points are emphasized. Sequence, selection, repetition and nesting techniques are reinforced as acceptable means of controlling program logic. Students work on projects that involve analyzing, designing, coding, executing and testing programs. prerequisite: INSS 209 or permission of the instructor

INSS 300 Management Information Systems (3) Provides a fundamental knowledge of information systems and technology (IS&T) issues from the perspective of business professionals. This includes information technology concepts and vocabulary as well as insights into IS&T applications in business organizations. Topics include searching and extracting information to solve business problems; the role of organizational context in IS&T effectiveness; the economic, social, legal and ethical impacts of IS&T; the systems life cycle approach; and key technologies such as the Internet, networking and database management systems. This course satisfies the University's information literacy requirement in addition to the computer literacy general-education requirement. [COSC]

INSS 315 Information Technology (3) Information technology stressing the personal computer (PC) as a critically important tool in today's business environment. An advanced foundation in information technology enabling students to support personal computer users in selecting, acquiring, customizing, optimizing, maintaining and upgrading their PC hardware and system software. Topics include characteristics of CPUs, input/output devices, motherboards and expansion cards, operating systems and graphical user interface, memory management, system performance benchmarks and techniques, hardware and software technical selection, hardware and software upgrading and installation, and setup of system software. Students are introduced to local area and wide area network technologies. Ethical and legal issues related to computers, especially to PCs, are presented. prerequisite: INSS 100 or equivalent

INSS 370 Project Management (3) This course provides the fundamentals of project management, with a focus on managing information systems projects. Upon successful completion of this course, candidates may be eligible to take the Project Management Institute (PMI) exam for Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM). prerequisite: INSS 300 or permission of instructor

INSS 401 Internet and Business (3) Provides an understanding of the Internet and the information superhighway through hands-on experience with the main Internet services and applications. The course also answers questions about how to use the Internet for communications; search for free information, files and programs; and create a presence on the Internet for individuals and businesses using hypermedia and the Web. prerequisite: INSS 300 or permission of the instructor

INSS 406 System Analysis and Logical Design (3) Introduces key principles and techniques used to develop or modify information systems to support business undertakings. The course covers the lifecycle of software systems, with an emphasis on the analysis and logical design phases. Topics include the determination and modeling of the requirements of information systems and software, business process modeling and reengineering, data modeling, data gathering and requirements specification, interface design, and the development of system prototypes, including electronic forms and reports. Students gain experience with leading industry development tools such as those from Oracle and PeopleSoft. prerequisite: INSS 300 or permission of the instructor

INSS 421 Design of Database Management Systems (3) Introduces the concepts and technologies relevant to the design, development and implementation of database systems. Data modeling concepts and principles of database design are used to illustrate the construction of integrated databases. Database management systems (DBMS) and their purpose, advantages, disadvantages and application in business are covered. prerequisite: INSS 300 or permission of the instructor

INSS 422 Business Intelligence (3) Business intelligence (BI) refers to the use of information technology to analyze complex information about an organization and its competitors for use in business planning and decision-making. This course details the components of BI systems, important techniques and the critical variables needed to implement an effective BI program. The course takes a managerial approach to Business intelligence, emphasizing BI applications and implementations. The course will involve use of industry standard software packages. prerequisites: OPRE 201 and INSS 421, or permission of instructor

INSS 427 Business Data Communications (3) Provides a basic understanding of terminology, techniques and concepts of business data communications. The emphasis is on both the technical aspects of data communication and related managerial issues. Topics include, but are not limited to, physical aspects of data communication, common carrier services, local area networks, wide area networks, Internet and electronic commerce, network management and network applications. prerequisite: INSS 300 or permission of the instructor

INSS 431 Electronic Commerce (3) Provides both a managerial and technical perspective on e-commerce applications, with an emphasis on the operational, tactical and strategic applications of e-commerce and the major technologies involved in their development. The course covers the different types of e-commerce, the technologies and techniques involved and the major issues facing organizations conducting electronic commerce. Managerial topics include mobile commerce; business, consumer and government e-commerce uses; and legal, ethical and regulatory issues. Technical topics explored include network infrastructure, e-commerce security and technologies for data transformation and exchange, such as XML. prerequisite: INSS 300

INSS 452 Web Server Management and CGI Programming (3) Provides intermediate skills in developing interactive, server-based applications using the Web common gateway interface (CGI) and includes the installation and management of Web server software, e.g., Apache and other freeware. PERL and CGI programming, Visual Basic, C or C++ may be used as an alternative CGI programming language. prerequisites: INSS 401 and INSS 225, or INSS 327, or permission of the instructor

INSS 453 Internet and Network Security (3) Familiarizes students with basic security threats on networks connected to the Internet and basic tools to provide user and system security resources available on the Internet. The main focus is on digital and infrastructure security. Topics include security framework overview; footprinting; scanning; enumeration; hacking framework; backdoor servers and Trojans; rootkits; Windows (98/NT, 2000/XP) and Linux vulnerabilities; dialup, VPN and network devices vulnerabilities; firewalls; Intrusion Detection System (IDS); Denial of Service (DoS) and Ddos; buffer overflow; spyware; phishing; social engineering and protecting the Web end-user. This is a project-oriented course using a restricted-access UB lab to practice the use of hacking and security tools. prerequisites: INSS 315 and INSS 427 or permission of the instructor

INSS 454 Operating Systems (3) Functions of operating systems, including process management and concurrency, memory management, scheduling, and user and file management security are studied, as are hardware features required by modern operating systems. Course content also includes a study of symmetric multiprocessing, clusters’ hardware and operating systems concepts, and the capabilities of several commercial operating systems. Provides hands-on experience in a specialized laboratory that includes PC, workstation, and mini- and mainframe computer operating systems, including system setup and basic system administration functions. prerequisite: INSS 225 or INSS 327 or permission of the instructor

INSS 470 IT Service Delivery (3) As businesses become more dependent on technology, it is crucial that a company's IT systems are designed and delivered to consistently support its business processes. One increasingly popular way to achieve this, particularly as applications hosted and managed "in the cloud" become more pervasive, is to take a service management approach. This course presents the fundamentals of IT service management, including service management strategies, the service lifecycle, metrics and performance indicators, and the impact a service management approach has on issues such as data management, virtualization and security. The course material will prepare students for the ITILV3 Foundation certification exam. prerequisite: INSS 370 or permission of instructor

INSS 490 MIS Capstone Project (3) Student teams undertake an MIS project in a public- or private-sector organization. Projects emphasize the integration of concepts and skills developed in prior courses. Projects typically include elements of analysis and design as well as database, telecommunications or management of information systems. prerequisite: all MIS core courses and permission of the instructor

INSS 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisite: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

INSS 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisite: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

INSS 495 Internship in MIS (3): Provides students with practical real-world experience in an organization. The course requires a minimum of 120 hours of practical work with a qualified firm based on explicit statements of student responsibilities and faculty/firm monitoring mechanism. Students will work closely with both the firm and a faculty member. prerequisite: completion of 15 hours of INSS courses (excluding INSS 300) with a minimum GPA in those courses of 3.0 and permission of the instructor

INSS 497 Special Topics in Information Systems (3) The INSS faculty, from time to time, offer an opportunity to integrate new material into the undergraduate program reflecting changes in the field and in the educational needs of students. prerequisites appear in each semester's class schedule

INSS 499 Independent Study: Information Systems (1-3) An independent study completed under the direction of a faculty member. For eligibility and procedures, see the Merrick School of Business Independent Study Policy.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES (IDIS)

Depending on the course, Interdisciplinary Studies courses (IDIS) are offered by the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Public Affairs and/or the Merrick School of Business.

IDIS 101 First-Year Seminar: Applied Learning and Study Skills (2) Helps students to develop the academic tools and personal habits of mind required to persist and succeed in their academic goals and to develop positive attitudes toward academic achievement. Students become intentional learners. They develop the habits of mind needed to reflect on their learning and learning styles preferences, to honestly assess their academic strengths and weaknesses and to set goals for the improvement needed to meet goals. Learners master core skills that will help them to be efficient and effective in increasingly complex academic, social and working environments.

IDIS 102 Critical Thinking and Multicultural Awareness (1) Critical thinking is the ability to be both systematic and creative in analyzing and synthesizing information to solve problems, and multicultural awareness includes the knowledge, skills and personal attributes college graduates need to live and work in a diverse world. Students explore critical thinking from both a systematic “left brain” and creative “right brain” perspective and then apply that understanding to develop an awareness of multicultural competency issues. prerequisite: IDIS 101

IDIS 110 Introduction to Information Literacy (3) Being able to find, assess and use information effectively is a fundamental skill needed in any career as well as in day-to-day life. This course teaches students how to define their information needs, search for information effectively, make logical arguments, understand the different forms information can take, critically assess information they find and present data in an appropriate way. In addition, it provides students with the skills necessary to evaluate the kinds of opinion and argumentation they encounter outside the University.

IDIS 300 Ideas in Writing: Purpose and Strategy (3) Advanced study of strategies applicable to writing both within and beyond the University. Stresses the interrelationships of careful reading, critical thinking and effective writing. Building on skills mastered in lower-division composition courses, students develop the ability to analyze the contexts within which they write, to define their purposes clearly and to employ appropriate strategies for accomplishing those purposes. Assigned readings illustrate a variety of writing strategies and promote serious consideration of important ideas and concepts. Students are required to take the placement test for this course prior to their second semester of registration at UB. prerequisite: adequate score on placement test or completion of WRIT 200 with a grade of pass

IDIS 301 World Cultures (3) An interdisciplinary study of different cultures including economic, political, social and cultural systems and structures and their interrelationships. Provides an opportunity for students to compare their own culture with others through study and research.

IDIS 302 Ethical Issues in Business and Society (3) Provides a structured experience in which students from the School of Business and the College of Arts and Sciences explore together the interrelationships between business and various other sectors of society, e.g., the individual, government and international environment. Emphasis is placed on values and on the ethical issues implicit in those interrelationships.

IDIS 304 Arts and Ideas (3) An interdisciplinary study of enduring works of imagination and intellect that have contributed to the making of contemporary civilization. Examples of art, architecture and music are used to illuminate central themes in literature, philosophy and history. The cultural resources of the Baltimore area are used wherever appropriate. [ART]

IDIS 497 Interdisciplinary Studies Portfolio (3) In this capstone course, students examine the process of interdisciplinary problem-solving through a review of epistemological theory; visual and verbal rhetoric; the psychology of creativity, cognition and learning; and interpersonal and small-group communication. Each student creates an interdisciplinary project and prepares a learning portfolio that contains a personal mission statement, a revised version of the student's original program plan with narrative commentary and a reflective journal.
MANAGEMENT (MGMT)

Management courses (MGMT) are offered by the Merrick School of Business.

MGMT 101 Business in a Changing World (3) An introduction to the world of business. Students explore the role of business in society, the dynamics of business and public policy, business ethics and social responsibility, the implications of global competition on society, forms of business organizations, and managing to enhance service, quality and productivity. This course also introduces students to the various functional areas and possible careers in business including the creation and distribution of goods and services, accounting and finance, marketing and human resource management. [SOSC]

MGMT 301 Management and Organizational Behavior (3) An exploration into the functions of management, management history, individual behavior, interpersonal relationships in organizations, the nature of work, values and ethics, motivation and morale, teamwork, communication and group dynamics, leadership and supervision, and organizational structure and culture. Course coverage includes global perspectives and significant research from the behavioral sciences.

MGMT 302 Global Business Environment (3) Enhances students’ abilities to operate successfully in today's multicultural, global environment. Students gain a theoretical basis for understanding key aspects of the global business environment as applied to small companies, multinational corporations, multilateral institutions and nongovernmental organizations. Students explore the impact of globalization at home and abroad. Course modules aim to broaden students’ understanding of similarities and differences among national political economies, legal systems and sociocultural environments including world religions, business ethics and social responsibility. Students survey business functions as they are applied to expand and manage international operations.

MGMT 315 Human Resource Management (3) An exploration of competence areas necessary for effectively dealing with people in the workplace. Emphasis is placed on practical application of knowledge gained in the areas of human resource planning, job analysis, selection, training, compensation and safety/health administration. An overview of labor-management relations is provided. Course coverage includes diversity, ethics, communication and international considerations.

MGMT 330 Personal and Professional Skills for Business (1) Provides students with the skills necessary to advance their career development. Strategies and practices that allow the student to successfully interface with potential employers are explored and applied. Course modules include business etiquette and professional behavior, appropriate use of workplace communication techniques, written business communications, and showcasing career-building talents and skills within an organizational context. There is a lab fee associated with this course.

MGMT 339 Process and Operations Management (3) Provides an overview of managing critical resources efficiently and effectively to create physical goods, services and information goods in manufacturing and service organizations. Topics include operations strategy, project management, forecasting, location and layout of facilities, capacity and process planning, upstream and downstream supply chains and the role of the Internet, operations and environment, matching supply and demand, scheduling, job design and quality management. Integrated throughout are considerations of ethics, information systems, people involved and the domestic and international environment. prerequisite: concurrent or prior enrollment in OPRE 315

MGMT 400 Human Resource Analysis and Communications (3) An exploration of data analysis and presentation skills for human resource decision-making. Research skills and computer technology are applied to planning, selection, compensation, survey data, organizational effectiveness and utilization analysis. Special emphasis is placed on oral, written and electronic communication skills. prerequisites: MGMT 301 and MGMT 315; MGMT 301 may be taken concurrently
MGMT 410 Employment Relations Law (3) An in-depth discussion of employment law as it applies to recruitment, selection and promotion decisions as well as management’s responsibility to comply with the many federal laws pertaining to employer-employee relations. prerequisites: MGMT 301 and MGMT 315; MGMT 301 may be taken concurrently

MGMT 415 Compensation and Performance Management (3) A study of the objectives, procedures and problems involved in the establishment and administration of operative and executive compensation plans. Detailed examinations of job descriptions and evaluations, wage and salary structures, performance ratings, incentive systems, related legislation and occupational information are conducted. prerequisite: MGMT 315

MGMT 419 Seminar in Human Resource Management (3) An in-depth analysis of current challenges to human resource managers in small to multinational organizations. Cases and simulations are integral aspects of the learning experience. prerequisites: MGMT 301 and MGMT 315; MGMT 301 may be taken concurrently

MGMT 425 Employee and Labor Relations (3) An analysis of the history and development of the American labor movement. Emphasis is placed on labor legislation and present practices in contract negotiations, analysis and administration. An overview of international labor issues is provided. prerequisite: MGMT 315

MGMT 430 Quality and Productivity Management (3) A study of all aspects of quality in creating goods and services; the relationships among customers, employees, suppliers and other stakeholders; the impact of quality on organizational productivity; measures of output performance; and benchmarking. prerequisite: MGMT 339

MGMT 440 Manufacturing Operations Management (3) A detailed study of topics related to the design and operation of manufacturing systems. Topics include zero inventory, group technology, flexible manufacturing, synchronous production and Grundlichkeit. Interactions with other fields of management such as marketing and finance are discussed. Manufacturing issues related to capacity and demand, productivity and quality, flexibility and efficiency are also addressed. prerequisite: MGMT 339

MGMT 445 Service Operations (3) A detailed study of various topics in effective and efficient management of service operations in both public- and private-sector organizations. Topics include understanding the unique features of services, service strategy, the interface between marketing and operations in service management, design of service operations, service quality management, customer satisfaction and retention, managing customer contact, service capacity management and location choice. Case studies supplement lectures and readings.

MGMT 465 International Management (3) An intensive introduction to the practice of business in the international setting as well as the various cross-cultural factors found around the world. prerequisite: MGMT 302

MGMT 475 Strategic Management (3) This capstone course utilizes the case method to study processes, strategy, change and policy issues arising at the general management level. This course must be taken in the final semester. prerequisites: all upper-division core courses

MGMT 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director
MGMT 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. Prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director.

MGMT 495 Internship in Management (3) Provides students with practical real-world experience in an organization. The course requires a minimum of 120 hours of practical work with a qualified firm based on explicit statements of student responsibilities and a faculty/firm monitoring mechanism. Students will work closely with both the firm and a faculty member. Prerequisites: completion of 9 hours of management courses, with a minimum GPA of 3.0. Completion of MGMT 330 is recommended. Permission of the department chair is required.

MGMT 496 International Business Practicum (3) Students have the opportunity to work closely with a company engaged in international business. The course requires a substantial work assignment consistent with expectations for a 3-credit course in the Merrick School. The faculty member approves a statement of student responsibilities and designs a monitoring mechanism prior to the beginning of the work.

MGMT 497 Special Topics in Management (3) An intensive exploration of topics in the area of management. Refer to the current class schedule for topic offered. Prerequisites: determined by instructor.

MGMT 498 Global Field Study (3) To better understand and succeed in global business today, there is no better way than direct experience through immersing oneself in a foreign environment. This course will provide an opportunity for lectures and discussion with local experts and students regarding key themes of economic, political and cultural importance to business. The course will engage students in field visits to companies, government agencies and other organizations located abroad.

MGMT 499 Independent Study: Management (1-3) An independent study under the direction of a faculty member. For eligibility and procedures, see the Merrick School of Business Independent Study Policy.

MARKETING (MKTG)

Marketing courses (MKTG) are offered by the Merrick School of Business.

MKTG 301 Marketing Management (3) A basic course in the contribution of marketing to the firm or organization that includes decision-making tools for integrating product, price, distribution, and communication decisions and processes into an organization competing in a global environment. Students also build skills in oral and written communication. Prerequisite: CMAT 201 or CMAT 303 Oral Communication in Business.

MKTG 407 International Marketing (3) An application of marketing concepts and tools to international marketing problems arising in a global business environment. Prerequisite: MKTG 301.

MKTG 410 Buyer Behavior and Market Analysis (3) One requirement of successful marketing is listening to the voice of the customer. Marketers need to know what customers want, when and why they want it. Buyer Behavior and Market Analysis will enable students to understand the basic buyer and company needs. In addition, students will be able to verify them with commonly used research techniques that really listen to the voice of the customer. Prerequisites: MKTG 301 and OPRE 201.
MKTG 415 Marketing Communications and Digital Media (3) The course examines integrated marketing communications in the context of changes in media that have occurred since 2000. Communication theory will be the foundation of planning, implementing, evaluating and coordinating an integrated marketing communication program. There will be special emphasis on social media. Students will advance their professional competencies in written and oral communication, teamwork and critical thinking. prerequisite: MKTG 301

MKTG 430 Personal Selling (3) Presents the sales principles and skills required by today's professional salesperson, with emphasis on both the business-to-consumer and business-to-business selling environments. Examines current approaches to a variety of selling challenges including prospecting, the selling process, closing the sale and post-sale follow up. Presents the principles underlying the sales process and the practical application of these principles to selling situations. Studies the role of selling in the total marketing process.

MKTG 440 Product Management (3) Examines methods of creating new ideas, developing product prototypes, modifying existing products, evaluating market response, and commercializing and launching new products and services. Competitive and global changes, and technological, social, legal, economic and related issues are considered in the assessment of market potential, corporate resource needs and eventual success. prerequisite: MKTG 301

MKTG 460 Advanced Marketing Management (3) A study of the organization and management of a marketing-oriented enterprise using marketing cases and/or simulations to integrate the frameworks and skills from Marketing Management (MKTG 301) to analyze and plan marketing programs. Critical thinking, oral and written communication and teamwork competencies are advanced. prerequisites: MKTG 301, senior status or permission of the department chair.

MKTG 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

MKTG 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

MKTG 495 Internship in Marketing (3) Provides students with practical real-world experience in an organization. The course requires a minimum of 120 hours of practical work with a qualified firm based on explicit statements of student responsibilities and a faculty/firm monitoring mechanism. Students will work closely with both the firm and a faculty member. prerequisites: Completion of 9 hours of marketing courses, with a minimum GPA of 3.0. Completion of MGMT 330 is recommended. Permission of the department chair is required.

MKTG 497 Special Topics in Marketing (3) The marketing faculty, from time to time, offer an opportunity to integrate new material into the undergraduate program reflecting changes in the field and in the educational needs of students. prerequisite: MKTG 301

MKTG 499 Independent Study: Marketing (3) An independent study completed under the direction of a faculty member. For eligibility and procedures, see the Merrick School of Business Independent Study Policy.
MATHEMATICS (MATH)

Mathematics courses (MATH) are offered by the Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. Related courses may be found under Developmental Courses (DVMA).

MATH 111 College Algebra (3) Provides students with more advanced skills required for high-level applications of mathematics. Negative and rational exponents and functions, their properties and operations, including inverse functions; linear, quadratic, polynomial, rational, absolute value, exponential and logarithmic functions are explored. Students develop graphical and algebraic skills and study applications of concepts. prerequisite: adequate placement test score or successful completion of MATH 115 or OPRE 201 or their equivalent or successful completion of DVMA 95 [MATH]

MATH 115 Introductory Statistics (3) An overview of descriptive and inferential statistics. Statistics is inherently applied; the course emphasizes solutions to problems in a variety of applied settings. Measures of location and variability, probability distributions, correlation and regression, sampling and sampling distributions, hypothesis testing and estimation with confidence intervals for means and proportions are explored. prerequisite: adequate placement test score or successful completion of MATH 111 or its equivalent or successful completion of DVMA 95 [MATH]

MATH 121 Finite Mathematics (3) A study of coordinate systems, graphs, linear inequalities, systems of linear equations, matrix algebra, sets, counting, binomial theorem, probability, independence, tree diagrams, Bayes’ theorem, probability distributions and random variables. prerequisite: before registering, the student must pass placement examination

MATH 321 Mathematical Structure for Information Technology (3) A study of number systems, sets, Boolean algebra and propositional calculus, relations and databases, and directed and undirected graphics with applications to algorithms and networks. prerequisite: MATH 111 or equivalent

MATH 497 Topics in Mathematics (3) Intensive exploration of topics in mathematics of mutual interest to faculty and students. Content varies according to the current interests of faculty and students. The subject studied appears under the Topics heading in the class schedule. prerequisite: senior standing or permission of the instructor

MATH 499 Independent Study (1-3) The pursuit of independent study under the supervision of a full-time faculty member. Students may earn up to 3 credits for this independent study. The number of credits earned is determined by the supervising faculty member before the study begins. prerequisites: see class schedule or the instructor

NEGOTIATIONS AND CONFLICT MANAGEMENT (CNCM)

Negotiations and Conflict Management courses (CNCM) are offered by the School of Public and International Affairs in the College of Public Affairs. Related courses are listed under Community Studies and Civic Engagement (CSCE).

CNCM 101 American Conflict Since 1890 (3) Reflecting on major political events, social conflicts and wars over the past century, this course provides an overview of American approaches to social conflict, conflict management and peacemaking and how these events and processes propelled the United States forward nationally and internationally. [SOSC]

CNCM 102 Global Conflict (3) Students explore the causes, costs, dynamics and potential remedies to violent and structural conflict in the international system. The course addresses these issues from a broad range of social science vantage points, including the fields of international relations, sociology, anthropology, economics, law and conflict management. Experiential learning includes student simulations of international conflict negotiations. [SOSC]

CNCM 340 Community Conflict: Causes, Sources, Solutions (3) Understanding and addressing conflict is critical to community success. This course examines the nature of social conflict from interpersonal to community-wide. Students consider sources of conflict; ways in which conflicts develop, escalate and de-escalate; conflict styles, strategies and tactics; and options for managing conflict. This course also has an experiential component that allows students to develop their own conflict-management skills.

CNCM 440 Terrorism, Counterterrorism and Conflict Management (3) Provides an introduction to current scholarship on terrorism and counterterrorism. Students explore cutting-edge debates that highlight the need for sophisticated conflict analysis in the post-Sept. 11 world. Readings, research, reports, films, discussion and debate, case studies, simulations and other class exercises are used to help students better understand the concept and origins of terrorism, explore similarities and differences in the way terrorists and counterterrorists organize and strategize, approach the problem of securing support, address conflict and, in some cases, resolve their conflicts.

CNCM 497 Special Topics in Conflict Management (3) Topics cover a broad overview of the conflict-management field. Their primary emphasis is the study of conflict and its management, from conflict behaviors to conflict-intervention techniques. Students read about and discuss social conflict in a number of settings ranging from interpersonal to international conflict. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes.

OPERATIONS RESEARCH (OPRE)

Operations Research courses (OPRE) are offered by the Merrick School of Business. Related courses are listed under Information Systems (INSS) and Management (MGMT).

OPRE 201 Introduction to Business Statistics (3) An introductory course in descriptive and inferential statistical concepts and techniques used in business. The study of probability concepts includes discrete and continuous probability distributions. Topics in descriptive statistics explore measures of location and dispersion and the correlation coefficient. The study of inferential statistics includes sampling distributions of statistics, confidence interval estimation and an introduction to hypothesis testing. prerequisites: adequate placement test scores, successful completion of DVMA 95: Intermediate Algebra, or MATH 111 [MATH]

OPRE 202 Statistical Data Analysis (3) A second course in the statistical analysis of data related to business activities with emphasis on applications in various functional areas including accounting, finance, management, marketing and operations management, among others. Topics include estimation, hypothesis testing, contingency tables and chi-square test, analysis of variance and covariance, simple and multiple regression analysis and correlation analysis. Computer implementation using Excel-based statistical data analysis or other relevant software and interpretation of results for business applications are emphasized. prerequisites: OPRE 201 and INSS 100 or equivalent

OPRE 315 Business Application of Decision Science (3) A study of managerial decision-making processes using a decision-sciences approach. Topics include linear and integer models and decision analysis and their application in investment problems, media selection, market research, product mix, production planning, personnel scheduling and transportation design, among others. Special emphasis is on understanding the concepts and computer implementation and interpreting the results to write management reports. prerequisite: MATH 111 and OPRE 201
OPRE 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

OPRE 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student's choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

OPRE 497 Special Topics in Operations Research (3) An intensive exploration of topics in the area of operations research. Refer to the semester class schedule for exact title of topic offered. This course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: determined by the instructor

OPRE 499 Independent Study: Operations Research (1-3) An independent study under the direction of a faculty member. For eligibility and procedures, see the Merrick School of Business Independent Study Policy.

PHILOSOPHY (PHIL)

Philosophy courses (PHIL) are offered by the Division of Legal, Ethical and Historical Studies in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences.

PHIL 101 Introduction to Philosophy (3) Introduces the fundamental questions and problems of philosophy and critically examines how some of the greatest philosophers in the history of Western cultures have attempted to answer these questions. Emphasis is placed on students' demonstration of their own abilities to seek answers to these "eternal questions." A capstone feature of the course challenges students to communicate, orally and in writing, the value of philosophical thinking in their personal lives and their chosen professions. [HIPL]

PHIL 140 Contemporary Moral Issues (3) Explores contemporary issues of ethical concern. Students are introduced to philosophical reasoning on controversial topics, including the responsibilities of corporations, war and violence, human relationships and other currently debated matters of public policy and personal ethics. The course aims to help students develop abilities to understand, evaluate and construct arguments in the realm of applied ethics. [HIPL]

PHIL 150 Critical Thinking and Arguments (3) Explores the process of thinking critically and philosophically and guides students in thinking more clearly, insightfully and effectively. In addition, this course focuses on helping students identify, understand and critically assess philosophical arguments. Students use classic philosophic texts and real-world examples to develop both their critical-thinking skills and their ability (in written and oral forms) to formulate, express and critique arguments. [HIPL]

PHIL 250 Social and Political Philosophy (3) Examines the values and principles that establish and justify societies and that determine the rights and responsibilities of a society to its own members; of the members in relation to each other and to the society as a whole; and of a society in relation other societies. The course considers the application of these principles to such issues as justice, human rights, political and social institutions, and international relations.

PHIL 280 Environmental Ethics (3) Explores the relationship between humans and the nonhuman environment and guides students in thinking more clearly, insightfully and effectively about that relationship. Students read a wide array of classic and contemporary texts from a variety of philosophic traditions, and they are asked to consider some of the most pressing ethical, political and legal issues concerning our treatment of the environment. [HIPL]

PHIL 301 Ethics (3) A critical examination of fundamental questions in ethics: What is good and evil? Why be moral? What is right and wrong moral conduct? What does it take to be a good person, and what does it mean to live a good life? Students read a balanced selection of classical and contemporary works and explore a variety of moral issues in personal and professional life.

PHIL 302 Philosophy of Community (3) Covers some of the basic concerns raised by the cosmopolitan liberalism and communitarian critique. The goals are to help students think through the arguments on each side of this debate and to help figure out for themselves the extent to which they want their lives and the policies of the communities in which they live to reflect either cosmopolitan liberal or communitarian commitments.

PHIL 305 Professional Ethics in Human Services (3) An examination of values, moral principles and ethical issues inherent in, and related to, the human service professions. The major focus is directed toward determining the moral responsibilities of the human service professions and whether the moral responsibilities are being realized.

PHIL 309 Eastern Religions (3) A study of the history, beliefs and rituals of Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism and Shinto.

PHIL 316 Logic of Language (3) An introduction to informal and formal logic. The use and abuse of language in general is first considered, then informal fallacies are examined. Next, deductive, inductive and analogical arguments are distinguished. The remainder of the course is devoted to examining the formal structures of descriptive language and the formal rules of logic.

PHIL 317 Ancient Philosophy (3) A critical examination of the questions, systems and contributions of the most influential philosophers of Western antiquity. The pre-Socratics and their legacy of questions and world views are first considered. The philosophies of Plato and Aristotle are examined next in light of the attempts of both philosophers to deal with the inherited questions of pre-Socratics and the moral and cultural problems of their time. Concludes with a look at the Epicurean, Stoic and neo-Platonist philosophies and the influence of neo-Platonism on Christian theology.

PHIL 319 Modern Philosophy (3) Traces the development and influence of British empiricism and continental rationalism from the scientific revolution of the 17th century through the age of reason, the romantic rebellion and the industrial revolution, and the rise of nationalism. Philosophers to be studied are Descartes, Locke, Berkeley, Hume, Kant, Rousseau, Mill, Hegel, Marx and Nietzsche.

PHIL 320 20th-Century Philosophy (3) A critical examination of the most influential American and European philosophers of the 20th century. Emphasis is placed on the rebellion against 19th-century idealism and metaphysics as manifested in the two divergent and predominant contemporary philosophies: existentialism and analytic philosophy. Russell, Moore, Wittgenstein, Whitehead, Bergson, James, Dewey, Sartre, Kafka and Camus are among the philosophers considered.

PHIL 322 Philosophy of Religion (3) A critical examination of the fundamental beliefs of the major religions of the world (not, however, a course in the history of religions or of religious belief). The course reviews the rational justifications for such important beliefs as the existence of God, the existence and immortality of the soul, the existence of evil as compatible with a merciful god and the value of miracles, prayer and mystery. Concludes with a look at religious alternatives to traditional theism.

PHIL 419 Religions in America (3) A study of the historical and theological developments in Protestantism, Catholicism and Judaism on the American continent, from the colonial period to the present, including a consideration of the ways in which American civilization modified European religious traditions and developed new sects, cults and religious traditions.

PHIL 490 Theories of Justice (3) A critical examination of the classical and contemporary theories of justice that are the foundations of Western law and morality. Among the philosophers studied are Plato, Hobbes, Locke, Kant, Rousseau, Bentham, Marx, Rawls and Hart. Emphasis is placed on each thinker’s treatment of such fundamental concepts as natural law and positive law, human rights and the common good, the social contract, sovereign rights and power, the forfeiture of “absolute” rights, individual liberty and property, and utilitarianism and intuitionism as theories of justice.

PHIL 491 Introduction to Jurisprudence (3) Explores historical and contemporary views of the nature of law and the rationales underlying various bodies of law. Cases are used to illustrate varying interpretations of law and to explore special legal problems.

PHIL 492 Independent Study (1-6) Provides for individual work in research. prerequisites: presentation of a research proposal to the divisional chair, permission of the chair and instructor, and senior standing

PHIL 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

PHIL 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student’s choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

PHIL 495 Existentialism (3) An in-depth study of one of the most provocative philosophies of the modern age. The major works of the leading philosophers of the movement are examined as well as the expression of their philosophies in contemporary art, poetry, fiction and cinema.

PHIL 496 International Law and Morality (3) Explores the relationship between international law and morality and guides students in thinking more clearly, insightfully and effectively about the various legal, political and social institutions that make up the international legal regime. Students read a wide array of classic and contemporary texts from a variety of philosophic traditions, and they are asked to consider some of the most pressing conceptual and ethical issues concerning international law.

PHIL 497 Special Topics in Philosophy (3) Intensive exploration of topics in philosophy of mutual interest to faculty and students. Content varies according to the concurrent interests of faculty and students. The subject studied appears under the Topics heading in the class schedule. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes.

PHIL 498Internship in Applied Ethics (3) Designed for students who wish to observe and gain firsthand experience of the practice of business and professional ethics at designated profit or nonprofit organizations in the Baltimore community. Students work with a mentor at the organization of their choice and write a substantial (25- to 30-page) critical essay on applied ethics. Eligible for a continuing studies (CS) grade. prerequisites: IDIS 302 or PHIL 301 or PHIL 305 and an interview with the director of the Hoffberger Center for Professional Ethics
PHYSICAL SCIENCE (PHSC)

Physical Science courses (PHSC) are offered by the Division of Science, Information Arts and Technologies in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences. Related courses are listed under Biology (BIOL), Chemistry (CHEM) and Environmental Science (ENVS).

PHSC 101 Earth in Focus (3) A study of the origins, composition and physical processes of our planet. The Earth's land masses, bodies of water and atmosphere are examined. Natural phenomena such as earthquakes, volcanic eruptions and global weather patterns are explained. Includes a discussion of environmental issues that directly impact people, such as industrial pollution, depletion of natural resources and global warming. [GSCI]

PSYCHOLOGY (PSYC)

Psychology courses (PSYC) are offered by the Division of Applied Behavioral Sciences in the Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences.

PSYC 100 Introduction to Psychology (3) This survey course is an introduction to the science of psychology, with an explicit focus on the understanding of human behavior and experience. Methods used by psychologists to investigate behavior and experience are introduced, and an overview of the major fields of psychology is provided, including discussion of each area's primary theories and models. [SOSC]

PSYC 200 Introduction to Professional Practices (3) Psychology majors learn the problems, methods, thinking styles, ethical standards and career opportunities of modern behavioral science and practice. Students participate in classroom discussion on topics of current concern in psychology, practice the writing style of the American Psychological Association and acquire effective methods for developing a professional resume. Prerequisites: PSYC 100 and satisfaction of lower-division general-education requirement in composition or their equivalents

PSYC 205 Human Development (3) The psychological aspects of the human growth and development process from conception and birth through childhood, adolescence, adulthood and old age. Included are the physical, social and emotional influences on the course of development in role, identity and goal orientation.

PSYC 210 Interpersonal Psychology (3) An examination of intrapersonal and interpersonal dynamics at work within one's relationship with oneself as well as within relationships between the self and others. Application of course concepts facilitates students' own personal discovery processes, and techniques for increasing overall life satisfaction via interpersonal problem-solving are presented.

PSYC 215 Human Sexuality (3) Reviews the psychological literature on human sexuality, including behavioral patterns, life-cycle changes, interpersonal attraction and the scientific study of love. Sexual functioning throughout the lifespan is discussed, in addition to how it may be influenced by one's gender, age, sexual orientation, religion, culture and racial/ethnic background. Topics may include female and male anatomy, love and sexuality, intimacy, trust and sexual expression, date rape, the sexual response cycle, sexually transmitted diseases, and birth control and contraception.

PSYC 220 Stress Identification and Management (3) A study of the interaction between a human's environment and psycho-physiological systems involved in the generation of stress and development of related disease processes. The use of electronic instrumentation in the evaluation and amelioration of stress reactions and research are examined. Techniques and strategies of stress management are discussed. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 230 Behavior Modification in Applied Settings (3) Application of operant learning theory to problems in everyday life. Students design, conduct and report on their own, self-regulated behavior change programs based on principles of the “ABC” model of learning. Topics include how to identify, define and collect information on problem behaviors, how to select effective consequences for those behaviors, and how to maintain desirable behaviors in new settings. No prior psychology coursework is required.

PSYC 240 Educational Psychology (3) Applications of current psychological theories of learning, cognition and motivation within a variety of formal and informal educational settings. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 250 Social Psychology (3) A consideration of the individual in social situations and of the social environment as a source of psychological stimulations and social conflicts. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 260 Psychology of Religion and Spirituality (3) An in-depth, research-based survey of the study of the origins, development and consequences of religion and spirituality from a psychological perspective. The relationship between religion and social-psychological variables in particular is investigated. Religious experiences from a variety of perspectives, including the objective, Freudian, Jungian and humanistic, are examined. The relationship between science and religion is also addressed. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 300 History and Systems in Psychology (3) The historical development of the major schools and systems of psychology. The philosophical underpinnings of the discipline are discussed. Students are instructed in the social and cultural variables that contributed to the development of psychology as a science. Connections are made between the early schools of psychology and contemporary perspectives in psychology. The growth and development of applied psychology and the professionalization of psychology are also described. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 308 Research Methods and Statistics I (3) Integrated study of descriptive psychological research methods and corresponding statistical concepts. Topics include ethical considerations, observational and survey research techniques, graphing, central tendency and variability, correlation and linear regression. Students participate in data collection, data analysis and interpretation by means of the microcomputer Statistical Package for the Social Sciences (SPSS) and in the writing of APA-style research reports. Laboratory fee required. prerequisites: PSYC 200, IDIS 300 and satisfaction of lower-division general-education computer literacy requirement or their equivalents

PSYC 309 Research Methods and Statistics II (3) Integrated study of experimental and quasi-experimental psychological research methods and corresponding statistical concepts. Topics include basic probability theory, the logic of hypothesis testing, simple and complex experimental design and analysis, internal and external validity of experimental results, and nonparametric research and analysis of techniques. Students participate in data collection, data analysis and interpretation by means of the microcomputer Statistical Package for the Social Sciences (SPSS) and in the writing of APA-style research reports. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: PSYC 308

PSYC 315 Motivation (3) An exploration of internal and external forces that initiate, direct and sustain behavior. This course examines biological, cognitive and social psychological theories of motivation and their applications in a variety of real-life contexts. Students are encouraged to consider how these theories can increase their understandings of their own and others’ behavior. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director
PSYC 320  Industrial and Organizational Psychology (3) Psychological principles and methods applied to problems commonly encountered in business and industry. Topics include personnel selection and evaluation, training and development, attitudes and motivation, leadership, group dynamics, organizational structure and climate, and job design and working conditions. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 325  Forensic Psychology (3) A survey of the broad field of forensic psychology, including roles that psychological knowledge, theory and practice have played with respect to issues of law and the legal system. Topics include psychological theories of crime, the psychological evaluation of criminal suspects, factors influencing the reliability of eyewitness testimony and psychological models of jury selection, among others. Students also learn the opportunities, demands and responsibilities associated with careers as forensic psychologists. prerequisite: PSYC 200 or CRJU 306 or permission of the psychology program director

PSYC 330  Health Psychology (3) Scientific psychology as applied to enhance health, prevent and treat disease, identify risk factors, improve the health-care system and shape public opinion with regard to health. The course focuses on the biopsychosocial model of health and the interactive influences of biological, behavioral and social factors on health, well-being and illness. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 335  Theories of Personality (3) A study of contemporary theories attempting to describe, understand, explain, measure and predict the human as an integrated being. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 340  Counseling Psychology (3) An introduction to the applied psychology field of counseling. History, theories and processes of counseling are surveyed, as are a variety of specializations and settings in which counseling is practiced. Discussions, demonstrations and exercises give students an opportunity to explore counseling psychology as a career path. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 345  Cognitive Psychology (3) An introduction to the scientific study of the mind, including historical and current issues, concepts, theoretical models, research methods and evidence regarding the physiological and psychological mechanisms, processes and content of thought. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 350  Abnormal Psychology (3) An analysis of abnormal behavior as a personal, social and societal concern. Research findings relevant to diagnostic and therapeutic issues are studied. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 355  Interviewing Psychology (3) A consideration of the principles and techniques of the interview as a personnel selection or research tool. Designed for students interested in the utilization of interview information in applied settings.

PSYC 360  Cross-Cultural Psychology (3) Educates, sensitizes and stimulates students’ critical thinking about the role of culture relative to both consistencies and differences in human psychological functioning and social behavior. Focus is given to the effects of culture on human perceptions, emotions, expectations and values. Other areas that are explored are individualism vs. collectivism, moral reasoning, gender roles and how culture influences research strategies. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or equivalent

PSYC 365  Psychology of Gender (3) Explores the psychological, sociocultural, emotional, behavioral and physiological influences on the lives of women and men. The course focuses specifically on the psychological literature that addresses the many ways gender affects our experience. This course is designed to facilitate greater understanding of the unique expectations, constraints, dilemmas and experiences that face women and men. prerequisite: PSYC 100

PSYC 370 Psycholinguistics (3) An introduction to the study of the cognitive processes involved in how humans use language. Students learn about language from a psychological perspective, examining the cognitive aspects of meaning, understanding, communication, speech and language learning. Students learn the formal structure of language, how linguistic knowledge is represented and structured in the mind and how linguistic knowledge is utilized in the real-time processing of language. The course examines the biological and neurolinguistic foundations of language. Links with cognitive science, neuroscience and philosophy are also explored. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 375 Environmental Psychology (3) Explores interrelationships between humans and the physical environment, both natural and constructed. This course surveys theories and evidence from various subdisciplines in psychology and applies this knowledge to an understanding of how human behavior affects an environment and how that environment, in turn, influences behavior. The course also explores the manipulation of psychological variables to design environments that promote specific behaviors. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course

PSYC 400 Theories of Learning (3) Investigation of the factors and processes involved in the acquisition and maintenance of new behavior. Both historical and current learning theories representing the dominant schools of psychological thought are presented, including modern understandings of the evolution and physiology of learning. Applications of current learning theories in various real-world, human contexts also are discussed. prerequisite: PSYC 300

PSYC 403 Training and Development (3) A comprehensive course designed to help the student develop the skills necessary to design and implement effective training programs. The course investigates needs assessment, the development of appropriate training efforts and the use of training program evaluations. Techniques included are the use of technology in CBT and Web-based training. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 404 Organizational Consulting (3) An upper-level, practitioner-oriented course. Students explore and develop skill sets necessary to consult successfully with various client systems. Using experiential learning settings, the focus is on demonstrating techniques of engaging, contracting, deploying interventions strategies and disengaging the client. Internal and external consulting models are included. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 405 Tests and Measurements (3) Introduction to the requirements for instruments used in the measurement of human behavior. Includes a study of the theory and methods of psychological measurement and a review of several representative types of tests. Laboratory fee required. prerequisites: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course and PSYC 309 or permission of the program director

PSYC 413 Psychopathology (3) An upper-division course preparing students for practice in any health-related field or for graduate school. Students learn about the symptoms, etiology, course, outcome and (to a minor extent) treatment of the major child and adult mental disorders from a biopsychosocial and multicultural perspective. Course materials focus on original sources and scholarly reviews to encourage critical and integrative thinking. prerequisites: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course and PSYC 350 or an equivalent abnormal psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 415 Evolutionary Psychology (3) Aspects of human psychology are examined from the perspective that current, species-common human thought processes and behaviors may be understood as evolved adaptations to problems faced by our evolutionary ancestors. Topics include environmental preferences and survival responses, male and female mating and parental attitudes and behaviors, and kinship-based and reciprocal altruism. Prerequisites: PSYC 100 and PSYC 300 or permission of the program director

PSYC 425 Sensation and Perception (4) A study of the sensory processes and the methods and techniques for their measurement with emphasis on experimental study of perception. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisites: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course and PSYC 309 or permission of the program director

PSYC 430 Physiological Psychology (3) A study of the biological substrates of behavior. The role of the central nervous system and its relationships to other physiological processes are examined as they affect the organism’s adaptation to its environment. Laboratory fee required. Prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 445 Psychology of Aging (3) A survey of the psychological theories of aging and the psychological changes in intellectual, emotional and social functioning; neuropsychological dysfunctions; and review of issues associated with retirement and economic self-maintenance. Prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 446 Death, Dying and Bereavement (3) The profound influence of death on human behavior and its associated psychological effects. Death-related variables are identified and evaluated as to their contributions to the development of individual differences across the life span. Discussions center on current research and clinical findings about anxiety, depression, guilt, conflict and defense mechanisms, as well as techniques for death education and bereavement counseling. Prerequisite: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course or permission of the program director

PSYC 455 Workshop in Counseling (3) A practicum experience for students to function as helping persons in a professional setting with intense supervision. Prerequisites: PSYC 100 or an equivalent introductory psychology course and PSYC 340 or an equivalent counseling psychology course and permission of the program director

PSYC 490 Senior Project in Psychology (3) The capstone experience for psychology majors. Students design and conduct original, quantitative or qualitative studies of psychological topics of personal interest and share their own project problems, progress and outcomes in a weekly seminar. Completed projects are reported in both a formal, APA-style written report and orally as part of a psychology student colloquium. Prerequisites: PSYC 200, PSYC 300, PSYC 308, PSYC 309 and PSYC 405 or their equivalents; senior status

PSYC 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. Prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director

PSYC 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student’s choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. Prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director

PSYC 497 Topics in Psychology (3) An intensive exploration of topics in psychology of mutual interest to faculty and students. Content varies according to their concurrent interests. The subject studied appears under the Topics heading in the class schedule. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisite: permission of the program director

PSYC 499 Special Projects in Psychology (1-3) The pursuit of independent work under the supervision of a faculty member. Projects may include research in the laboratory or the library, supervised work in a psychological clinic or laboratory or at a training facility in a class. A student may earn up to 9 hours in this course but cannot take more than 3 hours per semester. Exact course credit for any project is determined by the program director. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisite: permission of the program director WRIT 334/ADVT 334 Writing & Graphics (3) Exploration, through hands-on experience, of the relationship between visual and verbal communication. The basics of graphic design and production are introduced through projects integrating writing and design. Laboratory fee required.

WRIT 340 Internship in University Publications (1-4) The University publication as a laboratory. Practical experience in the creative process of producing newspapers, magazines and books through work on student publications and, where possible, on other publications of the University. Eligible for continuing studies grade; otherwise, grading: pass/fail.
WRIT 361/CMAT 361 Writing for the Media (3) Scripting for various media, including multi-image, audio, video, interactive media and Web pages. Emphasizes the translation of information, ideas and experience into various presentational formats and applies that knowledge to informational, persuasive and dramatic scripts.

WRIT 363/CMAT 363 Creative Writing Workshop: Screenwriting (3) Intensive writing experience for students interested in writing drama for television and film. Emphasizes characterization, dialogue and plot development as well as conventions of and script formats for television and film.

WRIT 370/ADVT 370 The Art of Advertising (3) Focuses on the creative and conceptual aspects of advertising. In addition to creating layouts and scripts for ads of their own, students examine past and present advertising campaigns in both print and electronic media.

WRIT 371/ADVT 371 Advertising: Writing & Design (3) Principles of verbal and visual communication in creating and executing advertising ideas. Evaluation of the strengths and limitations of the many forms available in persuasive communication. Advertising copy and design, with particular emphasis on writing.

WRIT 374 The Magazine (3) A study of company, trade and mass-market (consumer) magazines and their roles in communicating ideas and information. The contributions of each department and relationships among major staff positions are explored. The processes of writing articles, editing them and art-directing visuals are experienced in a laboratory setting. Laboratory fee required.

WRIT 375 Graphic Design & Production (3) For students interested in further developing their visual communication skills. Approaches to visual problem-solving are discussed. Advanced graphic production is demonstrated. Students take problems from concept to production. Laboratory fee required. prerequisite: WRIT 334

WRIT 377 Getting It Printed (3) An explanation of the business relationship between printer and client and the various stages of the printing process itself.

WRIT 380 Syntax, Semantics & Style (3) Fundamentals of discourse analysis, addressing both structural and lexical elements in sentence construction. Survey of contemporary grammars, error analysis, sociolinguistic theories of language behaviors, editorial issues such as linguistic sensitivity, the influence of informal on formal usage and the appropriate domain of editorial policy.

WRIT 382 The Writer as Reader (3) This course approaches reading as a part of the writer’s study of the craft. Emphasizing the distinctive ways that writers read, the course focuses on how a piece of writing is constructed by the author and understood by the reader. Students develop the analytic skills necessary to understand the choices other writers have made in their use of language and form.

WRIT 401 Publication & Performance (3) A seminar involving a creative project in a particular literary form to be undertaken by each student. Emphasis on exploring the relationships of writing and publications and on developing one’s writing in specific publications contexts.

WRIT 407 Internship in Professional Writing (3) An opportunity for students to apply skills developed through coursework while gaining practical experience in writing and/or editing within a professional setting. Grading: pass/fail. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: senior status and consent of the program director

WRIT 430 Copy Editing & Document Design (3) An advanced technical and professional writing seminar in which each student presents a formal proposal and a major writing project for peer review and critiques other participants’ work at all stages of the project development process.
WRIT 489 Directed Independent Study (1-3) In-depth consideration and completion of a special topic or project in writing. Each student works closely with a faculty member who helps to set goals, develop a course plan and guide progress. The project must be carefully planned and have approval of the instructor involved and the writing programs director.

WRIT 490 Thesis in Writing (3) Directed individual instruction in the writing of an original work. Each student works with a faculty director to guide his/her progress. The thesis must be of honors quality and must be approved by both the director and a second reader, one of whom is usually the program director or the division chair. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisite: 3.5 GPA and/or consent of the program director and the division chair.

WRIT 493 Honors Seminar (3) An advanced interdisciplinary seminar that focuses on important books and issues and encourages independent thinking, clear presentation and an understanding of the concerns and methods of various disciplines. The course may be team taught; topic and instructor(s) may change from semester to semester. Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of the Denit Honors Program director.

WRIT 494 Honors Project (3-6) Directed individual instruction in an advanced project of the student’s choice; the project must be academically related to this discipline. Each student works closely with a faculty director who guides his/her progress. The project must be of honors quality and must be finally approved by both the faculty director and a second faculty member. Course is eligible for a continuing studies grade. prerequisites: 3.3 GPA and permission of both the Denit Honors Program director and the faculty director.

WRIT 497 Topics in Writing (3) Intensive exploration of topics in writing of mutual interest to students and faculty. Content varies according to the concurrent interests of faculty and students. The subject appears under the Topics heading in the class schedule. Course may be repeated for credit when the topic changes. prerequisite: none unless listed in the current class schedule.
POLICIES

UNIVERSITY SYSTEM OF MARYLAND POLICY ON STUDENT CLASSIFICATION FOR ADMISSION AND TUITION PURPOSES

The policy on student classification for admission and tuition purposes is approved by the University System of Maryland Board of Regents. The current policy can be found at www.usmd.edu/regents/bylaws/SectionVIII/VIII270.html.

Maryland Higher Education Commission General Education and Transfer Policies

These policies apply only to public institutions of higher education and can be found online at http://www.dsd.state.md.us/comar/SearchTitle.aspx?scope=13B by entering the numbers listed below at the beginning of each section (e.g., 13B.06.01.02).

(2) A student attending a public institution who has not completed an A.A., A.A.S., or A.S. degree or who has completed fewer than 56 semester hours of credit, is eligible to transfer to a public institution regardless of the number of credit hours earned if the student:

(a) Satisfied the admission criteria of the receiving public institution as a high school senior; and

(b) Attained at least a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 on a 4.0 scale or its equivalent in parallel courses.

(3) A student attending a public institution who did not satisfy the admission criteria of a receiving public institution as a high school senior, but who has earned sufficient credits at a public institution to be classified by the receiving public institution as a sophomore, shall meet the stated admission criteria developed and published by the receiving public institution for transfer.

(4) If the number of students seeking admission exceeds the number that can be accommodated at a receiving public institution, admission decisions shall be:

(a) Based on criteria developed and published by the receiving public institution; and

(b) Made to provide fair and equal treatment for native and transfer students.

B. Admission to Programs.

(1) A receiving public institution may require higher performance standards for admission to some programs if the standards and criteria for admission to the program:

(a) Are developed and published by the receiving public institution; and

(b) Maintain fair and equal treatment for native and transfer students.

(2) If the number of students seeking admission exceeds the number that can be accommodated in a particular professional or specialized program, admission decisions shall be:

(a) Based on criteria developed and published by the receiving public institution; and

(b) Made to provide fair and equal treatment for native and transfer students.

(3) Courses taken at a public institution as part of a recommended transfer program leading toward a baccalaureate degree shall be applicable to related programs at a receiving public institution granting the baccalaureate degree.

C. Receiving Institution Program Responsibility.

(1) The faculty of a receiving public institution is responsible for development and determination of the program requirements in major fields of study for a baccalaureate degree, including courses in the major field of study taken in the lower division.
(2) A receiving public institution may set program requirements in major fields of study which simultaneously fulfill general education requirements.

(3) A receiving public institution, in developing lower division course work, shall exchange information with other public institutions to facilitate the transfer of credits into its programs.

13B.06.01.03

.03 General Education Requirements for Public Institutions.
A. While public institutions have the autonomy to design their general education program to meet their unique needs and mission, that program shall conform to the definitions and common standards in this chapter. A public institution shall satisfy the general education requirement by:

(1) Requiring each program leading to the A.A. or A.S. degree to include not less than 30 and not more than 36 semester hours, and each baccalaureate degree program to include not less than 40 and not more than 46 semester hours of required core courses, with the core requiring, at a minimum, course work in each of the following five areas:
   (a) Arts and humanities,
   (b) Social and behavioral sciences,
   (c) Biological and physical sciences,
   (d) Mathematics, and
   (e) English composition; or

(2) Conforming with COMAR 13B.02.02.16D(2)(b)----(c).

B. Each core course used to satisfy the distribution requirements of §A(1) of this regulation shall carry at least 3 semester hours.

C. General education programs of public institutions shall require at least:
   (1) One course in each of two disciplines in arts and humanities;
   (2) One course in each of two disciplines in social and behavioral sciences;
   (3) Two science courses, at least one of which shall be a laboratory course;
   (4) One course in mathematics at or above the level of college algebra; and
   (5) One course in English composition.

D. Interdisciplinary and Emerging Issues.
   (1) In addition to the five required areas in §A of this regulation, a public institution may include up to 8 semester hours in a sixth category that addresses emerging issues that institutions have identified as essential to a full program of general education for their students. These courses may:
      (a) Be integrated into other general education courses or may be presented as separate courses; and
      (b) Include courses that:
         (i) Provide an interdisciplinary examination of issues across the five areas, or
         (ii) Address other categories of knowledge, skills, and values that lie outside of the five areas.

   (2) Public institutions may not include the courses in this section in a general education program unless they provide academic content and rigor equivalent to the areas in §A(1) of this regulation.

E. General education programs leading to the A.A.S. degree shall include at least 20 semester hours from the same course list designated by the sending institution for the A.A. and A.S. degrees. The A.A.S. degree shall include at least one 3-semester-hour course from each of the five areas listed in §A(1) of this regulation.

F. A course in a discipline listed in more than one of the areas of general education may be applied only to one area of general education.

G. A public institution may allow a speech communication or foreign language course to be part of the arts and humanities category.
H. Composition and literature courses may be placed in the arts and humanities area if literature is included as part of the content of the course.

I. Public institutions may not include physical education skills courses as part of the general education requirements.

J. General education courses shall reflect current scholarship in the discipline and provide reference to theoretical frameworks and methods of inquiry appropriate to academic disciplines.

K. Courses that are theoretical may include applications, but all applications courses shall include theoretical components if they are to be included as meeting general education requirements.

L. Public institutions may incorporate knowledge and skills involving the use of quantitative data, effective writing, information retrieval, and information literacy when possible in the general education program.

M. Notwithstanding §A(1) of this regulation, a public 4-year institution may require 48 semester hours of required core courses if courses upon which the institution's curriculum is based carry 4 semester hours.

N. Public institutions shall develop systems to ensure that courses approved for inclusion on the list of general education courses are designed and assessed to comply with the requirements of this chapter.

13B.06.01.04
.04 Transfer of General Education Credit.

A. A student transferring to one public institution from another public institution shall receive general education credit for work completed at the student's sending institution as provided by this chapter.

B. A completed general education program shall transfer without further review or approval by the receiving institution and without the need for a course-by-course match.

C. Courses that are defined as general education by one institution shall transfer as general education even if the receiving institution does not have that specific course or has not designated that course as general education.

D. The receiving institution shall give lower-division general education credits to a transferring student who has taken any part of the lower-division general education credits described in Regulation .03 of this chapter at a public institution for any general education courses successfully completed at the sending institution.

E. Except as provided in Regulation .03M of this chapter, a receiving institution may not require a transfer student who has completed the requisite number of general education credits at any public college or university to take, as a condition of graduation, more than 10-16 additional semester hours of general education and specific courses required of all students at the receiving institution, with the total number not to exceed 46 semester hours. This provision does not relieve students of the obligation to complete specific academic program requirements or course prerequisites required by a receiving institution.

F. A sending institution shall designate on or with the student transcript those courses that have met its general education requirements, as well as indicate whether the student has completed the general education program.

G. A.A.S. Degrees.
(1) While there may be variance in the numbers of hours of general education required for A.A., A.S., and A.A.S. degrees at a given institution, the courses identified as meeting general education requirements for all degrees shall come from the same general education course list and exclude technical or career courses.
(2) An A.A.S. student who transfers into a receiving institution with fewer than the total number of general education credits designated by the receiving institution shall complete the difference in credits according to the distribution as designated by the receiving institution. Except as provided in Regulation .03M of this chapter, the total general education credits for baccalaureate degree-granting public receiving institutions may not exceed 46 semester hours.

H. Student Responsibilities. A student is held:

(1) Accountable for the loss of credits that:
   (a) Result from changes in the student's selection of the major program of study,
   (b) Were earned for remedial course work, or
   (c) Exceed the total course credits accepted in transfer as allowed by this chapter; and

(2) Responsible for meeting all requirements of the academic program of the receiving institution.

13B.06.01.06
.06 Academic Success and General Well-Being of Transfer Students.
A. Sending Institutions.

(1) Community colleges shall encourage their students to complete the associate degree or to complete 56 hours in a recommended transfer program which includes both general education courses and courses applicable toward the program at the receiving institution.

(2) Community college students are encouraged to choose as early as possible the institution and program into which they expect to transfer.

(3) The sending institution shall:
   (a) Provide to community college students information about the specific transferability of courses at 4-year colleges;
   (b) Transmit information about transfer students who are capable of honors work or independent study to the receiving institution; and
   (c) Promptly supply the receiving institution with all the required documents if the student has met all financial and other obligations of the sending institution for transfer.

B. Receiving Institutions.

(1) Admission requirements and curriculum prerequisites shall be stated explicitly in institutional publications.

(2) A receiving institution shall admit transfer students from newly established public colleges that are functioning with the approval of the Maryland Higher Education Commission on the same basis as applicants from regionally accredited colleges.

(3) A receiving institution shall evaluate the transcript of a degree-seeking transfer student as expeditiously as possible, and notify the student of the results not later than mid-semester of the student's first semester of enrollment at the receiving institution, if all official transcripts have been received at least 15 working days before mid-semester. The receiving institution shall inform a student of the courses which are acceptable for transfer credit and the courses which are applicable to the student's intended program of study.

(4) A receiving institution shall give a transfer student the option of satisfying institutional graduation requirements that were in effect at the receiving institution at the time the student enrolled as a freshman at the sending institution. In the case of major requirements, a transfer student may satisfy the major requirements in effect at the time when the student was identifiable as pursuing the recommended transfer program at the sending institution. These conditions are applicable to a student who has been continuously enrolled at the sending institution.

.08 Transfer Mediation Committee.
A. There is a Transfer Mediation Committee, appointed by the Secretary, which is representative of the public 4-year colleges and universities and the community colleges.
B. Sending and receiving institutions that disagree on the transferability of general education courses as defined by this chapter shall submit their disagreements to the Transfer Mediation Committee. The Transfer Mediation Committee shall address general questions regarding existing or past courses only, not individual student cases, and shall also address questions raised by institutions about the acceptability of new general education courses. As appropriate, the Committee shall consult with faculty on curricular issues.

C. The findings of the Transfer Mediation Committee are considered binding on both parties.

13B.06.01.09

A. Notice of Denial of Transfer Credit by a Receiving Institution.
   (1) Except as provided in §A(2) of this regulation, a receiving institution shall inform a transfer student in writing of the denial of transfer credit not later than mid-semester of the transfer student's first semester, if all official transcripts have been received at least 15 working days before mid-semester.
   (2) If transcripts are submitted after 15 working days before mid-semester of a student's first semester, the receiving institution shall inform the student of credit denied within 20 working days of receipt of the official transcript.
   (3) A receiving institution shall include in the notice of denial of transfer credit:
       (a) A statement of the student's right to appeal; and
       (b) A notification that the appeal process is available in the institution's catalog.
   (4) The statement of the student's right to appeal the denial shall include notice of the time limitations in §B of this regulation.

B. A student believing that the receiving institution has denied the student transfer credits in violation of this chapter may initiate an appeal by contacting the receiving institution's transfer coordinator or other responsible official of the receiving institution within 20 working days of receiving notice of the denial of credit.

C. Response by Receiving Institution.
   (1) A receiving institution shall:
       (a) Establish expeditious and simplified procedures governing the appeal of a denial of transfer of credit; and
       (b) Respond to a student's appeal within 10 working days.
   (2) An institution may either grant or deny an appeal. The institution's reasons for denying the appeal shall be consistent with this chapter and conveyed to the student in written form.
   (3) Unless a student appeals to the sending institution, the written decision in §C(2) of this regulation constitutes the receiving institution's final decision and is not subject to appeal.

D. Appeal to Sending Institution.
   (1) If a student has been denied transfer credit after an appeal to the receiving institution, the student may request the sending institution to intercede on the student's behalf by contacting the transfer coordinator of the sending institution.
   (2) A student shall make an appeal to the sending institution within 10 working days of having received the decision of the receiving institution.

E. Consultation Between Sending and Receiving Institutions.
   (1) Representatives of the two institutions shall have 15 working days to resolve the issues involved in an appeal.
   (2) As a result of a consultation in this section, the receiving institution may affirm, modify, or reverse its earlier decision.
   (3) The receiving institution shall inform a student in writing of the result of the consultation.
   (4) The decision arising out of a consultation constitutes the final decision of the receiving institution and is not subject to appeal.
13B.06.01.10

.10 Periodic Review.
A. Report by Receiving Institution.
(1) A receiving institution shall report annually the progress of students who transfer from 2-year and 4-year institutions within the State to each community college and to the Secretary of the Maryland Higher Education Commission.
(2) An annual report shall include ongoing reports on the subsequent academic success of enrolled transfer students, including graduation rates, by major subject areas.
(3) A receiving institution shall include in the reports comparable information on the progress of native students.

B. Transfer Coordinator. A public institution of higher education shall designate a transfer coordinator, who serves as a resource person to transfer students at either the sending or receiving campus. The transfer coordinator is responsible for overseeing the application of the policies and procedures outlined in this chapter and interpreting transfer policies to the individual student and to the institution.

C. The Maryland Higher Education Commission shall establish a permanent Student Transfer Advisory Committee that meets regularly to review transfer issues and recommend policy changes as needed. The Student Transfer Advisory Committee shall address issues of interpretation and implementation of this chapter.

UNIVERSITY OF BALTIMORE POLICIES

The University complies with the requirements of both the Federal Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), 34CFR Part 99, and the Maryland Public Information Act, State Government Article 10-162.
In compliance with these acts, the University will only release without a student’s signature that information that is so designated as directory information. Directory information is defined as the student’s name, hometown, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, the most recent previous educational institution attended and other similar information.

The Maryland Public Information Act requires the University to provide directories of its students upon request. Consequently, directories may be released to commercial enterprises, such as credit card companies. Students who do not wish to have directory information released are required to submit that request by filing a Request to Withhold Directory Information form in the Office of Records and Registration prior to the start of each semester.

FERPA provides students with the opportunity to review information contained in their educational records. Offices where students’ educational records are kept include the Office of Records and Registration and, in some cases as applicable, the Office of Financial Aid (including veterans affairs), the Offices of Admission, the Office of Law Admissions and the offices of the academic deans. Students who wish to review their records may do so by making an appointment with the appropriate head of the office housing that record.

For additional information about student privacy, visit www.ubalt.edu/ferpa.

Nondiscrimination Policy
The University of Baltimore does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, age, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation or disability in its programs, activities or employment practices. Information about inquiries is listed in the University’s Student Policies and Procedures Handbook, found online at www.ubalt.edu/studenthandbook.

Accessibility to Students with Disabilities Policy
It is the policy of the University of Baltimore to provide reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities. To provide academic adjustments, proper documentation is required and must be presented to the director of the Center for Educational Access (for arts and sciences, public affairs and business students) or to the associate dean (law school). Students with sensory (visual, hearing), physical (mobility) or other health impairments (epilepsy, AIDS) are required to provide medical reports or a letter from a physician responsible for treating the student. This documentation must be provided whether the condition is permanent or temporary (broken leg, etc.).

Students with learning disabilities must provide current documentation (prepared within the past three years) of their diagnosis. Results of assessments conducted prior to college are deemed inadequate. This documentation will be reviewed by the Center for Educational Access for all undergraduate and graduate students and by the associate dean for student affairs for law students. Documentation for students with learning disabilities must be prepared by a professional qualified to diagnose a learning disability, including but not limited to a licensed psychiatrist, learning disability specialist or psychologist. Documentation from a licensed clinical social worker will not be considered as the sole criterion for providing services. Documentation for a learning disability must include the testing procedures followed, the instruments used to assess the disability, the test results and an interpretation of the test results.

Documentation relating to all undergraduates and graduates in the College of Public Affairs, Merrick School of Business and Yale Gordon College of Arts and Sciences will be retained in the Center for Educational Access; documentation relating to law students will be retained in the Office of Academic Affairs. Documentation will remain in these offices for the duration of the student’s academic career and will be kept confidential. Upon graduation, documentation will be destroyed unless the student requests that it be returned.

Drug and Alcohol Policy
As a member of the University System of Maryland, the University of Baltimore complies fully with the Maryland Drug and Alcohol Abuse Control Plan.

Except where permitted by law, the use, possession, sale, distribution and condition of being under the influence of controlled or illegal substances while on University premises is strictly prohibited. The use of alcoholic beverages is permitted only in designated areas on campus and provided that such use is in conformity with all applicable alcoholic beverage laws and with the specific University regulations as set forth in the University’s Student Policies and Procedures Handbook, found online at www.ubalt.edu/studenthandbook.

Violations of laws and University regulations regarding the use of controlled/illegal substances and alcohol will be subject to prosecution through both civil authorities and the campus judicial system. The range of University penalties shall include, but not be limited to, disciplinary reprimand, loss of privilege, probation, suspension and expulsion.

No-Smoking Policy
Smoking can be hazardous to health for smokers and nonsmokers alike. It can contribute to heart attack, stroke, high blood pressure, emphysema and several forms of cancer. The University of Baltimore has taken positive steps toward providing for all employees and students a smoke-free environment in which smoking is prohibited within all University buildings. This no-smoking policy stresses compliance on the part of employees and students. While it is best to rely on common courtesy for colleagues and classmates to ensure the success of this policy, the University is prepared to enforce it with formal sanctions. Visitors who refuse to comply with this policy will be required to leave University premises.

Golden I.D.
It is the policy of the University System of Maryland to extend special privileges, where practicable, to senior citizens who are residents of the state of Maryland and are enrolled in one of its institutions. The term “senior citizen” includes any individual who is 60 years of age or older, who is retired, whose chief income is derived from retirement benefits and who is not employed full time.

Senior citizens enrolled at the University of Baltimore are issued Golden I.D. cards by the registrar. They receive, on a space-available basis, waivers of tuition for not more than three undergraduate or graduate (not law) courses per semester or term. These students are afforded all services available to regularly enrolled students, as they pay all other fees. Subject to certain conditions, privileges extended to University Golden I.D. card holders from other USM institutions include waiver of tuition for undergraduate and graduate courses, use of the libraries and other privileges as determined by individual institutions.

Holders of Golden I.D. cards at other USM institutions are afforded the following privileges at the University of Baltimore:

- the use of the libraries (subject to restrictions during examination periods)
• admission to all nonticketed public lectures and performances
• discount tickets (subject to restrictions) for events sponsored by the Center for Student Involvement
• eligibility to join, for a fee, Campus Recreation and Wellness.

Catalog Use and Information
This 2011-13 University of Baltimore Undergraduate Catalog outlines the University’s undergraduate programs, courses, policies and procedures that were in effect as of June 30, 2011. Subsequent changes to courses, programs, policies, procedures, faculty, staff and facilities may cause certain information in this catalog to become outdated. Hence, this catalog is not to be construed by the student as a contract, except in terms of the policy titled Catalog Under Which Students Graduate (as detailed in the Academic Policies section) and in terms of the student’s compliance with all current policies and procedures of the University.

UB students are informed of changes or additions to academic and financial policies that may affect them through announcements by email or on appropriate University websites and, in some cases, through mail correspondence or separately printed posters, bulletins, notices or other communication vehicles.

The University of Baltimore reserves the right to make policy and program changes as necessary. Students are urged to review all University-produced correspondence, class schedules, mailings, posters and other literature to keep fully informed.
