The background of the cover is a collage of creative and professional images, including hands writing in a notebook, a person using a vintage typewriter, a person working on a laptop, and a person speaking into a microphone. The entire image is overlaid with a blue tint and a network of thin orange lines forming a geometric pattern.

Introduction

This guide was developed to provide insight on careers paths that align with the creative majors offered at the University of Baltimore

The UB Career Cycle

The UB Career Cycle offers a foundation for you to continue to grow as an expert career manager.

This guide is a supplemental resource that offers career-related advice and tools for the students in creative majors to navigate their careers. The guide includes information on the job search process, workplace considerations, knowing your rights, and provides a comprehensive list of university, national, and industry-specific resources.

Job Search Process

Assess Your Career Interest and Skills

The traditional job search process includes identifying your interests and skills while considering what your career goal is. These help to provide direction for your search. The Career and Internship Center provides assessments such as the Clifton StrengthsFinder (Strengths), the Meyer Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI), and the Leadership Challenge at no cost to students and recent alumni. You can receive career coaching to compliment the assessment reports to help you understand how you process information, communicate with others, and handle work scenarios.

Develop Your Resume and Cover Letter

The resume and cover letter should be prepared in advance of applying for jobs or internship opportunities to avoid missing application deadlines and program opportunities. Students can submit their resume for review via UBworks or by scheduling a coaching appointment with their Career Specialist. If you need a new resume, there is a Resume Builder feature in UBworks. Ensure to review the Resume Guide and Cover Letter Guide to help you with formatting and to develop accomplishment statements throughout your resume and cover letter.

CRYSTAL SANTIFUL

As a 2019 graduate of the University of Baltimore, the Career and Internship Center hold a special place in my heart. The University of Baltimore creates a learning environment inside and outside of the classroom, and the Career and Internship Center really puts the emphasis on the outside of the classroom!

The Career and Internship Center is an office that helps prepare students for employment after graduation. I am a product of many of the resources they provide to students. Working along side my Career coach and mentor Sarah Holliday, and the staff that made it their business to assist me, it is no surprise that I landed in Higher Education.

Now serving as the Outreach Success Advisor, at Pittsburgh Technical College, it is the training and teachings that helped me to get to where I am today. And now it is the passion of those that pushed me that fuels me to want to make the best path for my own students. With one-on-one coaching, resume building workshops, the career closet, assistance with job placement and the willingness to go above and beyond. As a student now higher education professional, the Career and Internship Center is a resource that should not be taken for granted. They truly help you forge your future

MADRICE GUY

"I graduated with my Bachelor's Degree in Applied Information Systems in 2006. The Career and Internship Center assisted me in more ways than one before I entered my career. Not only was I able to receive help with my resumé and interviewing skills, but I was also provided with several opportunities to meet with employers at recruiting events on campus. When it was time for me to enter the workforce, I had a wealth of knowledge and confidence thanks to UB and the services provided from the CIC"

DERICK JAMES

"Aside from stopping by the Career Center to nab a few pieces of candy, I distinctly remember the friendly atmosphere, approachable staff, and student workers who were always dressed business casual. The assistance I received from the Director at that time, Ms. Lakeisha Matthews, was unparalleled. When I began applying for graduate school in 2017, Ms. Matthews helped me craft a resume like no other, it really showed off my talents and experience. Since then, I earned my M.F.A. at Sarah Lawrence College in New York, and have happily returned to Baltimore where I serve as an Adjunct Professor at CCBC Essex, Events Coordinator Intern for Baltimore's Black Arts District, as well as the Program Manager for DewMore Baltimore's Baltimore Art Cultural Competency Emancipation program. My advice to students is simple: aggressively seek mentorship, do not take for granted the time someone takes to invest in you, perfect written and oral communication, ask for clarity if you are ever confused, be brave, be persistent, and dream big."
