Course Description:

The competent use of technology is a vital part of modern law practice. Thirty-seven states already recognize an ethical duty of technology competency, with many more sure to follow. Contrary to what many people believe, routine use of a computer does not lead to the kind of technological competence required in today's legal profession. Students can expect to explore a variety of technology concepts and software with special focus on professional responsibility, case and client management, document management and electronic discovery, information literacy, presentation technology, and office skills.

Course Description:

This course will explore the legal landscape of the field of marijuana law. This rapidly growing and changing field includes many areas of law, including federal and state law and regulations (and issues of preemption), business, criminal, constitutional, property (including IP), product liability, contracts, and more. This course will encourage students, both in class and in the assignments, to creatively analyze and apply existing legal doctrine, as well as to explore new legal approaches in the evolving and rapidly developing field. Prerequisite: 1st-year courses. [Limited Enrollment]

This section will be taught by Jason Eisenberg and Renia Zervos.

Current Topic Description: This course will cover how the Leahy-Smith America Invents Act (AIA) shifted the battleground of certain patent challenges from district court to the USPTO by creating new, more powerful, fast-track, litigation-like review proceedings. It will review practical aspects of how patent office litigation (reissue, reexamination, inter partes review, post grant review, covered business method) are used on their own and in conjunction with district court, ITC, and Federal Circuit proceedings to achieve client aims. The course will include small writing assignments and class participation to provide practical implementation of the statute, rules, and procedures for petitions, preliminary response, patent owner response, motion to amend, petitioner reply, patent owner sur reply, deposition, Board calls, and Board oral hearing. Students must have completed Patent Law (Law 761) to enroll in this course.

LAW 766 IP Survey or appropriate background or work experience may substitute for the LAW 761 Patents pre-requisite. Please contact Jason Eisenberg <jasone@sternekessler.com> and Renia Zervos <AZervos@sternekessler.com> for evaluation of your pre-requisite request.
