0-2: Set forth the rationale for the proposal:

The proposed addition is necessitated by the need for lower-division courses within sociology given the University's revived status as a 4-year institution and its mission. Furthermore, the new course title and description will attract a new audience at the lower-division level, and will have some appeal as an elective to the general student body.
Include in your master course document items one through 15 using as much space as needed.

1. Date Prepared: April 23, 2009
2. Prepared by: Gina M. Finelli
3. Department: Division of Applied and Behavioral Sciences
4. Course Numbers: SOCI 210
5. Course Title: Social Deviance
6. Credit Hours: 3
7. Prerequisites: Eligibility for WRIT 100
8. Course Purpose (example: general education, laboratory, elective):

   Elective at lower-division level
9. Rationale:

   The proposed addition is necessitated by the need for lower-division courses within sociology given the University’s revived status as a 4-year institution and its mission. Furthermore, the new course title and description will attract a new audience at the lower-division level, and will have some appeal as an elective to the general student body.
10. Catalog Description (Paragraph should reflect general aims and nature of the course):

This course provides an examination of deviance and social control in a societal context. Emphasis is placed on what, how, and why certain forms of behavior come to be defined as deviant, the regulation of such behavior, and the ways in which deviants are labeled and treated. Major theories of deviance will be used to examine such topics as sexual expression, drug use and addictions, mental and physical health, aggression and violence, suicide, religious cults, cyber-activities, homelessness, and elite deviance.

11. Suggested approximate class size: 25 – 30

12. Content Outline:

A. Defining Deviance and Social Control
B. Theories of Deviance
C. Deviant Identity and Stigmas
D. Interpersonal Violence
E. Self-Destructive Deviance
F. Substance Use and Abuse
G. Mental Disorders and Physical Disabilities
H. Sexual Deviance
I. Religious Deviance
J. Cyber Deviance
K. Underprivileged Deviance
L. Organizational and Elite Deviance
M. Other Deviant Behaviors and Lifestyles

13. Learning Goals:

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

A. Apply a sociological, scientific approach to understanding deviant behavior;
B. Define and explain the concepts of deviance and social control;
C. Recognize and explain various forms of deviance, and the forces that shape deviant behavior;
D. Describe the significance of variations such as socioeconomic class, race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, age, culture, and other relevant categories in relation to deviant behavior;
E. Explain the development and maintenance of deviant identities and stigmas; and
F. Critically evaluate institutional and societal responses to deviance and control.
14. Assessment Strategies:

Consistent with the undergraduate learning goals, student performance may be evaluated through a combination of:

a) Exams (including a pre- and post-test) using a variety of testing formats such as multiple-choice, short answer, and essay questions to evaluate level of competency of course content; and

b) Written application papers, oral presentations, and group projects that use the sociological imagination, as well as theoretical and methodological tools learned in this course to analyze sensitive and complex issues, synthesize information, and solve challenging problems.

15. Text(s) and Materials (example: textbooks, calculator):

16. Lab Fees: Not applicable
