Baltimore Animal Rescue and Care Shelter (BARCS)	301 Stockholm St. Baltimore, MD 21230	Erica Argraves- Yaw Volunteer Manager volunteer.barcs@gmail.com	http://baltimoreanimalsHELPER.org/volunteer/	Short-term and long-term options
BARCS is a non-profit organization created in July 2005 to take over the operations of the city shelter and to work directly with Baltimore City Animal Control. We take in homeless and unwanted animals in Baltimore City. BARCS' mission is to provide sanctuary for all animals and to promote a more humane community.
Baltimore Humane Society	1601 Nicodemus Rd. Reistertown, MD 21136	Adrienne Potter Yoe Volunteer Coordinator volunteer@bmorehumane.org 410-833-8848 x223	https://bmorehumane.org/volunteer/opportunities-and-training/	Ongoing, one-time, and short-term options
The Baltimore Humane Society was founded to protect our region's pets and to address their suffering. Since inception, the Baltimore Humane Society has strived to reach its potential and to achieve its mission. Over the years, we've adopted a set of tenets that represent our commitments to the pets that come into our care. All of our efforts are centered around one word...humane.
Maryland SPCA	3300 Falls Road. Baltimore, MD 21211	Jacqueline Tequila Volunteer Manager 410-235-8826 ext. 146	http://www.mdspca.org/waystohelp/volunteer.html	Ongoing and one-time options
The Maryland SPCA's mission is to improve the lives of pets and people in the community. Their adoption center adopts out over 3,000 needy and unwanted pets each year and focuses on providing premium care for the animals. They also work to prevent pet abandonment by being a resource in the community.
Maryland Zoo	1876 Mansion House Dr. Baltimore, MD 21217	Allison Schwartz Manager of Volunteers Allison.schwartz@marylandzoo.org 443-552-5336	http://www.marylandzoo.org/support-the-zoo/volunteer/	Ongoing and one-time options
If you think our animals are special, wait until you meet our volunteers! Every year, hundreds of volunteers give their time, energy, and enthusiasm to help us accomplish the important work of conserving wildlife and wild places. Volunteers can be found throughout the Zoo, behind the scenes and with our visitors. Whether you're looking for a day of meaningful service or a lifetime relationship, you can be an important part of our family! The vast majority of our adult volunteers work directly as educators, greeters, animal contact aides, and more. Selection and training for these positions takes place only in late winter and early spring, in order to get our new classes ready in time for the rush of seasonal visitors. Other positions have deadlines as well, based on school calendars, Zoo needs, or other factors. Please check the opportunity directory for your preferred assignment, or contact us for information about when we might be adding new volunteers in a specific program.

American Red Cross of Central Maryland	4800 Mt. Hope Dr. Baltimore, MD 21215	Kristi Giles Kristi.giles@redcross.org 410.913-9154	http://www.redcross.org/md/baltimore	Varies

Is there another local organization prepared to immediately respond, within 48 hours, to meet the needs of 120 people burned out of their homes in seven separate fires across the community? Red Cross volunteers rushed to aid victims of four apartment building fires as well as another dozen people displaced after three single-family fires in Baltimore during a particularly hectic weekend. More typically, the Red Cross responds to two or three fires each day. We are equally prepared for large and small-scale disasters. We also teach Central Marylanders how to ready themselves for the unexpected.

At the Boys and Girls Club of Metropolitan Baltimore, we strive to "Enable and inspire all youth, especially those who need us most, to meet their full potential as productive, responsible, and caring citizens" by implementing nationally recognized programs, building caring and nurturing relationships, providing a safe environment, establishing high expectations, and exposing our members to a variety of opportunities. Our members, ages 5-18, would greatly benefit from relationships and interactions with positive role models, especially young people pursuing a higher education. Our volunteers serve as mentors, help with programs, and are also encouraged to be a part of programming by developing their own program ideas.

Raising A Reader's Theory of Change is simple. We believe that IF... Children drive the process and the Red Book Bag and books become a favorite toy; Program Implementers learn how to train parents in "read aloud" strategies and early brain development; The book bag delivery system is turnkey: a simple sustainable routine that is easily managed in a number of diverse settings; Parents learn and engage in "read aloud" strategies and develop a regular book sharing routine with their children; Families get to know and use their local library; THEN, children will benefit from healthy brain development, family bonding, and increased literacy skills—all proven elements for lifetime success! Children will enter school with a love of books and will be motivated and ready to learn.

Participation in youth sports is declining despite the well documented physical, social, emotional and educational benefits. Kids drop out when they feel they are not good enough, or they are not having fun. Parents may be forced to withdraw their kids due to concerns about the cost, the time commitment, or an oppressive emphasis on winning. These restrictions disproportionately affect inner city and low income families.
