Course Description:
The competent use of technology is a vital part of modern law practice. Thirty-seven states already recognize an ethical duty of technology competency, with many more sure to follow. Contrary to what many people believe, routine use of a computer does not lead to the kind of technological competence required in today's legal profession. Students can expect to explore a variety of technology concepts and software with special focus on professional responsibility, case and client management, document management and electronic discovery, information literacy, presentation technology, and office skills.

Course Description:
This course will explore cybersecurity law beginning with an introduction to the basics of the Internet, core concepts and terms of cybersecurity and a brief overview of the current threat landscape. Following a review of foundational legal principles, the coverage will shift to anti-hacking laws, an overview of government institutions with cybersecurity authorities, state laws, industry specific requirements, privacy-related topics, issues related to network monitoring, public-private cybersecurity partnership, and finally discussion about creation of an incident response guide.

Course Description:
This course will explore the legal landscape of the field of marijuana law. This rapidly growing and changing field includes many areas of law, including federal and state law and regulations (and issues of preemption), business, criminal, constitutional, property (including IP), product liability, contracts, and more. This course will encourage students, both in class and in the assignments, to creatively analyze and apply existing legal doctrine, as well as to explore new legal approaches in the evolving and rapidly developing field. Prerequisite: 1st-year courses. [Limited Enrollment]

Course Description:
Lawyers have always needed to understand algorithmic thinking in order to parse statutes, regulations, and other formal legal rules. As automation and big data shift our legal landscape, lawyers will also need a deeper set of technical computer skills. Coding for lawyers will introduce law students to the fundamentals of algorithmic thinking and design through the lens of computer programming. This is a class for complete beginners who have no prior coding knowledge. Students will gain hands-on experience tackling law-related automation problems. Students will be expected to complete coding related homework assignments and small projects.

Participation in the Externship Program requires successful completion of instruction equivalent to 28 credit hours. Students must submit a completed legal externship application available at http://law.ubalt.edu/template.cfm?page=400. Applications should be sent to Neha Lall, Director of Externships at nlall@ubalt.edu. Placements will not be approved without the application. This course has the following special time limits on when a student may withdraw. A student is permitted to withdraw from this course only until the end of the first week of classes in the semester. A student who withdraws from the course after the end of the first week of classes will receive a grade of WF in the course. This course may fulfill the simulation experiential requirement. If a student satisfies 3 credits of the experiential requirement with a "simulation" course, the remaining 3 credits must be fulfilled by a live client experiential course.
