

- Heather Warnken, executive director, was quoted in an August 15, 2024 Baltimore Banner article about the Maryland prosecutors sharing case data with research groups.
- Heather Warnken, executive director, was quoted in an April 24, 2024, article in The Baltimore Sun about efforts to have Gov. Moore veto a controversial juvenile justice bill.
- Heather Warnken was quoted in an April 17 Baltimore Banner story on how Baltimore residents feel about crime, even though rates are down.
- Heather Warnken was quoted in an April 9 Baltimore Banner article about 'transformational reform' in victim compensation.
- Heather Warnken co-authored an April 9 op-ed in The Baltimore Sun urging Gov. Wes Moore to veto a juvenile justice reform bill.
- Heather Warnken, executive director, was quoted in a Feb. 8 article in The Baltimore Banner about concerns that a pending juvenile justice bill would funnel children into the system without addressing root causes of arrests.
- Prof. Davis Jaros, faculty director, was quoted in a Feb. 6 Baltimore Banner story about a bill to prevent early release limits for some sex offenders.
- Heather Warnken, executive director, was quoted in a Jan. 25 Baltimore Sun story on how the Baltimore Police Department was determined to have satisfied two sections of a federal consent decree.
- Heather Warnken, executive director, was quoted in a Jan. 18 Baltimore Sun story about the progress the Baltimore Police Department is making toward exiting its consent decree.
- Heather Warnken, executive director, was quoted in a Jan. 10 story in The Baltimore Banner on the citation docket in Baltimore City.